RICKSHAW BOYS GO ON STRIKE

Crowds Gather at Nairobi to See Teddy, But Have to Foot It.

[United Press Leased Wire.] Nairobi, July 5.—Nairobi is in the grip of a rickshaw strike. It started the very day of Colonel Roosevelt's arrival, and has been growing more and more effective ever since, until now every means of passenger transportation in the town is completely tied up.

The situation is really serious. The heat is such as to render walking practically impossible for Europeans, there are no street car tracks, and no cars to run on them if there were, and horses cannot be kept because of "horse sickness."

As already stated, the time selected by the rickshaw boys for their walk out was brilliantly opportune. Settlers are swarming into town from every direction to see Colonel Roosevelt, Kermit, and the three naturalists who accompanied them, and to attend the reception given in their honor by the governor.

Every rickshaw in town had been engaged for days in advance, because the government house is far up on the hill above Nairobi, and it is hot and hard work getting to it.

The strike was not announced until the last moment. There was an instant rush for the few available carriages. These, which would ordinarily have commanded but $4 or $5 for the evening, brought anywhere from $10 to $20. Even at these rates the supply was quickly exhausted.

A picturesque sight was therefore witnessed by the moonlight of the reception evening—women in ball dresses and light shoes perched in donkey carts and market wagons, and men in dress suits astride diminutive mules or on second-hand bicycles, rented at exorbitant prices for the occasion. Many unfortunates, who could obtain nothing at all, climbed the long, steep hill, and dust-covered and so exhausted that they were asleep most of the evening.

The rickshaw boys' grievance is a new set of police regulations requiring them to undergo medical examinations, to comply with certain restrictions concerning lodgings and food, to observe the traffic rules and to pay fines for transgressions of the present regulations. The authorities have sworn never to yield, and, as the boys can live on next to nothing, it is possible for them to hold out almost indefinitely, so that no end to the struggle is in sight.

The Nairobi rickshaw boys are Kikuyus, 15 to 17 years old. They are paid eight rupees, or a trifle more than $2.50 monthly, together with tips, averaging a rupee, or about 22 cents daily.

MISSING HORSEMAN SHOWS UP

[United Press Leased Wire.] Colfax, Wash., July 5.—Henry Gable, the missing Franklin county horseman, who was supposed to have been murdered by horse thieves, has reappeared in Colfax, in company with Con-table Hartung, of Connell, arranging to redeem the horses stolen from him by Baise Blackenship, a graduate of the state college at Pullman, and the "Montana Kid" and sold at Lacrosse and Endicot. All the money obtained from the sale of the horses was secured by the sheriff, and this will be given back to the men holding the animals, and their release demanded.

The missing horseman says that

CAPITAL NATIONAL BANK
J. H. Albert, Pres.
E. M. Croisan, Vice Pres.
Jos. H. Albert, Cashier
SAVINGS DEPARTMENT
Pays Interest on Savings Accounts

at the time searching parties were out scouring the country for him he was over in the Sand Hollow country, on the Columbia river, and not until he reached Quincy, Friday on his way back home, did he know of the excitement that his disappearance had created.

Gable says that as soon as he gets back home he will file complaints with Prosecutor Ryker, of Grant county, against a number of horse-men, some of them prominent residents of the Central Washington country, charging them with horse stealing, and he promises some startling developments when he makes public the evidence which he claims to have against the men.

THE 1909 NUMBER OF "THE CLARION"

The Clarion, the official paper of the Salem High School, has just issued its annual number for 1909. Typographically, it is neat, the cover is tasty and the mechanical work good. This, however, would not entitle it to much praise, as that part of the work is done outside of the school. The literary work, however, is excellent. The short stories well written, and showing excellent taste on the part of the editors in their selection. The pictures of the senior class are given, and the descriptions of each eplagrammatized into Present Occupation, Aspiration and Favorite Expression, are bright, good-natured and bubbling with humor. The school affairs, debating teams, football and athletics generally are all well and tersely told. Taken all in all the 1909 Clarion is perhaps the best number of that always excellent school paper, and a credit to its bustling young editor, Russell Brooks. It might be added that the class poem, by Belle Niles, is exceptionally good, and that by far the neatest and most appropriate thing in the whole issue is the tribute expressed in the dedication:

"To Principal E. T. Marlatt, for four years the best friend Salem's High School has had, we dedicate this issue of the Clarion."

TWO ARE SPREAD ON TRACK

[United Press Leased Wire.] Seattle, Wash., July 5.—For three hundred feet along the tracks of the Great Northern, the body of an unknown man was strewn this morning, probably by a switch engine. The mutilated trunk was found by a police officer on railroad avenue. The only article in his possession that may serve to identify him were a package of fish hooks bought in Leavenworth, Wash., and a baggage check showing that he had left some baggage at Leavenworth to be sent to Seattle.

Walla Walla, Wash., July 5.—A man supposed to be George Teachey, an Englishman, was run over and killed by an O. R. & N. special train yesterday. The man had evidently fallen asleep on the track. The engineer saw him, but thought the object a dog, and didn't slacken the speed of the train. The finding of a necktie and pieces of flesh on the front of the engine revealed the accident when the engine reached the roundhouse. An investigation will be held today. The addresses in the man's account book were of English people.

ONLY NINE VICTIMS SO FAR IN PORTLAND

Portland, Or., July 5.—Only nine victims of yesterday's celebration of the Fourth of July in this city, so far as the records show, are today nursing burned fingers and faces, one of them suffering from blood poisoning.

It is expected that this list will be swelled before night, as Independence day is being celebrated in regular form today. Only four of the victims of Sunday's demonstration are known to the health officers. They are:

- A. R. Allen, suffering from blood poisoning; a torpedo exploded in his hand.
  - Abe Weinstein, 10 years old; severely burned on the face and hands by an exploding bomb.
  - A. Mathes, 28 years old, burned about the face by an exploding cannon cracker.
  - Frank Miller, right hand burned by an exploding cannon cracker.
- The other five accidents were reported by druggists, who failed to get the names of the victims. One of them, a man 35 years old, rushed into a drug store for medical treatment. Two of his fingers were badly lacerated by cannon crackers. Three boys and a young man were the other sufferers.

MRS. BENSON KILLED TURNING ON LIGHT

[United Press Leased Wire.] Hillsboro, Ore., July 5.—The silence of death, instead of the noisy fireworks that had been planned for today has filled with gloom the house of Edward Benson, a confectioner, whose wife was almost instantly killed last night by an electric shock. Mrs. Benson was turning on an electric light in the rear of her husband's ice cream parlor when she met her fate. She had grasped the brass part of an electric lamp, and at the same time stepped on a part of the floor that had been made wet by melted ice, thus forming a short circuit.
