Good Blood

Means good health, and Hood's Sarsaparilla has an unapproached record as a blood-purifier. It effects its wonderful cures, not simply because it contains sarsaparilla but because it combines the utmost remedial values of more than 20 different ingredients. There is no real substitute for it. If urged to buy any preparation said to be "just as good" you may be sure it is inferior, costs less to make, and yields the dealer a larger profit. Get Hood's Sarsaparilla today. In usual liquid form or in chocolate tablets known as Sarsatabs.

New Time Card—
The Oregon Electric is arranging a new time card to operate its trains, to meet the changes in the S. P. Co's schedules.

Soldiers' Home All Right—
Mr. A. Amerman, who is here from Roseburg, and who is an inmate of the soldiers' home at that place, says that there is no shortage at that institution; that the home is well kept, and everything possible is provided for the care and comfort of the old soldiers. There are a few cranks, of course, who would complain, as did the Hebrews about manna from heaven, but, outside of these, the inmates are all satisfied, both with what the government does for them, and with the management of the home.

A Sensible Game Warden—
The problem of issuing anglers' licenses to boys under 15 years of age and to women, has again been revived by the officials. State Game Warden R. O. Steven, on, who is located at Forest Grove, has sent a communication to County Clerk Allen, in which he states that, owing to the law being intended to exempt women and children under 15 years of age from paying for anglers' licenses, he has issued instructions to all his deputies not to molest or prosecute any woman or boy who is detected fishing without a license. These new instructions, given out by the state game warden, will probably do away with the system the county clerks now have of issuing licenses compelling the women and boys to pay 25 cents for the issuance of an affidavit, and 10 cents for the filing of the papers.

Tramps With Money—
Chief Gibson of the local police force is doing a fine business in the traveling hobo line now that the Seattle expo-tion has started, and there is not a night passes that fails to bring in from two to a dozen knights of the box-car. Before the big show started up in Seattle the trains through Salem very seldom returned to the city bustle with a subject, but at present a good patrol wagon would be handy. These fellows, however, are not the sort who are always bent on mischief, and many of them are common working men from different points of California, making their way to see the fair without spending all their hard-earned dollars for railroad fare, many of them having quite snug sums of money. Chief Gibson does not detain them long unless he has an occasion to look further into their history, and the first thing in the morning the roll is called and the "night sleepers" are sent on their respective ways, some going north and some returning to the land of oranges and sandwiches.

The Stranger Objected—
A man who had evidently been the recipient of a month's wages, and bent upon getting rid of it as fast as possible, was taken to the city lock-up this morning by Officers Gibson and Murphy for raising a row on the corner of State and High streets. When the police found the tipsy individual, he was talking in a loud voice, and the language he was using is not the kind found in Baxter's hints to the unconverted. The fellow's vulgar talk did not cease until the two guardians of the law stepped up and placed him under arrest, as it made him all the more determined to raise a quarrel, and he began to fight. The police dealt with him in the gentlest manner possible until they got him a block toward the jail, when the now enraged man began a lively resistance, and the police were compelled to take him down on the sidewalk and put the "dabys" on him. This put a stop to the fight and tended to somewhat cool him off. He was then escorted to the jail and locked up in one of the dark rooms, where he can develop a more amicable mood. The police have had very few cases of this kind during the past few years, and the struggle between officers and fighting men drew quite a crowd. Judge Moore's will look into Mr. John Doe's case about next Monday morning, at which time he can have an opportunity of explaining his unsocial refusal to accept the officers' invitation to visit the city building.

Baseball Tomorrow—
Tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 the fight for supremacy will be on between the Fairmount baseball team and the team from the Third regiment of the Oregon National Guard at Portland at the Asylum avenue ball park. The manager of the Fairmount club, Waldo Miller, has decided to put the little lightning jerker Dae in the box against the gallant boys in blue tomorrow, with the anticipation that Dae will make things hum. Dae is certainly the pitcher that will put the Third regiment team in the clouds and Fairmount should win tomorrow, making an even break with the Portland team.

HIS FRIENDS SWOOP DOWN ON COL. PAGE

The beautiful country home of Col. L. K. Page, near Chemawa, was the scene of a merry picnic on last Friday, when the Ladies' Aid society of the First Presbyterian church and their friends, numbering about sixty in all, descended on the place in biggies, automobiles and the Oregon Electric cars, those in the latter being conveyed to the house in a hay rack, sent to the station to meet them.

A large new barn in course of construction had been transformed into a lovely banquet hall by the use of evergreen boughs and flowers and two large tables. These were soon loaded with the lunches brought by the ladies and the many delicacies provided by Mrs. Page and Miss Mabel Page, consisting of cottage cheese, fresh buttermilk, cream from the fine Jersey cows, and luscious strawberries.

After lunch the younger (?) set, led by Rev. H. T. Babcock and Mrs. Boothby, had some merry games, and the remainder of the time was spent in seeing the fine horses, cattle, chickens and other interesting features of this model farm.

Not content with the sumptuous lunch served at noon our hostess caused the party in at 5 p. m. to partake of ice cream and cake to which all did justice, though declaring a short time before they could not eat another morsel.

All too soon the rays of the setting sun warned us that our pleasant day was over. Reluctantly we bade adieu to Col. Page and his genial wife and daughter and left for our homes, but pleasant memories will linger with us of the happy hours spent with our kind friends in their beautiful home. NEMO.

BONE OF LAMB'S LEG GRAFTED ON HIS OWN

Chicago, June 25.—With the leg bone of an Illinois lamb grafted to the joint from which formerly depended his own right tibia, Doc Carl Townsend is the object of unusual interest among medical men in this city.

Townsend was injured in an elevator accident, and it was thought his right leg would have to be amputated. Dr. Cassius Rodgers called in consultation, suggested the rare operation of grafting the bone of a lamb—an operation never before attempted in America, and only two or three times before in surgical history. Townsend bore the operation well and his complete recovery is predicted.

WON SHOOTING MATCH WITH TWENTY STRAIGHT

Chicago, June 26.—Fred Shattuck, of Columbus, today won the annual grand American trapshooting handicap, with John R. Livingstone, Springfield, Ala., a close second. The two men were tied at the conclusion of yesterday's event, and the match today was to determine the championship. Shattuck broke 26 straight birds, Livingstone getting a score of 19 straight before missing.

WEATHER BUREAU SAYS COOLER WEATHER

Washington, June 26.—The United States weather bureau issued a forecast today predicting cooler weather for the section of the country lying east of the Rocky mountains.

TWELVE DEAD

Francisco Sabatini, slashed himself with a razor early today. He lies at the hospital, and probably will die before night. The man created a panic in the street before his home when he appeared in the doorway, brandishing the razor and emitting maniacal screams.

Yesterday's awful record was 12 additional deaths and more than 50 prostrations. Many of those overcome will die. Thousands again slept on the sidewalk last night, and the suffering was intense in every section of the city.

A life-giving rain, which fell in the early morning, has moderated the temperature slightly. Many persons rushed from their beds to stand in the downpour.

BERNARD LAGAN WILL RECOVER

[United Press Leased Wire.]
San Francisco, June 26.—Bernard Lagan, who was shot by Police Captain Michael Conboy while the latter was intoxicated, will recover from his wounds, according to the belief of his physician, Dr. Wallace Terry. His condition today is much improved. He is able to speak, but cannot move his lower limbs. Terry is of the opinion that he will be a life-long paralytic.

Proceedings against Captain Conboy will be filed with the police commissioner Thursday.
