

Weak? Tired? Run-down?

These conditions come from overwork, a weak stomach, overtaxed nerves or feeble blood. When you feel "all in"—hardly able to drag about, no energy, no ambition, easily exhausted and can't sleep—take and note what a difference they make in your condition. The stomach is the first to feel the good effects. rounded by entirely new scenery and novel electrical and mechanical effects, and should not fail to attract a large audience. All these things are promised by the manager, Mr. L. L. Carter, and by Mr. Robert Hildreth and his talented company, a feast of reason and a flow of soul. The house should be a bumper.

THE OLD CATT TALKS TO THE KITTENS

London, April 28.—Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, the American equal rights campaigner, is presiding over the fifth convention of the International Woman's Suffrage Alliance, which is in session here today at St. James' Hall. More than 150 delegates were in attendance Monday when the convention opened, and interest has not waned.

Twenty countries are represented, and the members of two or three societies in sympathy with the aims of the alliance have delegates in attendance.

The conference will last until May 1. There will be a full discussion of the organization's accomplishments in the past, and some decision will be reached concerning the general policies for the future.

English militant suffragettes are not represented at the gathering, but are extremely curious to know whether the alliance will endorse or condemn their methods. Unless an endorsement is forthcoming a counter demonstration is threatened by the militants.

MAY SHUT DOWN ALL COAST SAWMILLS

[United Press Leased Wire.] Seattle, April 28.—A delegation of prominent Oregon lumbermen is today conferring with a number of the leading Washington mill men to discuss ways and means for improving the condition of the Pacific northwest lumber market.

The plan for a further curtailment of the output from Washington and Oregon mills until conditions improve will be taken up in detail. Many lumbermen in both states are openly advocating the closing down of all mills until the demand becomes more brisk, and others favor another partial close down.

Discussion of the question at issue will be continued during the day and it is expected that some plan of action will be arrived at tonight.

TURKS MURDERED A HUNDRED MISSIONARIES

[United Press Leased Wire.] London, April 28.—One hundred Protestant missionaries were killed by fanatical Moslems in Adana district, according to consular dispatches received here today.

Warned that they were to be massacred, the missionaries took refuge in a church. The rioters discovered them and surrounding the building they made a concerted rush and overpowered the inmates. The church was burned to the ground and all of the missionaries murdered.

The dispatches give but meager details of the massacre and further news is anxiously awaited here.

DON'TS BY THE BABY.

These Rules Should Be Strictly Followed by all Concerned.

All newly born babies who desire to have a copy of the following on a card to hang around their necks can obtain one free by applying to this office:

Don't handle me more than is necessary.

Don't put into my mouth, to stop me from crying, an old piece of rubber to suck. It is about the worst habit I can get into.

Don't let any relatives see me.

Don't take me up, strain me to your breast, walk the floor with me, dance before me like a wild Indian shaking a horrible rattle, or talk gibberish to me when I have a crying spell. There may be something serious the matter with me, but this isn't going to help.

When I push away my bottle, don't force me to feed. I know when it is necessary for me to eat anything.

Don't take me to the circus, prayer meeting or to spend the day at the seashore. I'm not so old or so fool-proof as you are.

Don't kiss me. Take some one of your own size.

Don't show your anxiety about me when in my presence. I haven't any too much confidence in myself.

Don't be too proud of my unnatural brightness. It may be a form of degeneracy.

Don't tell anybody that I am only a little animal. Let them guess it for themselves.

Don't take my temperature or send for the doctor on the slightest provocation.

Don't let the light strike into my eyes.

Don't rock me to sleep. Remember that the hand that rocks the cradle is ruled by the baby.—Lippincott's Magazine.
