REYELTS BUILDS UP A FINE BUSINESS

It takes the stand-patter to start up a business and make a success of it, and Reyelts, the proprietor of the little butcher shop on South Commercial street, near the Hill's cigar store, is about that kind of a business man. Reyelts started his meat market last fall, and for a time it was slow work gaining headway, but "Shorty" kept at the business, driving many miles in the country and buying his own stock, slaughtering it on the grounds, hauling it back to his shop here and cutting it up ready for the market, all himself, and in this way, together with some shrewd figuring, Reyelts has succeeded so far that at the present time he has installed a brand new sausage machine of the latest type, and is employing two men in the shops, a regular meat cutter and a butcher and two delivery boys, who are compelled to keep moving every minute in order to handle the many orders that the shop receives daily.

In managing his business, Mr. Reyelts has been very careful and considerate to deal with, and he has yet to hear a complaint, either from a patron or the many farmers of whom he purchases his meats. In connection with the newly installed sausage machine, Mr. Reyelts has put in a refrigerating meat counter. The

NO ODORS

Vudor Patented RE-ENFORCED HAMMOCKS

Ask to see this celebrated hammock next time you are in the store.

OLD HICKORY--NATURE'S OWN MAKE

The smooth, rustic bark—that's one thing makes people like "Old Hickory" so, for Art abhors painted wood.

Besides, it's so wholly comfortable. No furniture made is so much the vogue, so enduring, yet feels so good when you sit in it, as an "Old Hickory" piece of furniture. It breathes a spirit of the woods—quiet hint of rest and peace. To porch or lawn its simple touch of nature lends charm and beauty. Your inspection of this large and varied line of tables, chairs, rockers, swings and seats is requested.

Buren & Hamilton HOUSE FURNISHERS

counter is made mostly of heavy glass, which is encased in hard oak wood. Every morning a quantity of ice is put in the counter, and the meats all kept in the freshest condition.

A reputation for having clean, wholesome meats for sale is the largest and most important factor in the butcher business, and Mr. Reyelts has apparently found this out.

Senator LaFollett is making things interesting for Senator Aldrich, and is keeping him dodging fast enough to prevent the flies lighting on him.

Mrs. T. B. Kay and Mrs. C. H. Robertson gave an afternoon tea at their home Friday. A large number of ladies called and were entertained with a novel tea guessing contest at Mrs. Kay's residence, the prizes being won by Mrs. N. H. Loony and Mrs.

Claud Gatch. Mrs. J. H. Brooks poured tea at Mrs. Robertson's and she was assisted by Miss Mabel Robertson and Miss Myrtle Hunt of Portland in serving. Yellow locust blossoms and California poppies formed the decorations at the Kay residence and this color effect was completed with Scotch broom, poppies and daisies at Mrs. Robertson's.

The Capitol Relief Corps held its annual meeting at the residence of Mrs. A. N. Gilbert Thursday afternoon at which time the name of the organization was changed to the Ladies' Relief Society. SALEM FRUIT UNION TO HAVE HOUSE WARMING

The Salem Fruit Union has sent out invitations to a house warming, the occasion being the opening of its new building on the corner of High and Trade streets, and the time, Tuesday, June 9, at 2 o'clock p. m. There will be a practical demonstration of fruit packing, and speeches by prominent people in the interests of better fruit, and this will have a top-dressing of Willamette valley strawberries and home-grown cream, packed out with sugar above 14 Dutch standard, and cakes galore. As its name implies, this is a local company, backed by local capital, and it is established not only for the purpose of taking care of the surplus fruits, but also to maintain prices. Every fruit grower should back it up, not only by furnishing fruit, but by becoming a stockholder. Those fortunate enough to receive an invitation have a pleasant afternoon in store.

Strike at Aberdeen Booms Hoquiam.

[United Press Leased Wire.]
Aberdeen, Wash., June 5.—No change in the situation growing out of the strike and subsequent lock-out of mill employes of the eight big lumber plants in Aberdeen was observed today.

While efforts are being made to adjust the differences the leaders of the strike movement are not hopeful that the sawmills will be in operation for some time to come. The business interests of the city are suffering because the mill owners still refuse to fill orders for lumber. All told, 2500 men are idle, involving a daily payroll of $6000.

A great boom in lumber circles of Hoquiam, a neighboring city, has developed, and mills that have been idle there for many weeks are now in operation and shifts of men are working night and day. The lumber mill employes of Aberdeen have been demanding that the wages of the yardmen be increased from $1.75 to $2 a day. There is a disposition on the part of some to compromise on a slightly smaller increase, but the mill owners are obdurate.
