SHOULD BE KNOCKED OUT IN THE COURTS.

It would not take a Philadelphia lawyer to knock out the Oregon game law.

It is about as full of holes and legal contradictions as it is possible to make a law.

The textile fabric doing duty as legislative brains that enacted such a malformity must be thinner than cheese-cloth. The law imposes a tax of ten dollars on a citizen of another state and only two dollars on an Oregonian.

Yet the constitution of the United States forbids just such legislation as that and so does the Oregon constitution.

the law attempts to tax and regulate males and not females, and as females are citizens, the Oregon constitution would knock the law galley-west right there.

Laws raising revenues and imposing taxes must originate in the house, and this obnoxious, bifurcated, misdemeanor in the form of legislation originated in the senate, the home and birthplace of legislative idiocy in general.

There are other reasons why the law would be knocked out in the courts and it should be done before the people lose all respect for legislation and become a commonwealth of law breakers.

A fund should be raised to take it into the courts and The Capital Journal will publicly advocate the repeal and nullification of the features known as the fisherman's angling license tax.

REGULATION OF VICE IN SALEM.

Those who are impatient with conditions of vice in this city should consider a few hard, cold facts.

In every state in this nation and every other there are laws against vice.

In every city in the state and nation there are stringent ordinances against vice.

Yet in spite of such laws and ordinances there is vice and flagrant violation of such laws.

Mayor Lane gave his best energies for two years to the suppression of vice in Portland and accomplished some things.

He tried a restricted district and then tried driving vice out of the city, and what was accomplished?

He scattered vice wider and wider until no one could tell whether he lived in a vicious district or not.

In Salem vice has been confined to one side of one block and only a small part of that one side.

The habitues of that district have been kept off the streets and the red lights and red curtains removed.

The district is within a block of the business part of the city, where it is within easy call of the police.

Those who wish to drive these houses and their inmates elsewhere do not reckon fully on the consequences.

They do not dispose of the men who go to these places to gratify their mistaken appetite for lust.

Those persons would still be in the community and if these houses are closed, others will be opened.

If all are suppressed the vicious element will still be here, and will still be coming to Salem.

Vice will then be spread into lodging houses, hotels, and will attack decent women and girls.

Assaults will be committed on decent women, and if such men are driven out of the city they will assault women in the suburbs.

Let all who have knowledge of human nature and its weaknesses and errors consider all things and then remember that Salem is the most orderly and least vicious city in the Pacific northwest.

THE FARCE OF HOLDING ELECTIONS IN OREGON.

With a registration law that is absolutely prohibitive of manhood suffrage, and with a complicated red-tape ballot law, it is a wonder any one goes to vote in Oregon.

The shameful condition of things of large wards in this city casting less than fifty votes is a disgrace to any American city.

Manhood suffrage, based upon citizenship is suppressed in the interest of a political ring that does not want people to exercise the right of suffrage.

As a result a city of twenty thousand people casts six hundred and fifty votes, and they are cast in a manner that leaves the election open to contest.

In some wards one rule is followed, in other wards another rule, and the whole result is to have less and less voters taking part in elections.

At the 11 o'clock train Monday were a dozen voters leaving the city on an important election day without voting.

The writer talked with a contractor, with a planing mill man, and with a physician, and all three had not voted.

All three said it was too much trouble, and at one place the polls had not been opened at 10 o'clock.

The best citizenship revolts at going to the polls where the time of business men who want to vote and go about their business is taken up swearing in voters who are disfranchised by the registration law.

The American citizen who will tamely submit to be disfranchised by alleged laws to regulate him from coming to the ballot box has not the right kind of blood in his veins.

The people of Oregon have a habit of submitting tamely to outrages that no other free electorate would endure.

It is done in the name of legislation but is part of a deep-laid plan to keep the number of persons participating in elections down to the lowest possible number.

DOING HER BEST TO PROVE CHARGES TRUE

San Francisco, Aug. 3.—Florence Roberts, the actress, is on her way today to her home, Morrison Manor, at Peekskill, N. Y., accompanied by Thurlow Bergen, her leading man, whose wife she will become shortly after their arrival. Miss Roberts is the widow of Lewis Morrison. Bergen was divorced last September, his wife naming Miss Roberts as co-respondent. Mrs. Bergen, who was Miss Cora Farquhar, of Massachusetts, made sensational allegations in her suit for divorce. Miss Roberts promptly and indignantly denied the charges and the sensation was allowed to die out.

Cholera Infantum Cured.
"Something like two years ago my baby, which was then about a year old, was taken seriously ill with cholera infantum, vomiting and purging profusely," writes J. F. Dempsey, of Dempsey, Ala. "I did what I could to relieve her, but did her no good, and being very much alarmed about her went for a physician, but failed to find one, so came back by Elder Bros. & Carter's store and Mr. Elder recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I procured a bottle of it, went home as quickly as possible and gave the baby a dose of the remedy. It relieved her in fifteen minutes and soon cured her entirely." For sale by all good druggists.
