FIVE DEAD IN AN AUTO ACCIDENT

Machine Running Forty Miles an Hour Jumps from a Trestle at Seattle Last Night.

[United Press Leased Wire.]
 Seattle, Aug. 20.—Five persons are dead in Seattle today as the result of an automobile accident which occurred late last night when a big Winton touring car crashed through the railing of a bridge at "Dead-man's curve," near Fourth avenue south and Andover street, and plunged into the bay, carrying its occupants to death in the water.

The dead:
 MRS. H. M. GROTHE, aged 34, Vancouver, B. C.
 MRS. J. COLVIN, aged 26, Vancouver, B. C.
 MISS AGNES COWAN, aged 23, sister of Mrs. Colvin, Vancouver, B. C.
 MISS MAGGIE PAUL, aged 27, Vancouver, B. C.
 IRA PARRY, Seattle.

The bodies of Parry and Mrs. Grothe and Miss Cowan were recovered about 1 o'clock this morning some distance from the scene of the wreck floating in the water. Efforts are now in progress to recover the bodies of Miss Paul and Mrs. Colvin. The automobile was being driven by Ira Parry, former proprietor of a cafe in Seattle, from whom the machine had been rented early in the evening to take the party, which, in addition to those who met death, consisted of Miss Mary Paul and Miss Katie Hiscock, for a trip into the country. The women were all members of a delegation from Vancouver, who were here attending the fair. They were being chaperoned by Mrs. T. Cox of Vancouver, who is staying at the Arlington hotel. She was not with the other members of the party last night.

The accident occurred at a dangerous curve in a trestle which passed over a portion of the bay. According to the two young women who escaped death in the terrible plunge the machine was running at about 40 miles an hour when the curve was reached. Parry, for some unknown reason, lost control of the car and it crashed through the railing and tumbled into the water, which at that point is eight or ten feet deep. The accident occurred with such suddenness that no opportunity was afforded the occupants to make any effort at escape and they were carried down into the water.

Roy Vanvander, a boatman, who was near the scene of the tragedy, heard the screams of the drowning victims and hurried to the rescue in a row boat. He found Miss Hiscock and Miss Paul clinging to the automobile, which was wholly submerged, and pulled them into his boat. After taking the two women ashore Vanvander notified the police and the police automobile and a company of firemen were dispatched to the scene. Firemen lowered ladders and crawling out on the boom of logs on the flats began the search for the victims of the automobile party. With pike-poles and long rods the flats in the vicinity of the places where the car went down was searched. The tide was running strongly at the time and it was two hours later that the three bodies were found by searchers in boats 300 yards from the scene. Search for the remaining two bodies is being continued this morning.

Miss Hiscock, although prostrated from grief and shock, told of the accident this morning.

"We were going at a good rate of speed when we struck something and in an instant found ourselves in the water," she said, between sobs. "I can't tell just what happened after that. It was all a jumble. We struggled in the water and were taken out. I cannot quite collect myself now; it's all too awful to think about."

Ira Parry, the chauffeur, who met his death, was married and lived with his wife and her mother on Warren avenue. He was formerly part owner of a cafe on First avenue, but recently acquired some automobile property and had cars on the renting stands. He was considered to be a good driver by chauffeurs. All of the Vancouver victims of the accident are members of highly respected families and were prominent in society circles there.

GOATS MAKE ROADS FOR FOREST RANGERS

The brush-eating instinct of the Angora goat is being successfully demonstrated on the Lassen national forest in California, where they are cutting trails for fire guards through the brushy areas on the slopes of the mountains.

The animals, which number 3000, have been divided into two bands and under the care of the herders are grazing within certain well defined areas so that their work may be concentrated on the brush within those limits. The result is that they have practically killed nearly all the brush in the course either by eating it up entirely or by barking, as in the case of the heavy manzanita bushes. At the beginning of the experiment there was some doubt as to the goats' willingness to eat the manzanita, but it has been found that where there is little else they will just as readily attack it as any other bushes.

The grazing season was so late this year on the Lassen forest that the goats did not begin operations until about the middle of June, but since then they have made rapid progress and the result promises to be a success from every point of view. The trails will first be opened and then kept free of sprouts by the goats, saving the government considerable labor in cutting them out by hand, as has been done heretofore, while the brushy forage which otherwise would have been wasted will support 3000 goats very comfortably.

CITY IS SLIDING INTO THE RIVER

Bombay, Aug. 20.—The fate of the prosperous Punjab city of Dera Ghazi Khan, with a population of 25,000, which for many years has been gradually slipping into the River Indus, is now regarded as definitely sealed.

Nothing can be done to prevent the encroachment of the waters. From 50 to 100 feet of the river front is being swept away every day, and one by one, mosques, mansions and hovels are disappearing in the stream.

If our girls were real humanitarians they would loan their big and ugly hats to the horses that have to work hard in the sweltering heat.

Soldier Battles Death Plot.

It seemed to J. A. Stone, a civil war veteran, of Kemp, Tex., that a plot existed between a desperate lung trouble and the grave to cause his death. "I contracted a stubborn cold," he writes, "that developed a cough that stuck to me in spite of all remedies for years. My weight ran down to 130 pounds. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery, which restored my health completely. I now weigh 178 pounds." For severe colds, obstinate coughs, hemorrhages, asthma and to prevent pneumonia it's unrivaled. 50c and $1 Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by J. C. Perry.

MAY UNITE TO AID IN EXCLUDING ASIATICS

Butte, Mont., Aug. 20.—There is much interest in Butte today over the announcement that the Montana Federation of Labor may decide to affiliate its work with that of the Asiatic Exclusion League on the Pacific coast. W. A. Cole of San Francisco, a member of the executive board of the National Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, yesterday addressed the convention on the work of the league.

POWDER MAGAZINES IN OSAKA EXPLODES

Osaka, Japan, Aug. 20.—This city was shaken today by a tremendous explosion of two great military magazines at 2 o'clock this morning. Four soldiers were mortally wounded, many were seriously hurt, and a great number of buildings destroyed by the shocks.

Thousands of refugees from the recent conflagration which wiped out one-fourth of the city thought the explosion was an earthquake and there was widespread panic throughout the city.

Between sleeping sickness and the lazy bug the loafer has a better chance for excuses than formerly.

Revolts at Cold Steel.

"Your only hope," said three doctors to Mrs. M. E. Fisher, of Detroit, Mich., suffering from severe rectal trouble, "lies in an operation. Then I used Dr. King's New Life Pills," she writes, "till wholly cured." They prevent appendicitis; cures constipation, headache. 25c at J. C. Perry
