style, but could not make the circle for a run.

Not until the sixth inning had been started did the score keeper get busy. The visitors made a spurt which would have been the final burst of the game had not the High School boys clinched down on them and Ashtenfelder whipped them out of business after two runs had been made. The local team then took a turn and caused a man around for a score, but no more.

The eighth and ninth innings were slim in runs. Eugene players ran two in at this juncture of the contest, but Salem was not represented in the score making, and final results were 8 to 2.

What lost the game for the Salem High school was the lucky meets the Eugene team made with some of Pitcher Ashtenfelder's twisters, although the Salem twirler held his end of the game down splendidly during the nine innings, and did not lose his head at any time. He is making a first class tosser and with good helpers will be able to give the best of them a hard run.

With the exception of a little hard Jack, Salem High school played a good game. Kaiser, on first, was up and gaveling all the time and a good many putouts were credited to him.

Farmer, on second, covered good ground, but was a victim of an off day yesterday and made quite a bunch of errors. Roberts at short and Kay on third played ball proper. These two youngsters are artists and played their positions in better form than did the Eugene players at short and third. The High School catcher, although permitting of few of the visitors to pass to second by dropping that ball, stopped Ashtenfelder's twisters admirably, and everything considered, no played a fair game. The High School's outfield took care of the game in that section with credit and got under all possible chances coming their way. Fred Heyser umpired the contest to the satisfaction of all.

RECORD GAME OF 21 INNINGS

Seattle, Wash., April 19.—Twenty-one innings is the record length of a game set by two amateur baseball teams in Seattle yesterday afternoon. The Webster team beat a team composed of soldiers from Fort Casey.

In the 1st inning a double and two singles drove over one run, the lone tally of the long contest, and the Webster boys were the victors. Each pitcher allowed eight hits and struck out 21 men.

The batteries were Agnew and Mo-Manus for the Fort Casey team and Byrd and Clark for the Webster team.

JIM CORBETT TALKS OF JACK JOHNSON

New York, April 19.—After promising Jim Corbett that he would match him with Jack Johnson on Thanksgiving day, in the event that the black champion is not defeated by Stanley Ketchel October 12, James W. Coffroth, the San Francisco fight promoter, is on his way home today.

Corbett is satisfied that he will get a chance at Johnson, as he does not believe Ketchel will be able to dispose of the big fellow. Corbett admits Ketchel's cleverness, but declares the white boy is not large enough to defeat the negro.

"I believe that I can beat Johnson," declared Corbett today. "This is no advertising scheme. I am in earnest and am ready to prove it is not hot air, if I can get into the ring with Johnson."

"I must fight soon or not at all, I realize that I am getting old, and must hurry. But I am just as fast now as I ever was, and I believe that I can show Johnson that I still have something of punch left."

CITY COUNCIL MEETS TONIGHT

Salem city council meets tonight with important matters on the carpet.

The South Commercial street bridge will be up for acceptance.

The bridge committee will report in favor of a new bridge on Bush street.

The street committee will probably report in favor of a steam road roller and a rock-crushing plant.

The North Mill creek ditch question will be up for settlement.

After suffering for two weeks from a severe attack of la grippe, Mrs. Claus Spreckles, widow of the millionaire sugar king, at San Francisco, is reported to be better today.

U. OF O. DEFEATS SALEM HIGH

What was the score? 8 to 2 in favor of the full-grown students of the University of Oregon. Nevertheless, the game was one of interest and some A1 ball was played by both the Salem High school team and the visitors from up the country.

In the first inning the local lads took the field and had it not been for some heavy hitting on the part of the visitors, they would have passed up their first chance with no score, but one run was squeezed in at the last moment. The High School lads took a turn at the bat then, and notwithstanding Hurd's big roundhouse curves, the little lads landed on him for one run, tying the score for the first round.

When U. of O. came to bat in the first half of the second things began to look somewhat cloudy for Salem. The University aggregation run in three scores, but not as the result of the High School pitcher's throwing Ashtenfelder turned them over something hard to solve, and on a few occasions the visitors met with the straight ones and sent through first an dsecond too hot for the Salem lads to handle. The Salem team in their half of the inning hit Hurd in great

FRAKES'

Miss M. D. Evans, Manager Salem Branch

409 Washington St., Portland

"BUSY PEOPLE ARE NEVER BUSY BODIES"

What We Say We Do--We Do Do!

The Frakes Company doesn't advertise "bargains" and then at 10 o'clock of the morning of sale confess that "We are just out of that line." When we advertise bargains we have enough to supply our customers.

Because we have a stock, not a few tatters and remnants left from a dozen seasons of overbuying.

The goods are new goods this year's styles, fresh from the market centers of the world and they are being sold in Salem at less than Portland prices.

When a Man Hollers Probably He Is Hurt

Women know bargains, that's why the Frakes store is crowded these days.

Remember this, when you read certain near ads of firms that are hooting because their custom is taken away by superior bargains offered by the Frakes Company.

Do You Pay Enough Taxes?

If you do probably you are not especially interested in paying any merchant's taxes by buying from him for more than you will have to pay elsewhere.

The only reason why we ask you to patronize us is that we have the goods for less money and better goods for the same money. That's all the reason any merchant can give that's worth while mentioning.

Salem Beautiful.

Salem is already one of the most beautiful gems in Oregon's crown; probably you will not greatly enhance its beauty by paying more for your millinery or suits than they are worth. Whenever you find a man crying in the corner and begging for mercy because he was "here first," or because he pays taxes (which you can bet isn't his fault) or because he happens to be a neighbor of yours, you can bet that he is up against competition that is too strong for him and he is playing to the galleries and shouting for mercy because he can't answer the price argument.

Business Is Business.

And being merely that you will buy where you can get the best goods for the least money and you won't pay much attention to the nativity or the age or religion or the taxpaying ability of the man who does the selling.

A merchant is not a brother, or a friend, or a neighbor, or a good fellow; he is merely the agent between the jobber and the consumer; the agent that can get the best goods for the least money makes the money and satisfies his trade. That is what the Frakes Company on it has for being in business, that's doing, that's the only reason the only inducement it offers you to trade in its place of business.

The Hot Air Epoch In Advertising Has Passed.
