MRS. GOULD WAS DRUNK SAY SEVERAL WITNESSES

[United Press Leased Wire.]
New York, June 15.—For the first time since the hearing began, Mrs. Gould broke down and cried this afternoon when Alfred Richards, steward of the Pullman Car company, formerly steward of Castle Gould, testified that he had frequently seen her intoxicated.

Richards said he sent much liquor to Mrs. Gould's room and that at one time she remained in her room for two weeks, consuming during that time seven bottles of brandy. He said that he served cocktails for her in the morning, whiskey at noon and brandy at night.

He related one incident when he said that Katherine rang all the bells in her room and finally set off the burglar alarm. On cross-examination on this point, however, he admitted a discrepancy in the time the incident was supposed to have taken place and was unable to explain his mistake.

Richards said that Mrs. Gould used profane language to employof the castle and once slammed the door of her room in her husband's face, shouting a othe entire household could hear:

"Get out of here, you damned little bound."

He related an incident when she abused workmen at the castle and swore that she was intoxicated at the time.

The plaintiff scored a point when Richards was under cross-examination. The steward swore that he accompanied the couple to Palm Beach and that he did not see Mrs. Gould intoxicated there. This is in direct refutation of Gould's allegation that his wife was intoxicated while there.

Under a rapid fire of questions Richards also admitted that some of the statements he made originally in his affidavit were untrue.

There will be lots of fairies at the Cherry Fair.

CZAR ATTACKED IN HOUSE OF COMMONS

[United Press Leased Wire.]
London, June 15.—Declaring on the floor of the house of commons that Czar Nicholas is an inhuman brute, and that he hopes the Russian monarch will get his "just deserts" when he visits England, William Thorne, a labor representative, created a wild sensation today among his conferees and in the crowded visitors' gallery. He was reprimanded severely by the speaker. Thorne delivered a bitter speech in which he announced his disapproval of the plans that are being made to welcome the czar to England. Consternation reigned upon the floor when he cried:

"I don't care what the others say about him, it is a disgrace to welcome him to our country. I hope he gets his deserts."

JAPS THINK

Washington to interest himself in conditions here. The message sent to Takahira last night reads:

"M. Takahira, Japanese Ambassador, Washington, D. C.—Nippo editors and higher wage officers have been arrested without warrants and their books and papers seized. Officers broke into a Japanese store and without a search warrant dynamited a safe.

"Life and property is in danger and we ask that you investigate matters here at once.

(Signed) "ZOKIUKISEKAI"

The signature on this message means "higher wage association." Leaders of the strike are anxiously awaiting a reply from Ambassador Takahira but late this afternoon no word had been received.
