UNCLE JIM TALKS BACK SASSY LIKE THE HORSE EDITOR

Dear Editor: You horse has made a good kick, but a mule kick would have been better if it had been well aimed. It seems to me that the lawmakers have come to think that the men who foot their bills are only what might be termed the riffraff of the state. It does seem to me that after a man pays to the state his large tax on his farm and city property his receipt might include his fishing license at least, if not a marriage license. Now we don't care so much about those editors with their little pepperbox machinery as we do about taxing our fishing rod, hook and angle worm. They will next tax us when we go out to the pump and wash our faces in the trough on the plea that we are fishing for suckers. It does seem to me that these latter-day lawmakers are getting a little bit dangerous. They seem to be fishing altogether for suckers and catching them too, and are paying no license either. If they are permitted to go on in their opposition to Statement No. 1, I am afraid suckers will be a glut on the market. I never thought I would have to go up to the court house and swear out an affidavit as to my age, when I crossed the plains behind an ox team, and pay for a permit to cast a line on my own land. I am only a Red Hills farmer and the few trout that run up into my place are not under the jurisdiction of the Portland Rod and Gun club.

UNCLE JIM.

THE LIBRARY GIVES PLEASURE AND PROFIT BOTH

Now that summer is with us again, which means more leisure for many, especially those just out of school, do not forget that the public library offers the advantage of good society and her doors are open to all if only the simple etiquette of quiet is observed.

"If you wish to have a good time learn something," is Mr. Davis' suggestion to the wayfarer, but it applies to everyone. Young people will find good handicraft, electricity, and recreation, while the parents may find recreative reading in the current magazines in the reading room or on any topic in which they are interested.

We will publish from time to time during the summer lists of books which will acquaint you with the resources of the library on some of the most practical subjects. The following are the books on gardening:

- The Practical Garden Book, Hunt & Bailey.
- Plant Breeding, Bailey.
- Principles of Vegetable Gardening, Bailey.
- Gardening for Profit, Henderson.
- Tomato Culture, Tracy.
- Bean Culture, Sevey.
- Celery Culture, Beattie.
- The Soil, King.
- Spraying of Plants, Loderman.
- Gardening by Myself, Warner.
- A Woman's Hardy Garden, Bridgeman.
- The Potato Farmer.
- Book of Rarer Vegetables, Wythes & Roberts.
- Children's Gardens, Miller.
- Agriculture for Beginners, Burckett, Stevens & Hill.
