ONE MILLION ROSES IN EACH PARADE AT PORTLAND FESTIVAL THREE AND A HALF MILES OF DECORATED AUTOS, FOUR AND A HALF MILES OF VEHICLES AND HORSES LIT- ERALLY BURIED UNDER BEAUTIFUL FLOWERS

Portland, Or., June 5.—One million roses in each parade, three and a half miles of decorated autos and four miles of decorated vehicles and horses are some of the features of the opening parade Monday night of the greatest Rose Carnival Portland has ever seen.

buried beneath Portland's beautiful roses. The festival committee has issued the rules and regulations governing the big event, and the plans that have been taking form for several weeks are being given their final touches today. Grand stands are being erected, and all the big houses in the business sections present a gay appearance with their decorations.

O. R. & N. MUST PAY FOR NOT HAVING CARS

[United Press Leased Wire.] Walla Walla, June 5.—A verdict of vast importance to fruit growers of Washington was rendered last night when a jury in the case of J. L. Dumas of Columbia county vs. the Oregon Railroad and Navigation Company awarded him damages to the extent of $4750 because the transportation company had failed to provide cars in which to move his apple crop of 1908. Dumas, who is the biggest individual apple grower in the state of Washington, sued to recover $11,428. Growers who have suffered in a similar manner have been watching the progress of the trial with accumulative interest. It is now almost certain that a great number of suits for damages will be started. Heretofore they were of the opinion that it would be a waste of time and money to institute proceedings.

MOTHER AND THREE CHILDREN MARRIED AT THE SAME TIME

San Diego, Cal., June 5.—Within the next 24 hours Mrs. Carmen Lam-edrid Mendelson, a charming widow, of this city, and three of her children will make a concerted rush of the gates of matrimony. Licenses for the quadruple marriage were issued by License Clerk Bert McLees yesterday, and before tomorrow night all family records for June weddings in this county will be shattered.

Mrs. Mendelson will marry James Wallace at her home tomorrow evening. Mira, her 16-year-old daughter, will become the bride of John F. Daugherty, the mother having given a written consent for the issuance of the license. When Mrs. Mendelson applied for her own license, she created consternation in the court house by calmly stating that her two sons, Thomas and Marcus Mendelson, would apply some time today, and probably would follow their mother to the hymeneal altar tomorrow evening. "Oh, we're a marrying family without a doubt," gaily remarked Mrs. Mendelson, in reply to the astounded expression that spread itself over McLees' countenance upon her announcement.

GLEE CLUB PLEAS- ES SALEM MUSIC LOVERS

The Willamette Glee Club and Choral Society, under the direction of Professor Frederick S. Mendelhall, organizer of both, delighted an audience of music lovers at the Grand opera house last evening. They were assisted by the male quartet composed of Messrs. McIntire, Booth, Anderson and Oakes; the Ladies' Glee Club; Mr. Perry Reigleman, reader; Mrs. Myrtle Mendelhall, soprano, and Miss Harriett Stuckey, accompanist. The glee club has been organized only a short time, but under the splendid direction of Mr. Mendelhall, and by the united efforts of the students, its work compares excellently with that done by any similar club in the state.

LETTER MAY PROVE M'CREERY'S UNDOING

[United Press Leased Wire.] Redlands, Cal., June 5.—A letter which may prove the undoing of Victor A. McCreery, the drug clerk of Redlands, charged with bigamy at Redwood City, Cal., is in the hands of the district attorney, while a copy of the letter attached to an extradition on its way to Portland, Or., where McCreery is being held.

The warrant was issued after it was alleged that McCreery had married Miss Mary White, of Redlands, while he had a wife and two children at Pasadena, Cal. The letter alleged to have been written by McCreery addressed to the woman whom he is charged with having deserted, reads: "Myrtle: You fully understood that I did not care for you, but loved another, who cared for me. You accepted my plan to separate, and go to one who loved me. "Now, if you really want to be right, knowing that I do not love you, why not go your way? I love Mary White, and she loves me. "Please let me have a peaceful home with one who cares for me."

WOULD NOT LET HER MONKEY IN HOTEL

San Francisco, June 5.—Another very serious difficulty has arisen in the marital affairs of Millionaire David Hanbury, hunter and African explorer, and his beautiful wife, Assistant Manager O. Rich, of the Fairmount Hotel, figures prominently in the distressing affair, as does a diminutive, wizen African monkey, the cherished pet of Mrs. Hanbury. Yesterday the Hanburys arrived from London, bringing with them the monkey. In the rotunda of the hotel Mrs. Hanbury held the blanket-wrapped African in her arms, and administered many touching caresses.

he trouble began when Rich delivered the ultimatum that the little animal must be kept in the baggage room of the hotel. Hanbury was indignant, and it is even stated that he posted a standing offer of $10 to the man who would shoot it. Mrs. Hanbury, however, was indignant, and immediately threatened trouble.

"I won't go into the cold baggage room every time I want to caress my pet," she is reported to have said. "And besides, he will suffer terribly from the cold out there. He is used to different treatment. Despite Mrs. Hanbury's protests, Rich was obdurate, and the monkey was quartered in the trunk-room. He is visited almost hourly by his worried owner.

DREAMED OF MURDER AND COMMITTED IT

Placerville, Cal., June 5.—After eluding the determined members of three posses for several days, Thomas Pettus, murderer of Ed Stafford, a prominent resident of this county, today is behind the bars of the county jail. He was caught yesterday in the wildest section of the Shenandoah valley by Constable Wheeler, and was brought here after an all-night ride. Pettus killed Stafford at Grizzly Flats after an argument over a small piece of rope. Stafford took the rope from Pettus who then offered to shake hands and call it quits. When Stafford extended his hand Pettus stabbed him three times and fled from the city. Stafford died within three minutes. Pettus stated today that the day before the killing he sharpened his pocket knife, and that night dreamed he committed murder with it. It was with this knife he killed Stafford.

CLACKAMAS FARMER BLOWS UP THE HOUSE KILLING HIS FAMILY EXPLODED DYNAMITE UNDER KITCHEN WHILE FAMILY WAS AT BREAKFAST WIFE TWO DAUGHTERS AND HIM- SELF KILLED-- LITTLE GIRL IS BLOWN TO PIECES

Oregon City, Or., June 5.—Bert Garrett, 45 years of age, a prominent Clackamas county citizen, this morning assassinated his wife and one daughter, fatally injured another and forfeited his own life by setting off a blast of giant powder under the kitchen of his home at Marquam while the family was eating breakfast. Mrs. Garrett's lower limbs were blown off. She died within an hour. Beulah, 5 years old, was killed instantly. Portions of her body were found about the yard. Lavilla, 10 years old, was blown into an adjoining woodshed. She was frightfully injured, and her death is expected momentarily. Gladys, 15 years old was lying in bed in the front portion of the house and escaped injury. Her father had entreated her to come and join him at breakfast, but she was not feeling well, and refused. Garrett had been in a nervous condition for some time. He had frequently threatened to take his life. For some months he had been confined in a hospital at Oregon City for nervous complaint.

GERMANY'S POLICY SETS ENGLAND CRAZY

[United Press Leased Wire.] Kiel, Germany, June 5.—Hostility to England, marked nearly every utterance at the annual meeting of the German Navy League today. Statements were made which, it is feared, will have great bearing on the strained relations between Germany and Great Britain, and a delicate international situation has resulted, across which may mean war. Admiral Koester presided at the meetings. Most of the delegates were fiery in their utterances and openly advocated accelerated upbuilding of the German navy "to contest the present navy supremacy of England."

the Atlantic, Pacific or in the Far East. London, June 5.—Eight new Dreadnaughts will be built at once by the British government, as the result of the sensational session of the German Navy League today at Kiel. The government had hoped to delay the construction of these battleships, because of the conditions of the public finances. The action of the Germans, in throwing off the cloak of secrecy and admitting their intention of wresting naval supremacy from this country, however, assured that the vessels would be built without delay. Details of the meeting at Kiel have not been received here yet, but the meager reports of the radical speeches delivered by the German delegates have been enough to greatly increase the bitterness of the British anti-German following.

Germany must continue her work of perfecting a fleet that will enable us to cope with our most powerful rivals. A fleet that will keep Germany where she belongs among the powers of the world is an immediate necessity." Count Reventlow was open in his attack upon England. He did not take the trouble to veil his words, driving directly to the point, when he exclaimed: "England's claim that she must rule the seas is preposterous. The entire assemblage applauded, and the count continued: "England has no divine right to dominate the ocean. Germany and the other reigning powers must contest for supremacy. Germany must, at least, rule the North Sea, and no interference with her will be brooked." Several speakers repudiated the idea of an agreement with England which would have as its purpose the limitation of the Imperial navy, while others emphasized the necessity of a huge fleet, capable of protecting Germany's oceanic interests, whether in

AMERICANS JOIN THE STRIKERS AT M'CLOUD

(By Garrett J. Lloyd, Staff Correspondent United Press.) McCloud, Cal., June 5.—One camp of American loggers, working for the McCloud Lumber Company, struck today and many more are expected to join the Italian employes in their walkout before Monday. Joe Bussey, superintendent of the wood camps, reported that he had no hope of holding the men under him at their work. Rebellion has been spreading rapidly and today the men in the car shops also refused to return to work Monday. Deepest resentment is felt against the company because of the presence of detectives who have been hired by the lumber company and sworn

RIVERS RISING RAPIDLY

[United Press Leased Wire.] Portland, Or., June 5.—Rising at the rate of one inch an hour, the water of the Columbia river has, within the past 30 hours, caused considerable damage at several points, and no relief is in sight. At The Dalles the stream rose more than seven feet in 36 hours, and is still rising. The beach is flooded as far as the Umatilla hotel, and several truck gardens are under water, according to reports received here today. The usual landing for boats has been abandoned, as it is submerged. Similar conditions prevail at Vancouver, Wash., where the Columbia is reported to be feet and 6 inches above low water. It has been rising an inch every hour. Three inches of water cover the Northern Pacific dock. Word from Lewiston, Idaho, says the Snake is also on a rampage, but no great damage has been done so far.
