"NEITHER POVERTY NOR RICHES"

A Long Distance View Makes American Wealth Look Different to Our Teddy.

(United Press Leased Wire.) New York, July 16.—The Outlook issued yesterday has an article by Theodore Roosevelt entitled, "Give Me Neither Poverty Nor Riches." It says, in part:

"It is to be wished that some of those who preach and practice a gospel of mere materialism and greed and who speak as if the heaping up of wealth by the community or by the individual was in itself the be-all and end-all of life, would learn from the most widely read and oldest of books that true wisdom which teaches that it is well to have neither great poverty nor great riches. The movement which has become so strong, during the last few years to secure on behalf of the nation, both an adequate supervision of and an effective taxation of vast fortunes, so far as their business use is concerned, is a healthy movement. It aims to replace sullen discontent, restless pessimism and evil preparation for revolution, by an aggressive, healthy determination to get to the bottom of our trouble and remedy them.

"The multi-millionaire is not per se a healthy development in this country. If his fortune rests on a basis of wrongdoing, he is a far more dangerous criminal than the ordinary types of criminals can possibly be. If his fortune is the result of the great service rendered, well and good; he deserves respect and reward for such service—although we must remember to pay out homage to the service itself and not to the fortune which is the mere reward of the service—but when his fortune is passed on to someone else who has not rendered the service then the nation should impose a heavily graded progressive inheritance tax, a singularly wise and unobjectionable kind of tax. It should be a particularly good thing if the tax bore heaviest on absentees."

A failing tiny nerve—no larger than the finest silken thread—takes from the heart its impulse, its power, its regularity. The stomach also has its hidden or inside nerve. It was Dr. Shoop who first told us it was wrong to drug a weak or failing stomach, heart or kidneys. His prescription—Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed straight for the cause of these ailments—these weak and faltering inside nerves. This, no doubt, clearly explains why the Restorative has of late grown so rapidly in popularity. Druggists say that those who test the Restorative even for a few days, soon become fully convinced of its wonderful merit. Anyway, don't drug the organ. Treating the cause of sickness is the only sensible and successful way. Sold by Capital Drug Store.

WAS DELIGHTED WITH INNES

The writer had the extreme pleasure of a little talk before and after Mr. Innes' concert and he certainly is more than charming personally. I told him I could not refrain from telling him of the pleasure the music gave me, especially the overture to "Tannhauser," Mendelssohn's "Spinning Song" and his dainty, bright two-step "Gloria Washington." He said, "Yes, the Spinning Song is a beautiful number."

Mr. Innes says they go to New York, then back in September to close the Seattle Fair. The concert was a magnificent repetition of what grand bandmasters usually give us. Mr. Innes differs in many ways from most leaders in never being anything but sane, calm and reasonable, attaining the heights with his personal magnetism very quietly.

The singer, Miss Listemann, was a great surprise in the manner she rendered Ardit's "Kiss Waltz," immortalized by Patti. She has a very sweet, soulful voice. As an encore she gave "Believe Me, If all Those Endearing Young Charms."

"Whispering Among the Flowers," (Von Blou) "Air Louis XIII" (Ghys) and the beautiful songs from "Trovatore" were the band's best efforts. The encores were Mendelssohn's "Spring Song" and Moshowski's "Serenata." Of course the American airs are always soul stirring and while they are playing "Down on the Suwannee River," "Dixie" and "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean" our hearts are thrilling until the first notes of "O say can you see by the dawn's early light" of "The Star Spangled Banner," and then with a clap and rush we stand thinking there is nothing equal to our own "America" after all. ### FELL FROM POLE AND WAS KILLED

T. P. Gabriel, a farmer living about three miles below Sweet Home on the north side of the Santiam river, was killed last Friday by falling from a telephone pole upon which he was repairing a wire.

He and some others were engaged in building and repairing a telephone line from their vicinity to Lebanon on the north side of the river and when a short distance above the sawmill of J. M. Wiley, on McDowell creek, the accident occurred. Mr. Gabriel was at the top of a pole, about 20 feet from the ground, when the pole broke, throwing him to the ground, hitting on his shoulders and back of his head. He was rendered unconscious and Dr. N. R. Luther of Sweet Home and Dr. J. C. Booth of this city were called, but the injured man died at 1 o'clock the next morning, without regaining consciousness. Concussion of the brain was the cause of death.—Lebanon Criticon.

SALEM'S POLICY OF PAINTING SCHOOL HOUSES

The Salem board of education has a policy of painting one of the ward school houses each year. They are large, beautiful wooden buildings amid oak and fir and maple trees, and shining white paint makes them look like temples of pure white marble. This year it has been the turn for painting the Lincoln school and the job just completed by the contractors, Kennedy & Porter, is a very good one. They put on two coats of white lead and boiled oil, the best pure lead being used and mixed on the ground. The men who did the brush work were Gilbert Sloper, Wm. Endriken, Glenn Adams, Fred Taylor, Clyde McKay and Fred Walker. The same crew and contractors did the Grand school in North Salem last fall and gave such good satisfaction that they got the second job very easily. The repairing of the shingle roof is being done by Contractor Radcliff, who is giving the tin work a coat of tar paint of his own make.

FIRE TWO AND SOME MORE NEED IT

Portland, Ore., July 16.—Outfielder Garry, of the Portland Colts, and Pitcher Hensling, of the Tacoma team, are today men of leisure, with not a single worry so far as the great American game is concerned, for they were presented with walking papers after yesterday's games, in which both participated.

George W. Schreeded, owner of the Tacoma club, says he is going to get a little new blood into the team in the hope of crawling "out of the cellar." He has been assured that Ike Butler, who jumped the Tacoma team some time ago, and Catcher Dashwood will return. Hensling will be returned to Vernon and Garry probably will return to his home in California.

Four big steamers, the Chippewa, Kennedy, Iroquois and Hyak, were specially chartered and brought over capacity crowds. In addition to these the regular steamers plying between the two cities were loaded to the guards and special trains run by the Northern Pacific railroad and the Interurban were jammed. Almost every visitor carried streamers and nooties and "You'll like Tacoma" was everywhere in evidence.

At 9 o'clock a monster parade formed in Pioneer place and with flying colors and stirring music marched through the principal downtown streets amid continuous and enthusiastic cheering by the multitude of Seattleites that lined the walks. At the head of the parade rode Mayor Miller of Seattle and Mayor Linck of Tacoma, in an automobile. Another large machine was loaded with 30 handsome Tacoma young women and made a pleasing feature of the procession.

At Second and Pike streets, on the line of march, suspended across the street between two large American flags, was Seattle's banner, on which was painted in flaring red letters, "We Like Tacoma." This compliment to Tacoma made a tremendous hit with the invaders.

The parade disbanded at Yesler way and Third avenue and the marchers boarded cars for the exposition. On arriving at the main entrance the Tacomans were met by officials of the exposition and headed by a band were escorted in state within the grounds.

At 1 o'clock this afternoon the visitors assembled at the Washington state building where speeches of welcome were delivered by Josiah Collins and President Chilberg of the exposition, followed by responses by Mayor Linck of Tacoma, President Pratt of the Tacoma "Boosters," and John T. Bibb, president of the Tacoma Commercial club.

Following the speech making the Tacoma visitors formed in line and with several bands of music playing, marched about the grounds, the procession ending at the natural amphitheatre, where a mass band concert was held.

BATTLESHIPS TO VISIT THE A. Y. P.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Puget Sound Navy Yard, July 16.—To give visitors to the Seattle exposition their last opportunity to see the Pacific fleet in these waters, the first and second squadrons of the cruisers Tennessee, Washington, South Dakota, California, West Virginia, Maryland, Pennsylvania and Colorado will rendezvous in Seattle harbor on August 18 for a stay of ten days, according to plans formulated by fleet officers here.

Leaving Elliott bay August 28 the warships will proceed to San Francisco, where after taking on ammunition and supplies they will steam for Manila bay for battle practice. Manoeuvres enroute will be engaged in.

The fleet will remain in the Orient visiting various Chinese and Japanese ports until the latter part of February, when it will return to this coast for target practice at Magdalena bay.

PORTLAND PICKS OUT SOME BIG FIGURES

(United Press Leased Wire.) Portland, Ore., July 16.—The words to be printed on 10,000 "booster" buttons and 5,000 ribbons to be used as streamers as well as on the pennants which every Portlander who goes to Seattle next Monday will carry will be "500,000—Portland—1912."

A great many of these buttons, ribbons and pennants have been already sent to Seattle to be placed at various hotels in order to accommodate the Portlanders who are already in Seattle.

KILLED BY TRAIN AT OREGON CITY

Oregon City, Or., July 16.—Pat Short, while driving between Oregon City and Parkplace at a late hour last night, was struck by a Southern Pacific freight train and received injuries from which he will die.

After the accident Short was picked up by the train crew and brought to this city. A doctor was called but Short's death is a matter of but a few hours.
