Miners to Meet in Goldfield—

Notices have been sent out by the officers of the National Mining congress to the effect that a meeting will be held in Goldfield, Nev., on the 27th, 28th, 29th and 30th of September and on the 1st and 2d of October, at which delegates from all over the United States are requested to be present. Governor Benson has not appointed the delegates to represent this state as yet.

Court Street Paving—

Court street will soon be added to the paved list. The crew commenced working last week at Twelfth street, and nearly two blocks are covered with the broken rock, while one block is practically completed. The grading is all done and the first course of rock is all hauled but about one block. By the end of the week the work will be well along, and next week the street should be opened for traffic.

Four to Fifteen Hours Late—

A complaint against the Columbia Southern Railway company has been filed with the railroad commission by the citizens of Antelope, Oregon, in which they state that the railroad company is giving a very poor service to the traveling public of Antelope by running its trains from four to fifteen hours late. The complaint alleges as a reason for the lateness of the trains is that the railroad company is trying to handle freight with their passenger trains. Postmaster W. E. Johnson and Mayor W. Bolton of Antelope have signed a complaint in connection with several other citizens of that town.

Oscar Made Them Wait—

Oscar Hodges, Dan Tarpley, "Buck" Ware, Harry Ralph and Billy Goodale went to Albany on the early train yesterday intending to go over to Toledo on a fishing jaunt. At Albany Hodges laid down by the track while waiting for the train and fell asleep, and the other boys went off and left him. When Oscar woke up he tumbled, but he is a good loser, so he just telegraphed over to the sheriff at Toledo to arrest and hold four men on the train pretended fishermen, who were wanted in Albany for bootlegging. When Hodges got to Toledo the sheriff had his men all right, and they were much gladder to see him than they thought they would be when they abandoned him, for it was not until he explained matters that the sheriff would let them go. The joke of the whole matter is that the sheriff had taken possession of all the "bait."

Splendid Local Service—

The observation and parlor car accommodation on trains 18 and 19, the Cottage Grove local, is a decided step in advance in railroad management, for it is seldom so good and complete a service is given anywhere on a purely local train. The service is complete in every detail, equaling that on the best equipped through trains, and the management deserves and is getting the thanks of the traveling public for the convenience and comfort afforded. The service is in the nature of an experiment, the feeling of the public pulse, as it were, to see if it was ready for so up to date a service. This is for the public to say, and the only way in which that opinion can be expressed is by the patronizing of these cars. It is to be hoped that people along the line will show their appreciation of the service by meeting the management's efforts at least half way and proving that no mistake is ever made in giving Willamette valley people the very best there is.
