BATTLING FOR BETTER STREETS

EFFORTS TO KILL SOUTH COMMERCIAL STREET PAVING— FIGHT BEGUN IN EARNEST FOR BOULEVARD TO FAIR GROUNDS

The city council was replete with exciting incidents, one being the veto of the mayor of the ordinance for paving one side of Winter street. The street will now be a macadam pavement, a regrettable fact as it is one of the main thoroughfares leading off State street.

An effort was made to reconsider the petition for paving South Commercial street with bitulithic, but failed, the whole matter being referred to the street committee. The forcing of hard surface paving over that street is believed to be earnestly resisted by property interests north and east, as they fear business property will advance to the south if that street is paved. The effect of the paving petition has been to stimulate sales of property at better prices on the hill than have ever been obtained before, and lots are being advanced above the thousand dollar mark.

Other Streets Promoted.
 Steps were taken for opening Chemekeka street through the Clark property, and beyond 21st. Also for the improving of a number of streets in North Salem. Mr. Stolz took exception to the specifications of some of these, and had them all referred to the street committee. Mr. Hofer moved that the committee on fair grounds boulevard be empowered to act with the city attorney, and bring condemnation proceedings to open a suitable boulevard to the state fair grounds. He said there had been nothing but jockeying with the real estate interests so far, and warned the city not to let the year pass without building that boulevard. His motion was adopted.

CONSIDER ORDINANCE DRASTIC

The special committee to whom was referred at the last meeting of the city council the matter of enforcing the ordinance requiring the Salem Woolen Mills Company, the Salem Water Company, and the Salem Flouring Mills Company, to replace the bridge which was broken down on Winter street across the water power ditch reported as follows:

"Before the hearings held during two evenings of the past week were over the bridge committee was convinced that it was its duty to order the bridge replaced by the Street Commissioner and so ordered, as there seemed to be to many legal obstacles in the way of compelling the corporations owning the ditch to proceed and keep the street open to traffic.

"From the hearings had before your joint committee at which the owners of the South ward ditch appeared in person and by attorney it appears that the franchise for this water power was granted by the legislature as early if not earlier than even the franchise of the city itself, and the question of enforcement was granted with special legislation on

GOSSIP FROM THE WORLD OF FASHION.

Spring Millinery; Quantities of Flowers; Bows on the Back of Hats; Bridal Trossenu; Summer Frocks.

Wherever two or three women chance to meet nowadays the all absorbing topic is millinery. There has been such a very decided change in the shape of the hats this year that it is extremely difficult at first to accept the new models without a great deal of hesitation and preliminary "looking around."

The Spring hats are very heavy looking but in reality the materials are light. Large turbans, mushroom shapes, bowl shapes and a large variety of curious models and shapes of which beggar description. But the two things most noticeable in the new millinery are the pose of the hat upon the head and the complicated and topheavy character of the crowns. Every hat is worn low upon the head and whatever its shape the crown is invariably extremely wide, so that a woman with a small head one of these models appears not unlike a snuffer on a candle.

Roses, Tulips and Wisteria.

There never was quite such a season for artificial flowers. American Beauty and June roses are the most popular blossoms and then come tulips, poppies, wisteria, sweet peas with, of course, the perennial violet and a quantity of fine flowers such as forget-me-nots, heliotrope, etc.

Fruit of all sorts is also a favored decoration. Many of the hats look like inverted salad bowls with perhaps a bunch of mixed fruits, most often grapes and cherries on one side, a narrow velvet ribbon of some bright color tied around it and the whole finished off with a bow in the back.

A Linen Season.

To anyone in touch with the trend of present fashions it is evident that the Summer of 1909 will outdo any vogue previously known in linen suitings and dress materials. Lord & Taylor is making a most enticing display of the wonderful range of plain colorings and in tints that rival the finest shades of the French dyes. All the fruit shades, in plums grape and the dull rich tones hitherto found only in the more costly fabric are here in textures that

Seldom Wear Out

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills relieve pain—not only once, but as many times as it is necessary to take them. Many persons who suffer from chronic ailments find in them a source of great relief from the suffering which they would otherwise be compelled to endure. Their soothing influence upon the nerves strengthen rather than weaken them. For this reason they seldom lose their effectiveness.

"I am 42 years old and have suffered for 12 years from nervous troubles, rheumatism and neuritis, palpitation of the heart, shortness of breath, dizziness, and pain around the heart. The Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills have been a blessing to me. I don't know what I should do without them, and they are the only remedy I have ever used that did not wear out in less time than I have been using them, or else the important results were such that I would be obliged to cease their use."

vary from the fine smooth weave of French linens to the heavier self-stripes and crashes. Linen duck is very popular for suits of a strictly tailored order.

Collarless Frocks.

Most of the fashionable dress-makers are making the summer frocks for young women without any standing collars at all, cut a little rounded or pointed in the neck and finished simply with a band of insertion or in lieu of this with one of the flat Dutch collars that is so becoming to the possessor of a well rounded throat. A perfect host of separate lingerie collars indescribably fine and dainty and adapted to low neck effects are now being shown in the neckwear departments of all the shops.

Colored Embroidery.

A special feature of this season's fashions are embroideries wrought in colors of the most variegated shades on white cotton and linen materials. A charming summer frock of white lawn is made in the new princess effect and has the center front panel of fine tucking outlined down each side by wide bands of pale pink embroidery worked on the lawn. The same embroidery edges the round neck, trims the sleeves and heads the flounce that starts from each side of the front panel.

Smart Shirt Waists.

Cotton grenadine or as it is often called cotton Marquisette is a very smart material for the dressy summer shirt waist. These are elaborately trimmed with Cluny lace and hand embroidery or they are braided in cotton soutache or coronation braid and prettily trimmed with crochet buttons.

A watched pot never boils, but a jack-pot will sizzle if the ante is large enough.

Often the most severe criticism of public men is the highest praise. It depends, of course, on the source and the motive of the criticism.

SIMPLE WASH CURES ECZEMA

Why Salves Fail While a Simple Liquid Has Accomplished Thousands of Cures.

It is now thoroughly established among the best medical authorities that eczema is purely a skin disease, due to a germ, and curable only through the skin. It is not a blood disease at all; in fact, thousands of people suffer with skin disease and are perfectly healthy otherwise, and thereby prove they have no diseased blood.

Smeary salves cannot reach the germs because they do not penetrate the skin. The only way to reach the germs is by means of a penetrating liquid.

Such a liquid can be obtained by simply mixing ordinary oil of wintergreen with thymol, glycerine and other healing agents. This compound known as D. D. D. Prescription, stops the itch instantly—and the cures all appear to be permanent. In fact, it took thousands of cures, case after case, before the best scientific authorities were convinced of the absolute merit of this remedy. D. D. D. Prescription kills the germs in the itching skin. Its effect is seen within one minute after the first application. We especially recommend D. D. Soap in connection with the treatment.

The Capital Drug Co.
