Nursing mothers will find it especially valuable in sustaining their strength and promoting an abundant nourishment for the child. Expectant mothers too will find it a priceless boon to prepare the system for baby's coming and rendering the ordeal comparatively painless. It can do no harm in any state, or condition of the female system.

SATURDAY JOURNAL GOOD PROMOTION NUMBER

If you have not sent Saturday's Journal away to some friend, look it over again and see the items of fact that tell of what Salem is doing, and how it is growing. The secretary of the Board of Trade tells of publicity work, there are several advertisements for the city, state and school district, telling of proposed improvements, the German Society's purchase of a corner lot for $8000, Sacred Heart Academy and Southern Pacific improvements, nearly a page of real estate advertisements, statement of one of our banks, account of improved street car service, favorable condition of crops, improvements at Willamette Hotel and University, contract let for five-story steel bank building, great results from drawing in the public schools, half a page of ads for manufacturing and jobbing houses, Salem to have a modern crematory and stories of the great undeveloped wealth of Central Oregon. There was no exaggeration, no hot-air fairy tales. The report that Denver capitalists want 1000 to 2000 acres of land in this valley to plant a fruit colony upon was an eye-opener to every reader, and will be followed with results. The Board of Trade sent away copies of the Saturday Capital Journal to all who wrote for literature during the past week. The use of a good local paper is the best way to advertise our city, and this is proven by the fact that The Capital Journal gets many replies from persons receiving copies.

RAIN WAS GREAT BUT NOT FOR BASEBALL

"Tis an ill wind that blows no one good," is a true proverb, regarding a much disturbed atmosphere, but yesterday Managers Heyser and Jerman, of the local baseball aggregation, were the most peevish set of ball magnates one could imagine, and if looks could have frozen, Oregon's beautiful blue dome would have been a chunk of ice when the $1,000,000 rain was falling the hardest yesterday afternoon. The Eugene ball men were in the city sitting in protective stairways, waiting for the leak to stop, but were unable to go on the diamond for the wet, and at last the game was called drowned. There is only one consolation, Heyser and Jerman can entertain, and that is they could never have been defeated by McCormick's colts. McCormick, however, thinks different, and another date will be arranged for.

TEDDY ASSASSINATED A BIG RHINOCEROS

Nairobi, British East Africa, May 10.—Coolly taking aim at a giant rhinoceros, which was but 14 paces away, and plunging toward him at a furious pace, Colonel Roosevelt sent a bullet crashing through the monster's brain. The animal plunger fell forward, almost to the feet of the American hunter, and fell dead.

The rhinoceros was the gorty-fifth animal killed by Colonel Roosevelt and his son, Kermit.

The party was 50 miles from Nairobi, when the natives who were beating the underbrush signaled for the colonel to be on the alert. The rhinoceros appeared at a point 100 yards away from the hunter, and made a fierce charge upon him.

Colonel Roosevelt's aim was steady and true as he fired at the beast, as it was almost upon him.

The party will remain in the neighborhood of Machakos another week, and then go to George McMillan's Ju-Ka ranch.
