Chicken Has Head Like a Rooster, Crows, Lays Eggs, and Is Otherwise Depraved.

[United Press Leased Wire.]

Aberdeen, Wash., July 22.—A hen that has the head of a rooster, and crows like one, but lays eggs, is the freak of nature that is attracting crowds daily to the barnyard of Mrs. Joseph Tiefenthaler, the owner, who lives near this city. The bird affords much amusement, particularly by crowing, instead of cackling like the ordinary hen, after laying an egg. The hen was raised from a brooder last fall, but it was not until recently that Mrs. Tiefenthaler observed that it was different from the rest of the brood. Her attention was first attracted to it when she saw it come from the chicken house crowing. She has since watched it peculiarities very closely. Several fancy prices for the freak have been rejected.

Bowel Complaint in Children.

When six months old the little daughter of E. N. Dewey, a well known merchant of Agnewville, Va., had an attack of cholera infantum. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was given and effected a complete cure. This remedy has proven very successful in cases of bowel complaint in children and when given according to the plain printed directions can be relied upon with perfect confidence. When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take, which is of great importance when a medicine must be given to small children. For sale by all good druggists.
