ASKS PRESIDENT TO VISIT US

Governor Benson has sent the following invitation to President Taft: July 21, 1909. President W. H. Taft, White House, Washington, D. C.: I heartily second Congressman Willis C. Hawley's invitation to you to visit the Oregon state capital on your Western trip. I trust you may be able to speak here. FRANK W. BENSON, Governor.

Baseball Tonight—

Tonight at 6:30 two teams of the Twilight League will start from the wire and trot a six-inning race. They are the Electric Workers and the Capitols. The Capitol team has been "going some" lately, but don't seem to be getting around the high numbers very fast, but tonight they are confident of victory.

Stole Beeler's Watch—

"I don't care for de watch, but I hade do loose it alrighd." Henry Beeler, known sometimes as "De Snyder," has been made the victim of some sneak thief, who had the nerve and cussedness to take Beeler's watch from his coat while the hard-working fellow was putting in some wood near 12th street yesterday. The police have been notified of the theft, but it is not likely that Snyder will ever see his timepiece again.

A Tough Runaway—

A fine large team of draft horses was standing in front of the Daise store in South Salem about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon hitched to a monster load of lumber, when, without giving notice or even making an extra switch of their tails, they started out on the dead run hauling the heavy load as though it had been but a light buggy. The frightened animals ran a block south then turned east and ran north on Liberty street until they came to Mission, where they were forced to give up their chase. When the horses arrived at Mission street they were just about to drop and could hardly breathe from exhaustion, but they were gone to the last.

He Painted It There—

J. Duttonhoefer, chief engineer of the Olympia Brewing Company, was in the city yesterday looking after a few business engagements and shaking hands with his friends. "King Jake" has looped the loop since his last sojourn in Salem and he stated yesterday that after dickering with his European brethren for some time he was permitted to paint the Olympia Brewing Company sign on three of the largest pyramids in the far east. Jake also made friends with the high officials in Constantinople, including Choekes Mehmid, Yusuf Pasha, Sheik Valediti and several other of the near great.

Suit Over Bridge—

The case of Mott vs. the General Construction Company is being tried in the circuit court before Judge Burnett this afternoon. This is a suit brought by Mott for damages alleged to have been caused as the result of the construction company excavating through a strip of land belonging to him in order to change the course of North Mill creek so that it would flow more directly under the arches of the North Mill creek bridge. The construction company, as alleged, cut away several feet of sand and gravel on Mott's property just east of the south end of the bridge and caused the stream to flow more directly west. The construction company built the North bridge and when they had it completed they found that the water flowed directly against the north arch of the bridge and with the intention of taking the strain off that section of the structure they directed the course farther south. Mott claims $250 damages. Attorney Carey F. Martin appears for the plaintiff while C. L. McNary is defending the construction company.

SUES TO ENJOIN THE BOARD

A temporary injunction was granted this morning by Judge Burnett, of the circuit court, enjoining the State Land Board from leasing 100 acres of tide lands in Clatsop county to the highest bidder, pending a hearing of the case on its merits.

The complaint, which was filed by the county clerk, is entitled Taylor Sands Fishing Company vs. F. W. Benson and Geo. A. Steel, composing the State Land Board. It is alleged that the plaintiff in the case is owner by mesne conveyances from the state of real property, being tide lands situated on the Columbia river in Clatsop county. Since the purchase of the lands, as alleged in the complaint, a large amount of accretions have added to the tract of land by the gradual deposit of sand in the Columbia river, until the original land is now increased until it comprises about 100 acres, which accretions the plaintiff also claims.

Another allegation in the complaint is that M. Troyer surveyed a portion of the land, including the accretion, and applied to the State Land Board for a lease for 10 years, whereupon the land board published notices of application, and advertised they would receive bids for leasing the land to the highest bidder, and Troyer entered as a bidder, and on July 12, 1909 (today) the State Land Board was to consider the bids.

The plaintiffs claim that during the fishing season they are accustomed to catching 50 tons of salmon, aggregating a value of $5000, and if the State Land Board awards the lease to Troyer, it will work irreparable injury to their business, as he (Troyer) has horses, men and nets located in close proximity to the lands in question, and is prepared to take up the fishing place as soon as he is given the lease, and, in addition to the temporary injunction, a perpetual injunction is prayed for against the State Land Board, to prohibit it leasing the lands in question.

Attorneys Coovert and Stapleton appear for the plaintiffs.

THE LOCAL ELKS FED THE HERD CHERRIES

Another trainload of returning Elks passed through the city this morning at 9:30 o'clock. Information was received by the secretary of the Board of Trade about 30 minutes before the train arrived. He thereupon hustled a few members of the order together, and the bunch proceeded to the train with their arms full of Cherry City literature.

An attempt was made to secure some choice cherries, but the time was too short. The train stopped about 15 minutes, and everybody on board seemed to be hungry for information about this section.

Exalted Ruler Schucking, H. Geo. Meyer, Tommie Caufield, Prince Byrn Jo Harris and several others were in the party, and a pleasant exchange of fraternal courtesies was enjoyed by all.

"Outlaw" Baseball—

Owing to many of the players in the Twilight League being absent on their vacations at present, the regular scheduled game between the Capitols and the Electric Workers, cannot be pulled off tonight, but, in order to give the public the benefit of a good schedule, another team, which will be called the "Rough Necks," picked from the capitol building, will meet the regular State House aggregation, and they say the fur will fly about 6:30 this evening on Willamette field. The "Rough Necks" have bunches of grit and backbone, and should make their lawful brothers go a little. It will be remembered this is the first outlaw team in the city.

Going to California—

Governor Benson and wife left for Portland this afternoon, from where they will leave for California for a two-weeks' vacation. Governor Benson being in need of rest, owing to the busy engagements of the past few months wearing on him noticeably. While gone the governor and his wife will visit San Francisco, Sisson and Klamath Falls, the latter being the home of his brother. The chief executive has been in need of a rest for some time now, and his two-weeks' junket will be for that purpose only and recreation. Secretary C. N. McArthur will attend to business in the office during the governor's absence.

CALLS THE CABINET TOGETHER

President Consults Advisers and Prepares to Face Gang of Conferees.

[United Press Leased Wire.] Washington, July 21.—President Taft called the members of the cabinet together for a special meeting. It is understood that government expenditures are under discussion.

Will Dine With Taft.

Washington, July 21.—Tariff conferees of the house and senate will dine with President Taft tonight, when the chief executive will attempt to smooth their ruffled feelings and reach a better understanding with them. It is agreed that the President will obtain free iron ore, the removal of a countervailing duty on oil, some reduction on hides and the house rate on lumber, but it is predicted that he will fail to get free hides or authority to enter into reciprocal agreements between United States and Canada.

At the dinner tonight Taft will report to the conferees what progress he has made in his efforts to get votes to carry his recommendation of free raw materials. He will also receive reports from the house and senate of the situation in each of the bodies.

It is believed that plans will be laid to bring the work of the conference committee to a conclusion at once.

WANTED PEOPLE TO KNOW

Miss Castle Asked for Certificate That She Was a Girl, and Got It.

[United Press Leased Wire.] San Francisco, July 21.—"I want you to give me a letter stating that I am a woman," emphatically announced Miss Helena Castle, author, as she entered the office of the chief of police today.

Miss Castle was very mannish in appearance, her short, curly hair, buck divided skirts, man's long raglan coat, stiff collar, plain white shirt waist, natty cravat with scarf pin stuck rakishly through it and fine Panama hat, leading to the conclusion that a very handsome youth had attired himself in semi garb of the fair sex.

"Here is a letter from a Chicago physician which will reassure you if you fear I am imposing upon you," continued Miss Castle, who claims St. Louis as her home. "I have had trouble in establishing my identity before now, but never in my life, until last night, was I arrested," and there was a trace of something very feminine in the young woman's voice—something that the gallant officers refuse to say was tears but admit might have been a quaver. "Patrolman 129 (William Isaacs) arrested me last night on Turk street and I had to have the proprietor of my hotel identify me before he would release me. He thought I was a boy."

Chief Cook issued the required letter of identification.

PARIS HAS LONG LIST OF KILLED AND HURT

Paris, July 21.—Exactly 63,184 people were killed and injured in street traffic accidents during 1908 in Paris, though the exact figures cannot be given for the first half of 1909, the prefect of police declares they will vastly exceed those of the preceding year.

Of the total 8800 accidents were due to automobiles; cabs and other vehicles, 45,699; bicycles, 3289; tramways, 5417. Carelessness, the prefect said today, is the principal cause of all accidents. Pedestrians, without thought, attempt to cross the streets, and are injured or killed by vehicles. Cold weather increases accidents, the maximum being reached between March and June. Rain is a factor, and irresponsible drivers of horses or motors swell the list. Compensatory few accidents are entirely unavoidable.

APE LEADS SOCIETY LEADERS

Police, Poundmaster, Society Leaders, Small Boys and Dogs Join in the Chase.

[United Press Leased Wire.] Berkeley, Cal., July 21.—Roaming through the bushes around the campus of the University of California a pet ape belonging to Mrs. H. P. Pattee today successfully eluded a small army of pursuers who have for four days been attempting to return the Simian to captivity.

The police and fire department, augmented by the poundmaster and a score of excited society leaders, have participated in the chase at various times since the ape made his escape, but the grinning fugitive proves himself more than their master in cunning. For more than four hours yesterday the ape sat contentedly on top of a flagpole on the three-story home of Mrs. S. W. Plicher and scratched his ribs while he grinned with glee at an immense crowd of humans who stood on the street and discussed the best method of bringing him down. Finally, after the police and firemen, who had been called to aid in solving the problem, had finally given up in despair, the ape calmly clambered down and made his way to the campus. Another chase was soon in progress, but it proved as futile as before, and today the jungle-jester was still at large, giving the merry gurgle of glee to his would-be captors.

PERSONAL MENTION

Miss Marguerite Rankin of Portland is the guest of Miss Gertrude Erickson.

Mrs. Floyd Robertson has returned to her home in Stayton after visiting Mrs. B. B. Herrick and Mrs. W. M. Siegmund.

Mr. and Mrs. Oswald West are taking an outing at Newport.

Robert Duncan, who has a claim in the Siletz country, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Duncan, on South Twelfth street.

Mrs. C. L. Watt left yesterday for Corvallis and Waldport, where she will work in the interest of the Artisan lodge.

Mr. E. E. Parsonage of the Smith Manufacturing Co. of Chicago was in the city yesterday. His firm will probably establish a branch business at Portland as Mr. Parsonage seems highly pleased with the field. He was surprised at the magnitude of the valley and more than surprised at its wonderful variety of products.
