To Drill the Flower Girls—
Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler, who have charge of the amusement features of the Cherry Fair, announce that Mrs. Wheeler will meet the children who will take part in the flower and cherry dances at the rink tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. Mrs. Wheeler says the more the better; but that they should be not under seven or over eleven years of age. Mrs. Wheeler has had a wide experience in drilling theatrical work and has almost a national reputation in this line of work. Those taking part will be drilled daily at 10 a. m. until the fair, and outside of the good work they will do for the fair they will learn much that will prove useful to them. Be sure and have the tots on hand at 10 o'clock.

In Heart of City—
That portion of Boise's second addition to this city, situated north and south between North Mill creek and Belmont street and east and west between Broadway and Cottage street, is now on the market. Streets have been graded and graveled, sidewalks built and many improvements made in the tract. Water mains and electric light wires run through the addition. It is also included in the North Salem sewer district. Building restrictions will go with the deeds, thus insuring a good class of dwellings. A discount will be given to home-builders. Lots sold on the installment plan. An abstract of title will be given each purchaser. It is perhaps unnecessary to state that this addition is close in, as every one knows it is in the very heart of the city. Inquire as to prices, etc., at the Boise home in the addition, 960 Broadway, or J. H. Lauteman, Rooms 1 and 2, Broyman block, or R. P. Boise, Room 22, Broyman block.

Wonderful Horsemanship—
The most remarkable film ever put on in a picture show was exhibited last night at Dreamland—the marvelous Italian cavalry. By a special arrangement this moving picture has been kept over another day and can be seen this evening for the last time. A troop of cavalry goes through hair-raising evolutions, leaping hedges, dashing over rocky embankments, sliding down mountain sides, jumping into rivers and turning summersaults with their riders. Lovers of horses will throng Dreamland tonight.
