GENERAL MERCHANDISERS

We would like to say to the people in East Salem that we can sell groceries, hardware and drugs just a little cheaper than the down town stores. We have a complete line of fresh, up-to-date goods, carefully selected. Also a feed store at No. 1160, and we defy any merchant to give you better delivery service.

We own 133 feet of property covered by buildings, including our stores, from which we are receiving an income, and while we are in a position to buy as cheap as other merchants our expenses are considerably lower.

So a trial order will convince you of what we say relative to prices, quality of goods and delivery.

CONGRESSMAN'S WIFE TELLS WHAT HE SAID

Mrs. Taft recently gave a big afternoon party to the wives of notables and one of her guests was the consort of a congressman from the Pacific coast. She is a smiling, clever little woman, with the frankness and independence characteristic of the west. In the course of events, President Taft, in his very best humor, came to the east room to meet the friends of Mrs. Taft. He met Mrs. Pacific Coast. They had a little chat which led the president to remark that he had not met the lady's husband.

"Yes, and that is not all, Mr. President," she said with a smile; "you are not going to meet him."

"How do you explain that?" queried the chief executive.

"Well, he called at the executive office, waited four hours, and even then was unable to see you. He said he would never go there again."

"What else did he say?" asked the president.

"If you demand a strictly truthful answer, Mr. President," she said, as her eyes twinkled, "I must tell you that he said you could 'go to hell.'"

The president laughed heartily and requested her to tell her husband he wished to see him next day. The congressman did call next day and, thanks to his wife, now maintains pleasant relations with the white house instead of the fued he had evolved as the result of his four-hour wait.

INVENTION ATTRACTED LOTS OF ATTENTION

J. J. Lucky and Wm. Ganger, who were in the city a couple of days, left Thursday evening for Portland. While here they awakened considerable interest in the patent ball-bearing, oilless gearing, invented by Mr. Lucky, and which they are engaged in trying out. They had with them a buggy that had traveled 400 miles without oiling and which will be driven across the continent soon—and without the use of oil. Lucky first tried his invention on a buggy he made for Dr. F. C. Brosius, of Hood River, who has a large country practice, and is an unusually hard driver. Dr. Brosius used his buggy in his practice for three and a half years, and though the wheels were pretty well worn in that time the boxes were practically as good as new. In all that time the wheels were never taken off. In connection with this, Lucky has a patent lock nut, simple in constructoin but perfect in its work. With this nut there are no left-handed threads cut on the spindles, for the nuts can't turn, and there is consequently no turning of a nut off in backing a buggy—a very common accident with the old nuts. A large crowd gathered every time the buggy was brought out, and when Lucky fed sand, cement and other grit into the boxes, which was soon ground up and cast out, everybody sat up and took notice.

WILL ERECT A BIG BARN AND FEED STABLE

George Bayne has purchased for $4,000 the north half of the Jim Brown block from Harmon Snook and will soon begin to erect a large barn and farmers' feed shed on the property. He has recently sold 54 acres on Salem prairie to B. C. Rockwell of Westville Center, New York, for $10,000.

Iowans will meet Saturday at 2 p. m. at the Board of Trade rooms to arrange for the annual Iowa picnic.

BETTER THAN SPANKING

Spanking does not cure children of bed-wetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W, Notre Dame, Ind., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money, but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child, the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

CHEMAWA INDIAN TRAINING

Made Very Practical by Work Done by the Boys—Nearly $20,000 Spent There This Year.

A Journal reporter made a brief visit at Chemawa Indian Training school near Salem the other day and was pleased to note many new improvements. Large exhibits are being prepared for the Seattle Exposition, including work from the school rooms and shops.

Supt. Chalcraft has expended about $350 finishing up the open air Sanatorium, a system which has proven a great success. The first practical test was made two years ago when eleven sturents afflicted with tuberculosis were put in open air tents in the old orchard, with bare ground floors, and all have their health today. One young man the reporter met was Frank Rosenberg, a husky-looking young Alaskan who was so far gone his parents came down to stay with him and be present at his death. He got well and strong under the open air treatment.

About $6,000 is being spent repairing and remodelling the power house, including new smokestack and boilers.

A domestic science building has been constructed out of the old hospital at a cost of about $2300.

The small girls' building is being remodled at a cost of $4,200. The work is being done largely by students and it is such practical employment as this tends to fit the Indian boys for good, useful citizens.

WILL REBULD THE STATE STOVE WORKS

Governor Benson has completed arrangements to rebuild the burned plant of the Oregon State Prison Foundry, and the Northwestern Stove Works will resume operations at an early day under their contract. The report of the experts justifies an expenditure of about $32,000 on new buildings, although the state will not undertake to replace the burned patterns and some special machinery. Three important machines including a large drill and planer will be bought by the state as a part of the contract. These works will employ 250 convicts and free men when in full operation.

If you desire a clear complexion take Foley's Orino Laxative for constipation and liver trouble as it will stimulate these organs and thoroughly cleanse your system, which is what everyone needs in the spring in order to feel well. J. C. Perry.
