KILLED HER IN CROWDED STREET CAR

Thomas Katsones Shoots the Woman He Loved, Then Turns Pistol Upon Himself.

Chicago, Aug. 12.—A drama such as the inventive mind of Lincoln J. Carter might have produced for a ten, twenty and thirty "Triller" was enacted in real life on a crowded street car on the west side today, when Thomas Katsones shot and killed Victoria Kovanez and tried to commit suicide.

Katsones, a well-to-do restaurateur, loved Victoria Kovanez, a girl of twenty-two. He offered her a comfortable home, but she loved another and the advances of Katsones were not received with favor.

After several attempts to win her consent, he became desperate and made up his mind that he could not live without her and that she should never be the wife of his rival.

Katsones started to his restaurant today, entering a crowded car. Suddenly he saw Miss Kovanez among the passengers. After speaking a few words to her in an undertone he drew his revolver and fired.

The passengers were panic stricken. As the girl fell and the man stood with the smoking revolver, men, women and children sprang from the windows and doors of the car. The motorman cut off the power and applied the brakes. As the car began to slow up Katsones turned the pistol upon himself, fired and fell beside the prostrate body of the girl who spurned his love.

Miss Kovanez died almost instantly. Katsones, who is 26 years old, is expected to recover.

ONE STEEL STRIKER KILLED IN RIOT

[United Press Leased Wire.]
Pittsburg, Aug. 12.—Steve Horval, a steel striker, was shot and killed by Major Smith, a negro employe of the Pennsylvania Malleable Company, in a riot in which a number of men were injured near Schoonville today. The riot followed the eviction of 47 strikers' families from the houses owned by the Pressed Steel Car Company at the order of the company officials.

Smith was arrested and claimed that he fired in self defense.

THREE WERE KILLED BY FALLING WALLS

[United Press Leased Wire.]
Los Angeles, Aug. 12.—Three workmen were killed and one probably fatally injured when a wall adjoining a building under construction in East Third street collapsed early today.

The victims were Mexicans who were placed at work this morning. Their names were unknown to their employers.

The excavations for a building under construction on adjoining property are supposed to have undermined the wall. The collapse came without warning and the men had no chance to escape.

DISTRICT FAIR AT EUGENE SEPT. 7-11

The district fair of the Second

Southern Oregon District Agricultural Society promises to be an event which will attract a great deal of attention. A year ago grounds were bought by Eugene citizens and work has been going on there continually so that now Eugene has a place for Lane county's fairs as good as any city in the valley. The new grounds will be first used for fair and exhibit purposes next month, the district fair taking place there from September 7 to 11, inclusive, five days in all.

The committee in charge of the advertising has just put up hundreds of handsome lithographs and the fair association is working in earnest to make the fair a grand success.

AUTO HONKED HORSE HIKED MEN WINKED

Tried to Pass on Same Side of Road and Horse Jumped Over the Horseless Smell Wagon.

An unknown autoist and an unknown man driving a horse-power rig mixed up considerable on the slough road yesterday evening when one turned to one side of the road while the other did the same thing. The result was, the horse, which was not of the scary sort, jumped over the front end of the machine, broke the traces and went skinning up the road in race-horse fashion—lines broken, traces and other horse paraphernalia flying in the wind. In the meantime, the horseless man sat in his buggy critically eyeing the other fellow, who sat grinning in the horseless carriage, which was poked nose first under the front axle of the rig, and in this manner both sat and talked and had a nice social visit until a young lad came galloping back "over the trail" astride of the runaway horse. With the assistance of the autoist's tools and some baling wire the horse was again fastened into the shafts and after shaking hands and taking a wee nip from the contents of a formal looking flask which the auto man extracted from his pistol pocket the man with the machine cranked up and honked off and the other tapped his power with a hazel switch and hiked out, each going on his way in good spirits, and with some good spirits in them.

"I contracted a stubborn cold," he writes, "that developed a cough that stuck to me in spite of all remedies for years. My weight ran down to 130 pounds. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery, which restored my health completely. I now weigh 178 pounds."
