

BOYLE WOMAN ON TRIAL HUSBAND ALREADY CONVICTED OF KID- NAPPING BILLY WHITLA

[United Press Leased Wire.]
Mercer, Pa., May 7.—Mrs. James H. Boyle, on trial accused of kidnapping Billy Whitla, faced the boy today without the slightest show of emotion when he pointed her out to the jury as the woman into whose custody he was placed by Boyle, convicted yesterday of abduction.

Billy related the story of the kidnapping. He was a good witness and apparently enjoyed the novelty of being on the stand. The defense made no attempt to cross-examine him, and he was dismissed after being asked a few unimportant questions.

Mrs. Boyle was heavily veiled this morning. She sat by her husband and listened intently to the testimony. It is understood that she will be placed on the witness stand later in the day.

While Attorney Whitla was on the stand Boyle was called before the court, the attorneys for the state desiring to ask him where the letters were which had passed between himself and Whitla. Boyle threw the courtroom into an uproar by blurting: "I want to know where I am at. I want to know before I say anything. I haven't had a chance to say anything yet and I want to say something just now. I want a fair deal and I haven't had it. I want to know where I am at."

Mrs. Boyle looked scared and sank into a chair and the excitement in the courtroom was only checked by Judge Williams' stern interruption: "We will show you where you are at if you don't keep quiet."

Attorney Cochran then asked Boyle if he had the letters. "I did have them but I haven't got them now," was Boyle's reply. Boyle was dismissed and the examination of Whitla taken up again.

During an intermission in the trial today, Boyle admitted to Judge Williams that he was connected with the kidnapping, and said that three others were equally guilty. He said nothing against his wife.

Boyle also told the judge that he would repeat the story when he was called up for sentence, and perhaps he would give the names of his accomplices.

He said that the man who brought the boy to him at Warren did not know that the little fellow had been kidnapped. The man who planned the crime, he said, was a resident of Mercer, and was to get half the money.

Mrs. Boyle heard her husband's statement, and nodded her assent. Boyle declared that he wanted to go on the stand in his own trial and talk about the other three, but his attorneys would not allow him to do so.

"What I wanted to do was to tell all I know, and get myself square. I didn't want to sit there like a dummy. That's why I said what I did in court," said Boyle.

This morning the prosecution spent considerable time on the letters written by the kidnapers, Billy Whitla being recalled to the stand to identify them. Several witnesses who were on the stand in Boyle's trial yesterday were called again today, and repeated their stories. The prosecution closed its case at 1:30 p. m.

SHERIFF CRENSHAW BREAKS RECORD FROM TILLAMOOK

Sheriff H. Crenshaw, of Tillamook county, arrived in Salem last night at 7 o'clock, having made the run over from the coast that day, leaving Tillamook City at 9:30 in the morning. He was about as dirty a looking an officer as ever showed up in Salem. The first half of the run was through mud, of which he and those with him accumulated a goodly share, and the latter half through dust, which, as they got it, the mud gathered in. The run is a record-breaking one, taking less than 10 hours over a road where the old records show as much as eight days were required at times. He brought a prisoner, Nordstrom, who killed a man named Peterson last winter, and who is sentenced to be hanged at the state prison June 18. The roadometer on the auto showed the distance to be just a trifle under 92 miles.

PETER BERNHARDT IS BADLY HURT BY HORSE

Peter Barnhardt, a prominent farmer, living about four miles north of Salem, was kicked in the stomach by a horse yesterday, and as a result suffered a bad rupture. Mr. Barnhardt is well up in years, nearly 70, and is one of the best of the many singers who make the meetings of the German "Gesang Verein" so delightful. He is an accomplished musician, of splendid voice, and the members of the society who have had the benefit of his musical knowledge will, more even, than his many friends outside of their society, regret the accident that will deprive them, for a time at least, not only of one whose voice cheered, but of the presence of a genial good friend.

Heartburn, sour risings, belching, dull, heavy feeling and such things are all caused by indigestion. Kodol stops them by digesting all the food you eat. Sold by all druggists.

EX--STATE LAND AGENT HON. L. B. GEER IS DEAD

Ex-State Land Agent L. B. Geer, died at his home in the Waldo hills last night at 10 o'clock. He had been ill for a month, having suffered a stroke of apoplexy, and a second stroke about a week ago. He was 64 years of age and came across the plains to Oregon from Illinois in 1847, his father being Ralph C. Geer, on whose original home place he died.

Mr. Geer was well known all over Oregon, and especially at Salem, where he served four years as state land agent under Governor T. T. Geer, his cousin. He also lived in Union county, and four years at Corvallis, where he acquired a fine stock farm.

His funeral will be conducted next Sunday from the old home at 11 a. m., burial in the Warren cemetery, conducted by the Odd Fellows lodges. He was a charter member of Chemeketa No. 1 at Salem, but withdrew to become a charter member of Silver lodge at Silverton, of which he is one of the original organizers.

He is survived by Mrs. Geer and six children: Mrs. D. H. Crouter of Union, Miss Musa Geer of New York city, Mrs. Dr. Dabney of Portland, Bert Geer of Elk City, C. C. and A. A. Geer of Macleay.

L. B. Geer, as he was best known, had many good qualities of mind and heart. He was a loyal and enthusiastic friend, always jolly, social and pleasant to meet under all circumstances. He took the office of state land agent to enable him to earn money enough to save his father's farm from being sold under a mortgage. His children loved him, and reflect a great deal of his ability, sunny disposition and charming traits of character.

TRANSPORT DUE FROM PHILIPPINES USING ISLAND COAL

[United Press Leased Wire.]
Seattle, Wash., May 7.—Unusual interest attaches to the present voyage of the United States army transport Dix, which is due at Honolulu the latter part of next week, and which is expected to arrive in Seattle about May 29. Before leaving the Philippines, the Dix went to Ligua, Batan island, where the government coal mines are located, and took on a cargo of Batan coal. The ship is using this coal in steaming to Seattle, and will make a report on its qualities. The Dix is the first transport to burn Batan coal for the entire passage across the Pacific, and, if the quality proves satisfactory, it will hereafter be used on all government vessels plying between the coast and the island possessions.

The war department has spent thousands of dollars in experimenting with Batan coal, and is anxiously awaiting the result.

Coal from the Philippines, including that for the Asiatic fleet, has always been bought in Australia or Japan, under contract, at a great expense, and if the Batan coal is successful, the Australians and Japanese will lose a big customer.

PRESIDENT TAFT HAS A SORE EYE

Washington, May 7.—Because of an infection of his left eye, supposed to have been caused by an insect striking it while he was riding Wednesday, President Taft was unable to attend the exercises of the unveiling of the Longfellow statue here today. It is necessary for the President to keep the eye bandaged, but, though it causes him much discomfort, he attended to his official duties throughout the day.

YOU can't tell what a suit is worth by the price. If another suit costs 25 per cent more and wears 100 per cent longer, it's by far the cheaper of the two. Cheapened clothes are not cheap. They look worse inside of a week than garments like Bishop's Ready Tailored Clothes $10.00 to $35.00 look at the end of a season. There is nothing inside of them to keep them right outside. All of our clothes are hand tailored wherever the suit is likely to be tugged by the wear and tear of the body. Lapels lie firm and flat, collars hug the neck, breasts don't break. This is brought about, not only through good workmanship, but also by thorough shrinking. Every piece of cloth in a Bishop's Ready Tailored Suit goes through the London process which takes out any stretch of the wool which the mill left in it. Inasmuch as cloth is sold by the yard, it is to the advantage of the mill to shrink the cloth as little as possible. Most manufacturers do not reshrink their cloths, therefore their clothes do not hold their shape as long as Bishop's Clothes.
