Sheriff's Force Busy— Sheriff Harry Minto is out in the South end of the county today serving papers. This has been a very busy summer so far for the sheriff's force in the paper-serving line, and they are on the go nearly all the time.

Is Doing Nicely— The little son of Mr. and Mrs. Ardell, who fell from the balcony of the Blue Front lodging house last Monday, seriously injuring his head and shoulders, is getting along very nicely at the Willamette Sanitarium, and the physicians think he is out of danger.

Roberts Not Caught— Up to the present time the escaped convict, Roberts, has not been caught, and it is evident from his complete disappearance that he has been making himself extremely scarce in this vicinity. All the officers in the state have been notified of his escape, however, and it is not likely that he will be free long.

Herve Will Get Well— Wm. Herve, who killed A. Sullivan at Gates, Oregon, is now on his feet at the Salem hospital, and, although he has not improved in health sufficiently to be removed to the county jail, he is able to get about for a short time each day for exercise. Dr. Byrd, the attending physician, has the patient out of all danger now, he thinks, and as soon as Herve is stronger, he will be removed to the jail to await the action of the grand jury, which meets the 6th day of next month.

The Streets Need It— The streets on the north and west of the East School block have been graded and put in decent shape, some thing that should have been done several years ago, as the streets and walks were an infringement on the patent on the famous "rocky road to Jordan."

Placing Derrick Etc.— The workmen on the new steel building on the corner of Commercial and State streets are busy today putting the machinery in place preparatory to beginning construction. One of the largest derricks ever put up in Salem has been shipped here by the Northwest Bridge Works Company, every piece being entirely new. This monster lift will be located on the State street side of the building, where it will pick up the heavy steel girders and other material for the building. The new cement mixer is another piece of machinery never before seen in the Capital City, and is attracting considerable attention. This machine does away with the hard labor of mixing the gravel and cement by hand and shovel, there being nothing to do but feed the machine and carry away the concrete from the spout.

Circuit Court Matters— Judge Galloway, of department No. 2 of the circuit court, is holding court at Albany now, after which he will return to this city Monday to open court. Before the judge left on his circuit the following decrees were rendered: George Zollner vs. Ella Zollner and Peter Zollner, suit to foreclose mortgage. On default of the defendant, a decree was entered for plaintiff as prayed for in the complaint. Attorneys L. J. Adams and Geo. G. Bingham appeared for the plaintiff. U'Ren, et al., vs. Secretary of State, a mandamus proceeding to compel the secretary of state to file a referendum petition against Judge Wm. Gatens was overruled. The divorce of Erna Myrtle Tucker vs. Chester A. Tucker was also brought up during the last term of court, and Judge Galloway ordered that the defendant in the case pay the sum of $100 on or before ten days after June 14 for the expenses of the suit. Frank Holmes appears for the plaintiff and Kaiser & Pogue for the defendant. All the testimony taken in the injunction case of Edward A. Dunagan vs. Amer. Wood and Judge Galloway took the matter under advisement. Attorneys Kaiser and Pogue appear for the plaintiff and G. G. Bingham for the defendant.

To Put on Observation Car— In keeping with the many improvements and advancement of Salem, the Portland Railway, Light and Power Company is installing an up-to-date observation car on their local street car system to be operated over every piece of the 20 miles or more of track in the city and suburbs, the first trip to be made during the Cherry Fair. The observation car will be open throughout and will be decorated in the most appropriate manner representing the Cherry City. The woodwork is to be painted all colors of the cherry and the running gear will probably be painted green. The inside of the car will be fitted out comfortably in order that the sight-seers will be free to enjoy the trips without becoming tired. Walter Thompson, a street car operator now employed on the local cars, will do nothing else but explain the city, new houses and other places of interest to the patrons. Mr. Thompson is an old resident of Salem and is familiar with every part of the town and outlying districts. A fare of 25 cents will be charged for the round trip.

Some Object to Ferryman— Will Scott, of Independence, called on County Judge Bushey today and stated that there was an attempt being made in that locality to oust the present ferryman who runs the ferry boat at Independence for the counties of Marion and Polk, and that notwithstanding the fact that a new ferryman being small, there might be a tendency to discharge the present operator.

Court street will have its face massaged next. It needs the wrinkles taken out.

TO MAKE A PENAL COLONY EGYPT WILL PLACE HABITUAL CRIMINALS ON AN OASIS

[United Press Leased Wire.] Cairo, Egypt, June 17.—The ministers of finance and interior are on a tour of inspection today, by way of the Farshut railroad, which the Egyptian government is about to acquire, of the oases of Kharga and Dakela in the heart of the desert, with a view of making them penal settlements. This action will be taken under a law to be enacted providing for the perpetual segregation of habitual criminals. The cases will make ideal spots for this purpose, as the only means of communication between them and the outside world is by the Farshut railroad, and attempts to escape by any other way would be nothing short of suicide by thirst and starvation. Promoters of the plan think the exiles' labor can be profitably used in developing the oasis and in the irrigation of nearby desert tracts. The "habitual criminal" evil has become extremely serious in Egypt, a fraction more than 54 per cent of the convicts released since 1904 having been reported by the police as living by dishonest means at present. The proposed new law, which is certain of enactment, is now being drawn. The power of imposing sentence to exile will be vested in a committee in each province. The committee will consist of a governor, a jury, a member of the assembly and two private citizens, chosen by the other members of the committee.

RUSSIAN TORPEDO (Continued from Page 1) The czar was accompanied by Minister of Foreign Affairs Iswolsky and others of his chief advisors. Foreign Minister Von Schoen headed the party of German diplomats who sat with the Kaiser.

Report Not Confirmed. Copenhagen, June 17.—Reports that a Russian torpedo boat fired on the British steamer Northburg have not been confirmed here.

The Flower Dances.— Mrs. Wheeler hived a swarm of buzzing little girls, Salem's especial pride, at the rink yesterday, and proceeded to give them some preliminary instruction as to the coming flower and cherry dances, to be given by them on the occasion of the cherry fair. Mrs. Wheeler is much pleased with the little folks, and thinks they are the very finest material she ever had to work with, and that is saying a great deal. Hereafter the drill hour will be at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, and it is urged that every one of the little folks be on hand promptly.

Presbyterian Social.— There will be a social at First Presbyterian church on Friday evening in honor of the orchestra. All members of the church and congregation invited.

MONEY LOANED On Real Estate LONG TIME, EASY PAYMENTS Reliable Representatives wanted THE JACKSON LOAN & TRUST CO. Jackson, Miss. Fort Worth, Texas

L. Ford, sometimes called 'General,' on this stand, and he could tell, for he was the man who paid Abe Ruef. Tery L. Ford saw Ford's hands pay Ruef the money. Ford was the sole witness to that payment of money to Ruef. Of course, they defy us—of course they defy us. Why shouldn't they, when they know, as we know, that Tery L. Ford is the only man who can testify that he saw the bribe paid?

"I partake of the insults offered to these ladies of the League of Justice by A. A. Moore. I partake of them, and so should every man who wants to see justice done. If he does not, he is unfit to be an American citizen.

"This is not the first republic the world has ever known. Other republics have fallen, every one in history has fallen, and this one will fall just as sure as its form of government is attacked by people in it and its laws destroyed by wealth, greed and corruption. If the corruption inside a republic that destroys, not the attack from the outside."

Here Henevy made his remarks about George Washington, and his own political ambitions. Continuing along that line, he said: "I do not want to be district attorney. I didn't want to make the sacrifice. I gained the ambition after I heard Helms' tale, and got an insight into the terrible crimes that have been committed to keep this defendant out of the penitentiary. Crimes of jury-fixing, bribery and dealing. And I'll fulfill that ambition, if God permits me to live.

"They say Spreckels, Henevy and Phelan wanted to gain political control, and that there would be a fight over the United States senatorship. They forgot that it takes two to make a fight. There won't be any fight over the United States senatorship. Anybody can be United States senator, if they want to—so far as I am concerned. If we want political power, why didn't we keep it when we had the big stick over the supervisors. Why didn't we get out and turn over the government of the city to Dr. Taylor and give him full power to appoint his own board of supervisors and his own commissioners. They can't show where Dr. Taylor put a single man to work for us. We could have made Spreckels mayor, we could have made James D. Phelan mayor, and we wouldn't have been far off, for he was the best mayor San Francisco ever had.

"They talked about the $23,000 I got for office expenses. Where was the money coming from to pay all the stenographers and clerks who prepared indictments; to furnish typewriters supplies and the like. Francis J. Henevy should have paid it, eh? Francis J. Henevy wasn't sacrificing enough when he sacrificed his business, which was as good as any possessed by those men (pointing to Calhoun's lawyers). Henevy not only gave his time, but he should pay the expenses incurred by the prosecution. I wish that I had been able to do it. Rudolph Spreckels would never have paid a dollar for anything.

"Are you going to stand for the abuse they have heaped on me? They say I have ambitions. Yes, I have ambitions. I have an ambition to conduct this case in such a manner that every young man in San Francisco and in the state will arouse himself and stand for the right."

Henevy stopped speaking at 12:30 and continued this afternoon. He gives no intimation of how long he will talk, but will probably keep up until tomorrow.

Supt. Ackerman has called a convention of county superintendents to meet at Salem June 28.
