NO CLUE TO KIDNAPED CHILDREN

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Chicago, Aug. 4.—The police today found three trunks expressed from St. Louis to "Bernadotte Louis, Chicago," with no further address, which they suspect may contain the bodies of the two Viviano children, kidnaped from St. Louis and thought by many persons to have been killed. There was no odor about the trunks and the suggestion that they might contain bodies was purely theoretical.

The police are investigating every possible clue in an effort to find the claimant of the trunks. St. Louis detectives are expected to arrive here this evening, and the trunks probably will be opened after the police obtain legal advice.

One of the trunks weighs 160 pounds and the other two weigh 200 pounds each.

They fit the descriptions of the mysterious trunks sent from St. Louis by persons alleged to have taken the children from their parents' home.

St. Louis, Aug. 4.—The police today think that Grace and Alfonso Viviano, the small children held for $25,000 ransom, have not been removed from the city and they are working today on this theory.

The father of the children said today that he would not pay the ransom and he has notified the police that he has no idea of doing so.

The detectives have learned that trunks of Samuel Turiss were sent from St. Louis to Chicago on Monday. The authorities at Chicago have been asked to try to find them and hold them for examination.

Turiss is alleged to have been seen with the children after they were taken from their home at noon on Monday. The expressman who took his trunks to the station has been held with several others for examination. So far the police have no definite clue to the whereabouts of the children.

FIRE DESTROYED SEATTLE FACTORY

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Seattle, Aug. 4.—Fire early this morning destroyed the saw and door factory of Stetson-Post and the building occupied by the Union Engine works, causing a total loss of $35,000. In the engine company's building was stored patterns to the value of $25,000 and these were ruined.

The origin of the fire is not known. The fire boat made a record run to the scene and did good work in extinguishing the blaze. On the way the fire fighting craft ran down and sank a small launch, but no one was injured, the boat being unoccupied at the time.

THE GOOD EFFECT OF TARIFF SETTLEMENT

We are nearing the end of the tariff agitation. Mr. Taft has stood practically alone for revision downward, in fulfillment of political promises. The new tariff will make little general difference in conditions, and the folly is apparent, of attempting to regulate affairs into which broad economic forces enter—so largely, through congress, which is strongly influenced (necessarily perhaps) by the selfish and insistent interests of individual constituents. The new tariff clips at duties here and there, but will come out like the boy who has had his hair cut. The appearance at the moment is slightly different, but it is the same boy, and before long, the difference will not be noticed.

Business may now soon proceed unhindered by uncertainty of prices as affected by the tariff, and it will be a long time before the subject will again come up to delay and harass commercial operations. And this is a thing to be thankful for.

From the day of actual settlement of the new tariff, buying throughout every part of the country will start in where the smaller concerns have held back with depleted stocks, awaiting this settlement. The volume of such buying will in the aggregate roll up enormously. Merchants will stock up heavily, and in view of the splendid outlook for business, are liable to contract for needs far in advance. The final push towards normal prosperity will thus be given, and we look for such commercial activity as has not been seen since pre-panic times.—Weekly Financial Review.

DAILY FIGHT GOSSIP

(By the Ringsider.)
San Francisco, Aug. 4.—Johnny Frayne is hot on the trail of Frank Mantell, who is clamoring for a fight with Bill Paake. O'Keefe holds a 10-round decision over Mantell and is willing to get $500 that he can win. O'Keefe is to take Young Peter Jackson on under the same conditions. O'Keefe is game, strong and clever and showed his class when, with barely 24 hours' notice he fought the fast coming Terry Keller to a standstill in 10 rounds.

Tom McCarey, who appears to be sublimely confident that Jeffries and Johnson will fight and who is going after the match as though it were really made, has taken the first step in the campaign to secure his proposed battle for Los Angeles.

Sam Berger was left behind to arrange the details of the Johnson-Jeffries match. Take that noise away. Our lips are sore enough now.

Packey McFarland's sweeping challenge to an the lightweights doesn't seem to have stirred up much dust. Nelson has completely ignored it thus far, but the Dane, being a practical man, probably is thinking it over. There may be something doing if Coffroth gets out of the woods, but until then the pug will have to cool their heels as best they can back in the torrid east.

CORT WILL HAVE THREE ATTRACTIONS

John Cort, the western theatrical magnate, will have three road attractions the coming season, not the least important of which will be a magnificent revival of the Pixley & Luders comedy opera "King Dodo," with Eleanor Kent in the role of Piola and William Friend as the king.

Frederick V. Bowers, the celebrated comedian, singer and song writer, author of "Because I Love You" and "Always," will be seen in the Virginia Frame-Margaret Mayo comedy of college girl life "Commencement Days."

Max Figman will have three plays. This clever comedian will again be seen in "The Man on the Box" and "The Substitute," as well as a big production of "The Old Curiosity Shop."

Mr. Cort, who now has under his control the majority of the first class theatres west of the Missouri river, will also place a permanent company in his new Cort theatre in Chicago. This theatre will be completed about the first of October and will be opened with "The Kissing Girl," a new comedy opera, book by Stanislaus Strange, lyrics by Vincent Bryan and music by Harry von Tilzer. Amelia Stone, Joseph Miron and Etzel Post are among the principals already engaged for this production.

Mr. Cort has been enjoying life the past few weeks at his summer home, "Whisker Farm," situated on the shore of Lake Washington, opposite Seattle. He recently extended his circuit of theatres, taking in the prominent towns in New Mexico and Arizona.

PREACHER STANDS BY HIS SISTER

San Francisco, Aug. 4.—Carrie Patterson, the 19-year-old sister of Rev. William Patterson of Spokane, Wash., was put on three years probation this morning by Superior Judge Dunne and sentence was indefinitely suspended.

The girl was accused of robbing a sailor of $39 at a resort on Pacific street.

The Rev. Patterson appeared and promised to take care of his sister. She was remanded to his charge by the court.

Patterson was not aware of his sister's life in San Francisco until he received notification of the charges against her.

When told that she was free to go the girl went into hysterics and fell weeping to the floor.

Geo. W. Wright, the Albany booster, has bought another brick building in that town and will improve it.
