GRINDS OUT BIG GRIST

Six Vags, Five Dipsomaniac Victims and Two Big, Bad Knights of Road Cared For.

This morning when Judge Wiley Moores, of the police court, took down the register book containing the names of the new arrivals at the city jail, he found 11 which required his attention, there being six persons in for vagrancy and five for drunkenness. This number of prisoners is unusual, as the police do not have occasion to lock up more than four or five from Saturday night until Sunday morning, and the number arrested on the charge of vagrancy exceeds former records for some time back. Those answering the charge of vagrancy did not have any plausible excuse for their impetuous condition this morning, although they attempted to convince Judge Moores that work was a thing of scarcity at the present time, and the judge, being familiar with the working conditions in almost every locality in Oregon, and knowing that work was to be had at any time now, in this vicinity, could not be led to believe that the six men "out of jobs" were unable to pick up enough work to at least pay for their living, and a short sentence was given each of them. After these fellows have had a few days' experience of the city bustle, they will be given the "skid-doo" number by Judge Moores, and under no consideration will they be allowed to return to Salem void of some means of self-support.

The five men answering to the charge of croaking their elbows too often, were dealt with somewhat easier, they having the means to contribute to the wealth of the city, and they all being apparently working men.

Two more and more serious cases were brought before the judge's attention this morning by Chief of Police Gibson. Two healthy looking individuals were charged with threatening to "burn out" a man by the name of Rodgers, if he did not give them something to eat. Rodgers lives south of this city near the Southern Pacific track, and the two men took advantage of the out-of-town resident, and, thinking they could bully him into furnishing them a feed, threatened to burn his place if he refused to grant their demand. Mr. Rodgers could not see it that way, however, and notified the police and Officer Murphy made a visit to that locality, and found the hobo camp with the two bold men in it, and put them under arrest. Along with many other articles strown about the camp, the officer found a dozen bottles of pure alcohol, which the iron-sided "bos" had been diluting and drinking with water, and Officer Murphy destroyed the remaining bottles containing the spirits and brought the fellows to the lock-up.

EUGENE MAN MUST PAY FOR HIS FUN

Arthur E. Dean, the Eugene man, who ran away with another woman and went to Los Angeles, where he was arrested a few days ago charged with adultery and brought back to Eugene this morning by Sheriff Brown, was sued today by his wife, Carrie O. Dean, for divorce and alimony, together with the care and custody of their minor children.

Mrs. Dean names a Mrs. Marshall as co-respondent in the suit. She alleges in her complaint that her husband committed adultery with this woman at the home of the plaintiff and defendant at the corner of Twentieth street and Oregon avenue, in Eugene, on February 19, 1909, and at several other times. Dean left the plaintiff, she alleges, with the Marshall woman, and has since neglected to provide for the plaintiff, leaving her in destitute circumstances.—Eugene Guard.

WILLAMETTE CLAIMS ANOTHER VICTIM

The rapacious Willamette has claimed another victim, and Charles McKee is no more. The accident occurred Thursday evening between 4 and 5 o'clock, near Junction City. A number of boys were in the river swimming and most of them had dressed and gone up stream. Charlie McKee and Bennie Butler, aged about 13, played in the water. Charlie waded out a short distance and the current took him into deep water and he was drowned.

The Butler boy cried for help and Steele Morehead and James McClaren, who were a short distance above, came to the rescue, but it was too late, as the body had already disappeared.

Word was brought to town and a large party went out to search for his body. It was found in about ten feet of water a short distance beyond where he was last seen.—Eugene Guard.

CONFEREES AGREE ON CORPORATION TAX

Washington, July 19.—The senate and house conferees today agreed to adopt the corporation tax amendment as redrafted by Attorney General Wickersham and Senator Root. The amendment as redrafted fixes the corporation tax at 1 per cent instead of 2 per cent as provided in the original bill and exempts holding companies from assessment. Exceptions for mutual benefit insurance organizations and loan associations were also made.

GAS MOTOR CAR SMASHES AUTO

San Diego, Cal., July 19.—The chauffeur of a local sight-seeing automobile and five passengers were injured shortly after noon today when the machine was run down and cut in two today by a gas motor car at Oldtown, near here. The chauffeur was removed from the wreckage in a dying condition, and the other passengers were seriously injured. When word of the accident was received here a number of ambulances were hurried to the scene of the collision.

JAPANESE AMBASSADOR GOES HOME IN AUGUST

Washington, July 19.—Ambassador Takahira will sail from Seattle for Japan August 17, in the event that congress adjourns in time to enable him to arrive in Seattle before that date. He will go directly to Yokohama. The ambassador stated today that the question of his return would not be settled until his arrival at the Japanese capital. He said, however, that he will return to his official duties in Washington in the fall.

THE GREAT TUNNEL (Continued from page 1)

Fort of New Jersey, William McAdoo, president of the Hudson and New York Tunnel Company, and Charles Hobbs, the chief engineer. A great crowd gathered in front of the city hall at 1 o'clock and the speakers were cheered and applauded until the scene looked like a political meeting on the day before election. The first trains went gliding under the river at 3 o'clock and the work of years was accomplished. The subway is now working under the East river to Brooklyn and with the Pennsylvania tunnels, which will pass from the Jersey shore under the Hudson, under Manhattan island and under the East river to Long Island, the great fleet of ferry boats will soon be looked upon by the man in a hurry as relics of the past.

The McAdoo tunnels enter New York at the great Hudson terminal buildings erected for the purpose at Church and Courtland streets, just off the financial district. The two buildings, which are exactly alike and are connected by bridges and viaducts, taken together, form the largest office structure in the world. The work of building the tunnel has been directed since the beginning by William McAdoo, who was the chief originator of the plans under whose direction the vast undertaking involving the expenditure of $70,000,000 has been carried on.

FOUR DEAD AND MANY INJURED

Motorcycle Explodes at Meet in Berlin Yesterday—Hundreds Are Badly Burned.

Berlin, July 19.—Four persons died today from injuries received when a motor cycle exploded at the Botanical Garden race course here yesterday. The death roll now numbers eight, and 32 others are suffering from serious injuries.

The motor that exploded was one on which the pacemaker rode. Burning benzine was thrown among the thousands of spectators and many of them received terrible burns. Another rider was thrown, the great speed at which the machine was running carried it along the course until it crashed into the grandstand. Many women and children were injured in the stampede that followed.

STRIKERS' PLACES BEING FILLED

Pittsburg, Pa., July 19.—Officials of the Pressed Steel Car Company, against which 3500 steel workers are on strike, stated today that the places of the men who quit work are rapidly being filled up, and that it is expected that the full quota will be employed by Wednesday. The situation is peaceful today, and no further trouble is anticipated.

PACIFIC LOGGERS IN SESSION TODAY

Seattle, Wash., July 19.—Sessions of the Pacific Logging Congress began today in the Hoo Hoo house, on the exposition grounds, with many prominent loggers and others identified with the industry in attendance from all parts of the Pacific Northwest. The program outlined provides for the organization of a permanent logging congress, the election of officers, addresses by noted speakers and an excursion to Mukilteo, to inspect the mills there.

After the address of welcome by the president, E. P. Blake, of Seattle, a great number of addresses were delivered, among which were the following: "Electricity as a Factor in Logging," George J. Browne, Portland. "Cost of Fuel for Donkey Engines," C. W. Thompson, Wind River Lumber Company, Cascade Locks, Ore. "Camp Sanitation," Dr. Belt, Troutdale, Ore.

New York, July 19.—Seventeen men were drowned by the sinking of a sailboat off the South Beach of Staten Island, according to a report received at police headquarters. No details of the tragedy have been received, and the number of deaths has not been confirmed.

FRATERNITY KIDS DISTURB NEIGHBORS

Berkeley, Cal., July 19.—Charging that the members of the Kappa Alpha fraternity, who are living in the chapter house during the vacation months, disturb the peace of the community, Dr. H. T. Risdon, whose home is next door to the fraternity house, today made formal complaint to the police.

Risdon averred that the young men extend their questionable revelry far into the night, and that they have been guilty of many improprieties. He asks for police attention to the matter.

The Kappa Alpha fraternity was the recipient of considerable notoriety during the college term recently closed.

11,500 REGISTER UP TO NOON TODAY

Missoula, Mont., July 19.—Up to noon today 11,500 home-seekers had registered here for land in the Flathead Indian reservation. The majority of the recent arrivals are from Spokane and other points in Washington, although every train from Eastern states is bringing large numbers. Train service on the Chicago, Milwaukee & Puget Sound railroad was opened on this division yesterday, and the first trains arriving here were well crowded. The threat of the chamber of commerce to establish booths where persons can register free of charge, if the war of notaries is started again, has served to keep peace among these officers.

SCRELESS AUTO DRIVING GOES ON

Today an auto was driven up State street with many people and vehicles on the street and it went past the state house, at a low estimate, at a speed of at least 20 miles an hour. As the city speed limit is eight miles an hour, this was very lawless driving.

HERMANN TO ATTEND CONGRESS

Binger Hermann of Roseburg, former congressman from this district, has announced that he will attend the Oregon-Idaho Development congress on Coos Bay in August. Governor Benson has also signified his intention to attend. Mr. Hermann is largely responsible for Coos Bay getting its only federal appropriation for harbor improvements.

Today, the Marshfield Chamber of Commerce sent out a number of personal invitations urging various prominent people to be in attendance. It is practically certain that either Senator Bourne or Senator Chamberlain will be in attendance and probably both Congressmen Ellis and Hawley.

Already plans for entertaining the visitors is being talked of. It is suggested that if the weather is favorable, as it undoubtedly will be, that one session be held in plain view of the harbor bar, the improvement of which is one of the objects of the congress. As other features of this trip it is proposed that the life saving crew give a special exhibition or drill and that a big clam bake or crab dinner be arranged.

If the delegates can remain over Sunday a special excursion to the Coquille valley is proposed. A special train would be chartered and the trip would enable the delegates to get a better idea of this section.—Coos Bay Times.

Now Oregon wheat is quoted in Portland at $1.05 per bushel, the record price at any coast city.
