POPULAR ELECTION OF SENATORS.

Mr. Bryan's courteous but pointed letter to President Taft, recommending that the latter use his influence to have an amendment to the constitution authorizing the election of United States senators by popular vote submitted at the same time as that authorizing an income tax, will appeal to many of his followers as a timely one.

Mr. Bryan's pledge of whatever assistance he can render in securing ratification of the two amendments, in case they shall be submitted, is of more than personal value, inasmuch as it can be taken as indicative of the attitude of his following toward them.

President Taft, in his letter of acceptance, declared in favor of such a change in the constitution, and the probability is that the amendments, should they be given to congress, would be practically unopposed.

Indeed, twenty-seven of the states—

- Arkansas
- California
- Colorado
- Idaho
- Indiana
- Illinois
- Iowa
- Kansas
- Kentucky
- Louisiana
- Michigan
- Montana
- Missouri
- Minnesota
- Nebraska
- Nevada
- North Carolina
- Oklahoma
- Oregon
- Pennsylvania
- South Dakota
- Tennessee
- Texas
- Utah
- Washington
- Wisconsin
- Wyoming

are already recorded in favor of the election of United States senators by the people.

There is practically no difference of opinion among the states as to the income tax amendment.

It is hardly to be expected the senate would favor the amendment, and it is regarded as almost certain that body will refuse to vote for its submission.

Such a contingency, however, was foreseen by those who framed our organic law, and that instrument itself provides a way in which senate hindrance can be overcome.

The constitution says that on the application of the legislatures of two-thirds of the states congress "shall call a convention for proposing amendments."

This is clear as well as mandatory, and as only four more states, in addition to those named above, are needed to make the necessary two-thirds, it will be seen that if the president acts upon Mr. Bryan's recommendation, and the house concurs, the obstruction of the senate can only temporarily delay matters.

There is, in the possibility of such a convention, something to stir the senate, as well as all opponents of demanded reforms, to graceful compliance.

Such a convention as the constitution provides for has never been held.

If one should be called there would be nothing to prevent it from going further and deciding to submit several amendments, with the view of making it less difficult for popular sentiment to be heard in the halls of congress.

SALEM HAS A MAGNIFICENT FUTURE.

Secretary French, of the Portland Y. M. C. A., asked a Journal reporter to account for the great change that has come over this city in the past few years.

The reporter explained it by saying that the people of Salem were coming to have faith in the possibilities of their own city.

The most adverse critic must confess that Salem has awakened and has made great progress in three years.

But what has been done is as a flyspeck compared to what this city will do in the next few years.

With a railroad coming into this city via Falls City and Dallas from the coast range the second great step will be taken.

The first injection of new life came when the Oregon Electric broke into the city from the north with a stream of population.

Next will come the great additional tide of business that will flow into the city from the heart of Polk county.

With the incoming of a supply of pure cold mountain water will come another great stream of residence population.

Let every true friend of Salem stand for public parks and for public ownership of water supply for the city and state.

Then you will see this city double in population in the next five years.

CHILDREN WILL NOT PROVIDE

Fourteen Children and Thirteen Sons-in-Law Let Old Man Hendricks Go Hungry.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Sacramento, Cal., July 22.—Father of 21 children, 14 of whom are living, W. H. Hendricks, an aged miner, is homeless today, and without means of support. The old man stated to the district attorney that none of his children would care for him, and, under the terms of a law making it a felony for children to refuse to provide for indigent parents, passed by the last legislature, applied for warrants for the arrest of two sons, Al. Hendricks and Harvey Hendricks. Four of Hendricks' daughters, he said, have experienced varied marital careers, 1 being the sum total of their trips to the altar. Two other daughters are to be married soon, giving him 13 sons-in-law.

GILLET MAY RUN FOR GOVERNORSHIP

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Sacramento, Cal., July 22.—While Governor Gillette denies that he has ever stated that he would not be a candidate for return to the gubernatorial chair, and declares it is entirely too early to begin talking about candidacy, Secretary of State Charles F. Curry has now come out with formal announcement of his candidacy for governor at the next election. Curry declares that Governor Gillett has practically admitted to him that he would not again be a candidate. The governor says that he has made no admissions.

STUDY THE ABOVE MAP

BLOOMER'S ADDITION to the City of Newport, Oregon, is now on the market for the first time. The tract is located about half way between Nye Creek and Newport, and consists of some 30 lots, on the rising ground directly above the ocean. Each lot is but a few steps from the beach and commands a view of the ocean or surf for miles north and south. To the north can be seen Jump Off Joe and the Yaquina Head Light. To the south the entrance to Yaquina Bay and the Lifesaving Station. The property is about a five-minute walk from the boat landing in Newport. It is reached by a new six-foot board walk, which runs in a straight line from the Ocean House Hotel in a northwest direction to the lots. This is now the most popular walk in Newport on account of its beautiful surroundings and magnificent view of the Pacific when the end is reached at BLOOMER'S ADDITION. Here before the observer the ocean and the Leach stretch for miles and miles.

A WORD ABOUT YAQUINA BAY

You could not find a more interesting location to spend your summer than around this beautiful bay, which is conceded by those who know, to be the most beautiful summer resort, NATURALLY, of any on the Pacific coast, barring none. Hunting and fishing are unexcelled, and the many places of interest close to Newport, such as the Lighthouse, Otter Rock, Seal Rocks, etc., make it an ideal place to own a summer home.

NOW LOOK AT THE MAP

You will see that BLOOMER'S ADDITION is right on the ocean, and yet has the great advantage of being close to the bay and town, with no steep hills to climb to reach it. The beach in front of the property is good for bathing and the gathering of rock oysters. Mr. Bloomer has already built two beautiful cottages on these lots for his own personal use. Mr. Bloomer is a Seattle man, and intends to make this the most popular addition to Newport.
