

TWICE OVER THE FENCE GOOD BATTING AT LAST NIGHT'S GAME

Last night there was sure some cavorting about on the Willamette field when the Bookkeepers and the Professional baseball teams sailed into each other as busy as a bee after a freckle on a kid's leg. The Bookkeepers acted most shamefully during the six innings and simply cut away from the Professionals by defeating them by a score of 5 to 2.

The Professional men are out today with a big stick with which to wallop George Snyder over the forelock a few times for his unbecoming conduct in last evening's game. This Mr. Snyder ruffled up more horsehide last night during his two times as bat than has been done in Salem for many years. Some one must have told Snyder he didn't look well on the ball field in citizen's dress, as his big form was squeezed into a suit last night, notwithstanding the cloth showed many signs of suffering. Mr. Snyder did look very ballified and cude when he pranced about the field. This was not the main feature which George stirred up. He apparently lost all the skittish feeling he has been subject to heretofore when he came to bat, and the manner in which he grabbed the stick and stepped into the batting box made his former associates in baseball wonder. Snyder gave a hitch to his two-by-two trousers, kicked a few clods of dirt away and the first ball thrown over by Pitcher Hatch received such a bump that for a few minutes the spectators thought Snyder would run a lung out around the bases, but after George had circled the bags once and was starting around to score the second time the fielders picked up the ball somewhere in the vicinity of the postoffice grounds and the game was resumed. Even this home run did not satisfy George. He laid into another one of Hatch's curves and took the run-away route again and the way he split the wind without looking back was like the Shasta limited two hours behind time. George said that he thought he heard the seams on that ball groan when he swatted it, but afterwards he decided it was the seams around his waistband.

No use talking, Snyder and Jim Jeffries are the "champeen" hitters, only Snyder is a little more certain in his hits.

"Doc" Riggs, first baseman for the Professionals, also cut loose at the ball last night in a wicked manner, and it happened that the tall man's stick met the hide right on the nose. There was some marathon running (men and "Doc" was the principal figure. After the ball had cleared the fence Mr. Riggs lit out and stop watches appeared in several hands. The long running gear of the pharmacy artist moved surprisingly fast and after "Doc" had run around the four bases and was looking for another to stick his toeplate on, the ball came wearily over the fence and Pitcher Forbes eyed it sourly for a time before the game went on.

The game was full of life and fun and Umpire Abbey did the bossing job in the right spirit.

RIVER STEAMER BURNS

[United Press Leased Wire.] Stockton, Cal., July 1.—The California Transportation steamer Isleton, formerly used between San Francisco and Sacramento, is burning to the waterline on Stockton channel this morning. The fire broke out in the oil room and underneath the engine room shortly after 9 o'clock, from a leak in a pipe. The firemen battled desperately for over half an hour, but were unable to reach the seat of the difficulty, owing to the great volume of black oil smoke which poured from the hold.

Finally, the flames broke out on the deck and soon the entire steamer was a mass of seething flames. Then the work of the firemen was largely turned to saving the steamer sheds nearby from destruction.

The Isleton arrived this morning at 7 o'clock from San Francisco. Her cargo had been unloaded, and the crew were preparing to remove her to one of the mills to take on a cargo for the return trip this afternoon. The loss will reach into many thousands of dollars.

The Isleton was a handsome, two-deck single-tack passenger steamer, which was built six years ago for the old Dutch Company. Manager J. W. Glenn, of the California Transportation Company, estimates that the loss will be over $100,000. The steamer cost $65,000, and the furnishings and fixtures will increase the loss.

At noon the fire was still burning fiercely. The boat has been cast adrift, to save the steamboat sheds and offices, and an attempt is being made to scuttle the steamer, so as to save the hull, if possible.

While fighting the flames, Assistant Fire Chief Murphy and Hoeman Shaw fell into the channel and narrowly escaped drowning. The tug Sa ndoquin has been brought to the scene to assist in fighting the blaze. Stockton's entire fire department has been called out.

CASE MAY SHOW UP OTHERS

Chicago, July 1.—Although Ella Gingles, a pretty Irish lacemaker, who figured sensationally in a kidnaping case here recently, is arrested on a trivial charge, Attorney O'Donnell, for Miss Gingles, intimates that the case will develop sensations, and intimates that the names of prominent Chicagoans will be dragged into it.

Miss Gingles is charged with stealing lace from a milliner by whom she was employed. The charge was brought by Mrs. Agnes Barrette, Miss Cecilia Kenyon, who was the principal witness against her, died recently at a local hotel, and it is said that a prominent Chicago politician was with her when she died. O'Donnell declared that his client was the victim of a conspiracy, and that her troubles arose over an attempt to force her into a life against which her womanhood rebelled.

"We are going to let Miss Gingles tell her own story," said Mr. O'Donnell, "and when she finishes that we will have stirred up something. Of course, the matters pertaining to her injury in the Wellington Hotel are not pertinent to this hearing, but she will tell the story of the first night at the Wellington, the night in January, when the Barrette woman and the Kenyon woman went to her room on the North Side, ostensible to search it for their laces, and took her back to the Wellington Hotel with them.

"It will be something to hear when she tells what happened to her that night, and how she was turned out into the streets at midnight, without even carfare."

A few months later the Wellington Hotel incident occurred. Miss Gingles told of having been kidnaped by a man and woman in a cab and decoyed to the bathroom, where she was found bound to a bathtub.

MAYOR REMOVES POLICE COMMISSIONER

New York, July 1.—Commissioner of Police Bingham was removed from office by Mayor McCallahan and Deputy Commissioner Baker placed in charge of the office. Bingham was removed because of his refusal or failure to fulfill the mayor's orders regarding the reduction and dismissal of several officials.

Before Bingham was ousted from office, Deputy Commissioner Hansen, whose dismissal the mayor had demanded, handed his resignation to his chief. In doing so he declared his assurance that Bingham would not have dismissed him, and that therefore he felt it his duty to step out of office.

General Theodore Alfred Bingham was appointed commissioner of police January 1, 1906. President Roosevelt took a deep interest in him and is said to have been instrumental in placing him in the position. He was superintendent of buildings and grounds at Washington from 1897 to 1903, and before that was military attaché at the Berlin and Rome legations. He is a graduate of West Point, and has a Yale degree of A. M. He retired from the army on the day he took the office from which he was dismissed today.

MANY SALEMITES WILL VISIT DALLAS

Dallas will hold a big celebration on the Fourth of July, and invitations have been received by many Salem people to attend. The result is a good bunch of our younger citizens will go over to Polk county's capital. Those who wish to go out in their automobiles are especially interested in the Dallas celebration, as it is a good trip for them to make.

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, for Marion County, Department No. 2. Grace G. Pierce and Josie L. Slater, plaintiffs, versus Nellie Squires, E. G. Lichtenthaler, George C. Lichtenthaler, Jacob B. Lichtenthaler, Catherine Lichtenthaler, Mary Murry, Kate Race, Cora Hull and Rena Stephens, defendants.

To the above named defendants, Jacob Lichtenthaler, Nellie Squires, Mary Murry, Kate Race, Cora Hull and Rena Stephens:

In the name of the State of Oregon, you and each of you are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed in the above entitled suit on or before August 12, 1909, and if you fail to so answer, for want thereof, the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded therein, viz: a decree that plaintiffs are the absolute and sole owners in fee simple of all of the hereinafter described real property, situated in Marion county, Oregon, and that you and each of you have no interest or estate whatever in said real property nor any part thereof; which said real property is bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a point in the center of Mill Creek where the center of Capital street, Salem, Oregon, intersects the center of said Mill Creek, and running thence north 19 degrees, 36 minutes east along the center of the extension of Capital street, 29.71 chains to the center of a county road usually called Market street; thence north 70 degrees, 30 minutes west, along center of said county road 15.90 chains to a point on the west boundary line of the donation land claim of Josiah L. Parrish and wife, in township 7 south of range 3 west of the Willamette Meridian; thence south 19 degrees, 30 minutes west, 16.42 chains to the southwest corner of the most westerly projection of said donation land claim; thence south 70 degrees, 45 minutes east, 7.61 chains to an angle in said donation claim; thence south 19 degrees west to the center of Mill Creek; thence up the center of said creek, with its meanderings, to the place of beginning. You are further notified that this summons is served upon you by publication by order of Hon. W. M. Bushey, as judge of the county court of the State of Oregon, for Marion county, made June 29, 1909, and filed in the above entitled court, and by which order he requires that this summons be published once a week for six weeks in the Weekly Capital Journal, of Salem, Oregon. And you are further notified that the first publication of this summons, by virtue of said order, is made on July 1, 1909, and that the last publication thereof will be on August 12, 1909.

S. T. RICHARDSON, Attorney for Plaintiffs, 7-17twky

Notice of Final Settlement. Notice is hereby given that the undersigned, co-executors of the estate of W. H. Baker, deceased, have filed their final account in said estate, and that the county court of Marion county, Oregon, has set the same for hearing on the 9th day of August, 1909, at 11 a. m., of said day at the county court house in the city of Salem, Marion county, Oregon, as the time and place for hearing any objections that may be made thereto. Dated at Salem, Oregon, this 1st day of July, 1909.

IDA S. BAKER, W. R. BAKER, Co-executors of the Estate of W. H. Baker, Deceased.

LOOKING FOR WIFE ALSO HIS CLOTHES

San Francisco, July 1.—After selling nearly all her husband's clothes to a second-hand dealer, Mrs. A. F. Harvey, blonde and pretty, decamped for Seattle on the steamer Raleigh, according to the story Harvey told the police today. He asked the authorities to assist him to find his wife and the missing clothes.

MINERS STRIKE AT ELY, NEVADA

[United Press Leased Wire.] Ely, Nev., July 1.—Four hundred miners employed by the Cumberland company of this city struck today, the men demand $3.50 a day for underground men and $4 a day for wet shaft workmen.

The Cumberland employees up to today were working under a contract system. They claimed that under the terms of their agreements, it was impossible to earn a living wage. It was thought the strike would be settled by this evening.

No matter what you happen to believe, your deeds are going to attract a good deal more attention than your words.
