Back From Nebraska—
Mrs. W. W. Hill has returned from an extended visit to relatives and friends in Haysville, Nebraska, her former home. The old familiar phrase that "there is no place like home" is not very consistent with Mrs. Hill's version of the surroundings while in Hastings, and especially to the climate. Her description of the Nebraska climate was not so cool that the thermometer would tumble over itself in reaching a point below 70 or 80, and it was so warm even during the nights that the girls, who would work the icy game on their enemy, man, were compelled to eat a quart or two of ice cream to act as a refrigerator on the eyes. Mrs. Hill returned home 10 pounds lighter, which she claims she result of walking all night hunting for a cool place to sleep. Of all the places Mrs. Hill has visited so far, she states that Salem is the one grand city yet to be spoken of as best.

PERSONAL MENTION

Miss Nean Holmes left this morning for Seattle to visit the exposition.

W. E. McWilliam of Roseburg is in the city, transacting business for a short time.

Frank Blood went to Portland this morning to look after business matters for a few days.

Miss Harriet Stone left for her home in Portland this morning, after visiting Salem friends for the past few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Blundell of San Francisco, former residents of Dallas, Ore., and well known in Salem, are visiting their many friends for a few days before resuming their trip to the Seattle exposition.

Winlock Steiner of Jefferson was in the city today looking after business matters and visiting friends.

Phil Bates, the handsome newspaper man of Portland, was in the city yesterday with the heavy-topped educators.

Daniel D. Whitcomb and family of Billings, Mont., are in the city looking over the state institutions and the city in general. Mr. Whitcomb has been visiting the Seattle exposition with his family for the past month and he is now making a tour of the points of interest in Oregon.

DELAY IN SENTENCE MAY MAKE IT VOID

Sacramento, Aug. 25.—Legal technicalities may free Mrs. Gertrude Driggs, the aged woman recently convicted and sentenced to five years in the San Quentin penitentiary for forging the signature to a 50-year lease upon property valued at more than $100,000 in the name of the late John Charnock of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Driggs was convicted in Los Angeles after a sensational trial. Her attorney, Paul Schenck, soon after came to this city, and yesterday was closeted with E. C. Cooper, secretary of Governor Gillett. As a result of this conference it was announced that failure to comply with an act passed by the recent legislature, compelling sentence to be passed within five days after conviction may render void the sentence passed in Los Angeles. Mrs. Driggs' sentence followed her conviction 23 days. Schenck today is in San Francisco, conferring with Attorney General Webb.

Quite often the system becomes run down and the blood impoverished and you need a tonic and stimulant to restore things to a normal condition. Then you need,

EXPECTS TO BE ASKED QUESTIONS

President Taft Says He Will Speak on Tariff and Is Not Afraid of His Record.

[United Press Leased Wire.]
Beverly, Mass., Aug. 25.—President Taft is expecting to experience some lively times during his visit to the western states when the cattlemen put up to him the question of free hides.

President Taft said today: "I am not in the habit of avoiding any issue that may be put up to me and you may be sure that I will not dodge any of the cattlemen who may want to raise the question of free hides.

"The tariff will likely be the theme of a number of my addresses in the cattle states, and if anyone cares to challenge my record I will be right there.

HENEY TALKS ABOUT THE BINGER HERMANN CASE

Portland, Aug. 25.—"I never said I would not try Binger Hermann. I do not know whether I will try him or whether he will ever be tried. I have lots of other things to think about just now. I would like to handle the case against him, but I do not know whether it will be possible," said Francis J. Heney, graft prosecutor, today.

"There is no reason why I should be the only one to try him; there are others who can do the work as well as I can. It depends on how things turn out in San Francisco. I have not heard from the department of justice recently about the case and I do not know how it now stands. But I never have said I would not take charge of the case."

Mr. Heney was in Portland last night and this morning. Today he is at Salem looking over a big prune orchard. Tonight he will return to Portland and tomorrow he will leave for Seattle. Friday night he will deliver a lecture on "Graft" in the Presbyterian church, presided over by Dr. Matthews.

INCUBATOR KID WANTS HER MAMMA

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 25.—Martha Bleakley, the 5-year-old "incubator baby," who is alleged to have been kidnapped several days ago by Mrs. Barclay and John Gentry, from Topeka, today expressed a preference for her mother over Mrs. Barclay.

Mrs. Bleakley has been compelled to return to Topeka for business reasons.

The child, at the jail this morning with Mrs. Barclay, said: "They wouldn't let me go home with mamma, and I want to go."

Many a young man thinks he is getting into a peach orchard when he is really finding his way into a lemon grove.

MOTHER KIDNAPED HER OWN BABY

Richmond, Va., Aug. 25.—Mrs. J. W. Weaver of Los Angeles today is in possession of her daughter, which her husband is alleged to have kidnaped after leaving her at Los Angeles and coming to Richmond, where he lived under the name of Williams.

Mrs. Weaver says she came here a week ago upon learning that her husband was living here. Accompanied by her brother-in-law, W. O. Whistler of Los Angeles, and several officers of Henrico county, the two took an automobile and ran out to the home of Williams, a short distance from the city limits.

The little girl it is alleged was playing in a doorway and upon recognizing her mother ran to her. Mrs. Weaver then is said to have fled to the automobile with the child and returned to the city.

Mrs. Weaver said today that she has traveled 8000 miles to recover her child, which is 4 years old. The couple, according to Mrs. Weaver's statement, were married in Los Angeles five years ago.

DIED.

FULLERTON—August 24, 1909, at 3 p. m., four miles south of the city, Robert James Fullerton, age 42 years.

He was a native of Pennsylvania and was a cousin of Mrs. H. A. Cupp, at whose home she died. A sister is living at Spokane, Wash., who is on her way here now. The body was embalmed and prepared for burial by J. C. Sill of the Cottage undertaking parlors.
