

CHERRY FAIR VISITORS WELCOME TO THE HOME OF GOOD GOODS

All this week we have tremendous price cutting sales in every department where light summery goods adorn the shelves and show cases, they must get out and get out quick to make room for the large fall showing now on the way.

ADVANCE FALL SHOWING OF LADIES' TAILORED SUITS

This week we are showing in our large Cloak and Suit Section the new mannish tailored suits for Fall wear. As usual this store is the first to introduce the new style creations, and gets the name of the "Style Store" honestly. Dame Fashion has set the seal of approval upon these new, stylish creations. The coats are 45 inches long, tight fitting. The skirts are plain gored. The materials are the new mannish mixtures in gray, blue, brown, etc.

Transcript Filed—

A transcript was filed this morning in the case of J. K. Sears against State Treasurer Steel. The transcript was filed by the defendant and the case will be brought up for hearing within a few weeks.

Mrs. Glyn Coming—

A very reasonable hope is held out by those who know her personally that Elinor Glyn, authoress and dramatist, will visit Salem during the engagement of her famous play, "Three Weeks," at the theatre Friday, July 16.

The Woman's Club—

Has rented the room back of the Cherry pavilion from the Cherry Fair committee for a lunch room. A lunch will be served there at all hours after 11 a. m. each day of the fair and the proceeds will be for the benefit of the Salem public library. 7-3-7t.

New Addition to City—

Another addition has been added to the city of Salem called the Drager addition. The plat of the new addition was filed today in the offices of the county clerk and the owners of the plat are D. G. Drager et ux. and A. W. Drager et ux. The plat shows nine blocks in the addition, which are enclosed by Seventeenth, Perry and State streets.

Rain was Needed—

The rain interfered with the Fourth somewhat and may do a little damage to cherries and hay, but these are trifles to the immense good it will do to crops generally. The spring has been unusually cold and dry and the rain was badly needed, but it came in time as it always does and has made possible the statement "Crops never fail in Oregon."

Try Crystallites—

For the breath. For sale at: Meyer's barber shop. Eckerlen's. Waters' cigar store. Adolph's cigar store. Dick Madison's. The Spa. Willamette Hotel. The Council. Talkingdon's. The Court.

Dr. B. H. White—

Osteopath and nerve specialist. Office rooms 17-18 Breyman building. Residence 346 North Capital street. Phone 469. 6-30-7t

Harnett's Cafe—

Best service in the city. Meals at all hours.

Too Much Spirit—

Only two over-indulgent celebrators were on hand at the roll call in the city jail this morning after the glorious Fourth. These two men were not out to eat up the city or raise any disturbance, however, but they could not resist the temptation to show their American loyalty and an overdose of patriotic spirits was indulged in.

Stopped Work Temporarily—

The rain put operations on the steel building in this city out of commission today and the workmen will not proceed with construction until things dry up a little more.

McFarland All Right—

Andy McFarland, the man who was beaten up last Friday night near Independence by two auto drivers, is getting along as well as could be expected under the circumstances. His arm is painfully sore yet but the bruises on his face are healing up nicely.

Ordered Good Weather—

The weather bureau this morning says it has ordered fair weather for the Cherry Fair and will give us a sample of it tomorrow.

Grand Jury Matters—

The grand jury was delayed in meeting this afternoon, due to the absence of C. T. Pomeroy, a jurymen who had left for the East without being excused. District Attorney John H. McNary recommended, however, that another grand jurymen be drawn from the two extra ones kept for emergency cases. The first case for examination this afternoon was to have been that of A. B. Smith, the man who attempted to hold up the Higgs jewelry store, using a revolver as an inducement for the clerk to pass over the valuables. Smith is confined to his bed in the Salem Hospital at present, but this in no way interferes with the actions of the grand jury, as the accused person's presence is not necessary.
