MESSINA AGAIN SHAKEN

EARTHQUAKE TUMBLES DOWN THE WALLS LEFT STANDING BY BIG QUAKE LAST DECEMBER—THOUSANDS FLEE FROM THEIR TEMPORARY HOMES.

WORSE THAN FIRST

Many Wooden Buildings Withstood Shocks But Everything Else Was Levelled to the Ground—Shocks Were Vertical and Both Heavy—Reggio Also Badly Shaken.

Messina, Italy, July 1.—Two severe earthquakes today shook down all standing walls in the ruins of this devastated city, and wrecked a number of shelter houses which were erected after the great temblor which razed Messina last December.

The shocks today spread consternation among the populace, and thousands fled from the city. Many persons were hit by falling debris and injured, but none of them are expected to die. Both shocks were heavy, one lasting 10 seconds.

The shocks were felt also very severely at Reggio, where nearly every standing wall was demolished.

The shocks were vertical and were accompanied by a deep rumbling.

Men present December 28 say the shocks today were of far greater intensity than the one which devastated the city.

Many wooden buildings withstood the shocks today, but every other building was razed.

THEY SURELY SHOULD HAVE RIGHT TO VOTE

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Seattle, July 1.—Following an acrimonious session that would rival a ward political caucus, at which more than 200 delegates left the state convention of the Washington Equal Suffrage association last night, a bitter fight was waged today before the national board of women suffragists, which at times represented a veritable pandemonium of disorder and confusion.

At the outset of the session this morning the national board placed Mrs. Emily Smith DeVoe, the re-elected state president and leader of the controlling faction "on the carpet." That she did not have an enjoyable time during the catechism was clearly evident when she emerged from the conference.

In the meantime the delegates, mainly those from Spokane, who had been denied admission to the state convention, held a meeting in a hall opposite and there waited for a verdict by the national board upon the question of their status.

The national board at 1:30 this afternoon decided that more time was required to consider the dispute and ordered the state board to meet a delegation from the bolting suffragists at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at which time a verdict will be rendered.

The bolting delegation to the national convention will this afternoon appear before that body and demand that they be seated.

MARRIED IN THE AIR AND BY WIRELESS

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Seattle, July 1.—Margaret Annie Hall of Lewiston, Mont., and Carey A. Reilly of Seattle will be married not only far above the fair grounds in a balloon, but by wireless telephone, the officiating minister standing on the ground. The ceremony will be a feature on Railroad Men's day.

YALE IS BEATEN BY HARVARD

CRIMSON HAD THE BLUE BEATEN FROM THE START AND WITH SIX LENGTHS OF OPEN WATER BETWEEN THE SHELLS ROWED LEISURELY HOME.

WON BOTH EVENTS

In the Freshman Race the Crimson Babies Put It All Over Yale—Great Crowds Were Present, Estimated at 40,000, But the Time Was Rather Slow.

(By W. W. Hawkins, Pacific Coast Manager United Press.)
New London, Conn., July 1.—Harvard's four-oared crew drew first blood from Yale today, capturing its race handily by six lengths. Both crews took the water together at the start but within the first eighth mile the crimson quartet had placed clear water between its shell and the Yale craft.

Harvard maintained practically the same stroke throughout the racing, sending it up only when Yale made her single challenge at the mile post. From this point on the one never was within striking distance, and the Harvard shell increased its lead until six lengths of open water separated the rivals.

Harvard crossed the finish line rowing easily, and with plenty in reserve.

JOHN NOVAK CAUGHT

ACCUSED OF MURDERING MISS CAROLINE BASH IN SAN FRANCISCO YESTERDAY FOLLOWING DISPUTE OVER KEEPING OUT SMALL SUM FROM PAY CHECK.

NOVAK DID NOT HIDE

Murder Surrounded by Mystery—The Murdered Girl Had Just Written Note to a Friend, Her Last Words Being "I Am Still Alive"—Novak Does Not Talk.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
San Francisco, July 1.—John Novak, accused of the murder of Miss Caroline Bash, in the office of Gray Bros., in the Wells Fargo building yesterday afternoon, was arrested today.

Novak was taken into custody at the offices of W. D. Ewer, an employment agent, at 612 Clay street, after he had signed a contract to ship to Reno, Nev., as a laborer.

When the man appeared at Ewer's office, he gave his own name and said he wanted employment. Ewer signed him for the Reno job, and then telephoned to the police.

Novak did not suspect that he was in danger of arrest, and was allowed to go to his lodging for his blankets. When he returned two officers were waiting for him, and took him to the police station.

As soon as he arrived at headquarters the suspect was closeted with detectives, who at once set to work to obtain a confession from him.

The authorities have only circumstantial evidence against Novak, but believe they can make a strong case against him.

Miss Bash was shot through the head and instantly killed yesterday afternoon in her office, at the headquarters of Gray Bros., contracting firm.

No other employee of the concern was in the room at the time, but others in adjoining offices had heard Novak a short time before the shot was fired, disputing with the girl over a difference of $5.65 on his pay check, received as a laborer in the Polio Pedro quarry. After the shot was fired persons who rushed into the room found only the girl's dead body, the assassin having escaped.

Novak had been seen leaving the building hurriedly, and persons near the doorway said they saw a man resembling the laborer rush into the street with a smoking revolver in his hand.

The detective force of Wells Fargo Company went to work on the case without delay, and assisted the police throughout the night while a search of the city was being made. No trace of the man was found by the officers until the employment agent telephoned to headquarters this morning.

Novak's strange action in walking calmly into the hands of the law has puzzled the police.

Novak does not appear to be insane, and the officers are inclined to believe that a sane man guilty of such an atrocious crime would not have pursued the course taken by the suspected laborer.

Novak excitedly denied his guilt when informed of the crime of which he was accused. He is an Austrian, of slight build and retiring in manner. He admitted to the police that he had a dispute with the girl at Gray Bros. yesterday afternoon, but said that he knew nothing of her death, until he heard of it in the employment agency this morning.

If the police abandon their theory that Novak is guilty of the crime, the murder of Miss Bash will be a deep mystery. No other person has been suspected, and the detectives do not know which way to turn. Search has been commenced for a possible motive some other person might have for the crime, but little success has attended the efforts of the authorities in that direction.

BURIED IN CAVE-IN, BODY FOUND TODAY

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Los Angeles, Cal., July 1.—Buried in a cave-in and killed—and that in sight of many men working on a new building being erected by F. W. Braun, at 906 East Third street, some time yesterday afternoon, and his body not discovered until today, was the fate of Sam Hiskin, whose body was unearthed by his fellow laborers when they began work this morning.

An unusual explanation of the man's death is given by Contractor J. J. Healey. He claimed that Hiskin was inexperienced, and that on Tuesday evening he told Hiskin and his other employees at work on the sewer not to work today, but to report as usual Thursday morning.

It is claimed by Healey that Hiskin came back to work, contrary to orders, yesterday afternoon, and that being experienced, caused the cave-in that resulted in his death.

DIAMOND THIEF IS BETRAYED BY DOG

(United Press Leased Wire.)
San Jose, Cal., July 1.—His capture, brought about by his pet fox terrier, Frank Bilderan confessed to the police today that he is guilty of the Dougherty diamond robbery in this city in 1908, and that he also stole several hundred dollars worth of jewelry during the process of a dance at the Hotel Vendome several months ago. The confession of Bilderan dispels the theory held by the police that a clever society raffles was working among the "400" of this city.

A small fox terrier that always was seen about the scenes of the mysterious robberies, was Bilderan's undoing. The little dog was seen in the Vendome the night the jewels were stolen, and when he appeared he was followed to Bilderan's home. When arrested yesterday the dog followed him to police headquarters.

DOLLAR COULD NOT PAY THE DOLLAR BILL

(United Press Leased Wire.)
San Francisco, July 1.—R. Stanley Dollar, manager of the Dollar Steamship Company, was granted a divorce today from his wife, Hazel. Judge Van Nestland issued the decree.

Dollar alleged desertion and told the court that he could not afford to pay the bills run up by his wife.

Captain Raymond Dead.

Des Moines, Ia., July 1.—Captain John C. Raymond, who was shot by Corporal Crabtree at Fort Des Moines three weeks ago, died today. Crabtree shot the captain after the officer and rebuked him.

GAMBLE OFF RICE CROPS AND THEN REFUSE TO HANDLE RICE FOR TRADERS

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Shanghai, July 1.—An attempt by the governor of Cochin, China, to abolish gambling in that colony has indirectly created a condition which today threatens to develop a rice famine in one of the richest rice distributing countries in the world.

Several months ago the French government forbade gambling in Tonquin and Annam. The Annamites had become such inveterate gamblers and were such poor players that Chinese gamblers had not only won over all of this year's crop but the proposed crops of next year.

Many of the natives were starving as the result of this condition and the government intervened.

Angered by their losses and inability to win any of their money back, the natives called a boycott on the Chinese merchants and refused to handle the rice in the granaries at Saigon. This boycott is still maintained and conditions are serious.

The Chinese merchants are unable to get laborers to husk the rice or transport it to steamers, but are holding out in the hope of breaking the boycott. This is affecting the importation in the Philippines and southern China.

The average exportation of rice from Cochin China is 1,000,000 tons annually, representing a value from $25,000,000 to $30,000,000. About half of this is shipped to Hongkong for distribution in southern China, one-fourth to the Philippines, and the remainder to Singapore.

INDICT SUGAR COMPANY

CHARGED WITH CONSPIRACY IN RESTRAINT OF TRADE AND WITH VIOLATION OF THE ANTI-TRUST LAW—EIGHT OF ITS OFFICERS ALSO INDICTED.

FOURTEEN COUNTS

Says the American Sugar Company Controls 90 Per Cent of the Sugar Business in the United States and Aimed to Ruin the Pennsylvania Company to Crush Competition.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
New York, July 1.—Charging conspiracy in restraint of trade and manufacturing and shipping of refined sugar and violation of the anti-trust law, the federal grand jury today presented in the criminal branch of the United States court indictments returned in the American Sugar Refining Company case. The indictments are against the American Sugar Refining Company, W. B. Thomas, Arthur Donner, C. H. Senf, John Mayer, G. H. Fransen, John H. Parsons, T. B. Harned and E. Kissel.

All except Harned and Kissel were represented in court by Attorney Thomas McIlveen. Harned was not represented by counsel and J. D. Falcher appeared for Kissel. Assistant United States District Attorney Grimm asked the accused to appear to plead and Judge Hand set the cases for hearing next Tuesday. At that time the indicted men must appear in court. No arrangements for bail have been made as yet.

The indictments consist of 14 counts against each defendant and the accusations are made individually and collectively.

Thomas is president of the American Sugar Refining Company; Donner, Senef, Mayer, Frazer and Parsons are directors of the same corporation; Harned is the attorney for Adolph Segal through whom the trust negotiated the loan which resulted in the closing of the Pennsylvania Sugar Company's plant, and Kissel is a New York broker who acted as agent for the trust in making the loan.

The defendants are charged with conspiring to prevent the Pennsylvania Sugar Company from competing with the trust. This was accomplished, it is alleged, through a loan of $1,250,000 to Segal, secured by 25,000 shares of the Pennsylvania company stock. This stock gave the trust the voting control of the concern, which it is alleged to have put out of business.

Today's indictment is the most voluminous document recorded by the federal grand jury in years. It charges the American Sugar Refining Company with controlling 90 per cent of the sugar business in the United States and that it aimed to ruin the Pennsylvania company for the purpose of crushing competition.

It is alleged in the indictment that the defendants know that the closing of the Pennsylvania plant would prevent Segal from repaying the loan and give them complete control of the independent company's affairs. They used every means, it is alleged, to prevent the repayment of the money and refused to accept payment of obligations of Segal at maturity after they were in control of the Pennsylvania plant.

SEVEN THOUSAND STRIKE AT PITTSBURGH

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Pittsburg, Pa., July 1.—Seven thousand union men are on strike today, and 15 plants belonging to the United States Steel corporation are closed, following the issuance of a strike order by the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin workers.

The union men are determined to overthrow the steel corporation's "open shop" policy.

The tie-up is complete, and there has been no attempt to open the mills with non-union workmen.

WHEAT MARKET QUIET CROP REPORTS GOOD

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Chicago, July 1.—The wheat market was devoid of sensational or even stirring features today, the holiday atmosphere having already begun to make itself felt among speculators. The local crowd was selling some, but some of those who disposed of September in the morning bought back again later in the day. Representatives from Roumania indicate that crop prospects there are good. Southeastern Nebraska promises a good crop. The acreage is not large, but the grain is good and well filled.
