RUSHING WORK ON NATRON LNIE

A carload of scrapers arrived yesterday, from Boca, Cal., and 10 or 12 more cars of machinery and horses are expected on any train. The sub-contractors are out along the route making preliminary arrangements that will be necessary before actual construction work begins. It is necessary to establish headquarters along the route where the different crews will be located and also to build wagon roads for the heavy freight teams to get in and out with supplies. At the present time there are about 150 men at work but within another week there will be many times that number. Different warehouses and supply stations will be built, the first to be erected at Natron. This work will be under the supervision of one of the local contractors, Mr. Geo. Perkins, who has been employed as general foreman over the carpenter crew.

The Southern Pacific Company's headquarters, which is located in one of the Dr. R. A. Jayne buildings, is now a scene of great activity and has a full crew. The engineers have their survey crews made up and have gone into camp along the line. They were joined by several local boys who will assist in the work. Many strangers are in the city who are looking for work, but are picked up by some of the different contractors immediately upon arrival. The Utah Construction Company have not opened their offices as yet, but are making arrangements to do so within the next few days—Springfield Times.

DAILY NEWSPAPER DOES FINE WORK

The Daily News, of St. Paul, Minn., accomplished quite a feat recently. It published an edition of the paper while its plant was burning, rescuing part of the necessary equipment from the burning building and having the Daily News pink extra with the complete baseball score on the street while the Daily News building was in flames. When the fire broke out in the Daily News office the pink extra was being prepared for the press. The matrix from which the press plates are made was in the steam table when the stereotypers were forced to flee from the building. If the matrix under the table could be saved the Daily News "pink" could be issued in spite of the fire raging in the Daily News office. Here is where Johnny Heule, one of the Daily News stereotypers, proved himself a hero. To fight the fire the department had run a ladder up to the window in the stereotyping room. Heule was the first one up the ladder, seizing a long chance to save the matrix. The stereotyping room was on fire, and the smoke was dense as night. Familiar with the location of the steam table, Heule jumped through the window, relieved the pressure on the matrix, and, although almost suffocated, snatched the precious sheet from the flames and staggered back to the window, descending the ladder with his lungs full of smoke and his eyes almost swollen shut. But he saved the matrix. Hurrying to the Pioneer Press building the press plates were made.

METHODIST CONFERENCE AT COTTAGE GROVE

The Methodist Episcopal district conference will open its annual session in Cottage Grove Wednesday morning, September 15, and continue over the Sunday following. It will be the largest gathering of people from outside points ever assembled at Cottage Grove, in fact no city in the state in Cottage Grove's class has ever attempted to hold this conference and entertain so many visitors, such conferences or conventions rarely being held in cities smaller than Eugene or Salem, the last M. E. conference having been held at the latter place. There will be at least 150 ministers and more than that number of laymen of the church at this conference, and, as it continues nearly a week, it will tax our city to its utmost to entertain so many distinguished guests. Bishop Chas. Wesley Smith, of Portland, formerly of Pittsburg, Pa., will preside, and many other prominent officials of the church will be present and deliver sermons during the course of the conference in the various churches of the city. It will be a great event for Cottage Grove, and a big advertisement for the town. As these visitors come from all parts of Middle, Western and Southern Oregon, we should all put forth a special effort to make their brief sojourn here pleasant. A favorable impression of Cottage Grove on their part will be worth much in many ways and especially to the new Nesmith county movement.

Soldier Banks Death Plot.

It seemed to J. A. Stone, a civil war veteran, of Kemp, Tex., that a plot existed between a desperate lung trouble and the grave to cause his death. "I contracted a stubborn cold," he writes, "that developed a cough that stuck to me in spite of all remedies for years. My weight ran down to 130 pounds. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery, which restored my health completely. I now weigh 175 pounds." For severe colds, obstinate coughs, hemorrhages, asthma and to prevent pneumonia it's unrivaled. 50c and $1 Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by J. C. Perry.

What's In McClure's.

Lieutenant Shaketon, whose remarkable Antarctic expedition discovered new lands, and made the closest approach to the south pole yet achieved by man, begins his story of the expedition, entitled "Farthest South," in the September McClure's. President Emeritus Charles W. Elliot, of Harvard, describes the great success of the new Canadian labor legislation under the title of "The Best Way to Prevent Industrial Warfare." Sir Harry Johnston, the English scientist, gives "An Englishman's Impressions of American Rule in Cuba." George Kibbe Turner discusses the current temperance question from a new standpoint in "Beer and the City Liquor Problem." Jesse Macy, on "The Efficiency of English Courts," and E. T. Brewster, on "The Fly—The Disease of the House," contribute two interesting and notable articles. The fiction includes stories by Percival Gibbon, John Fleming Wilson and Kenneth Brown, and there are poems by Florence Wilkinson and Willa Sibert Cather.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is cataract. Hall's Cataract Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Cataract being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Cataract Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they will cure you free of charge. It will cure you. For sale by J. C. Perry.

CELEBRATE LABOR DAY IN CHICAGO

High Prices of Milk and Ice Cause Terrible Death List Among the Ghetto Babies.

Chicago, Aug. 27.—Five hundred girls and women will participate in the Labor Day parade on September 6, as representatives of 34 organized bodies of Chicago women workers, in occupations ranging from vaudeville artists and corset makers to teachers, stenographers and horse nail makers, and will embody a flesh and blood plea for motherhood and homes, for babies, and for the protection of women. Earnestness of purpose of these girls and women finds no possible wet blanket in the probable prospect of walking over the purposed route of four miles because of the scarcity of union teamsters and the difficulty and expense of securing automobiles. Mrs. Raymond Robins, president of the Woman's National Trades Union League and also president of the Women's Trades Union League of Chicago; Miss Mary E. McDowell of the University of Chicago settlement house and the vice president of the Chicago branch; Miss Emma Steghagen, the secretary, and Miss Agnes Nestor, the treasurer, will direct the woman's section of a parade that will comprise over 25,000 men and will add a high light with its pennants of white and gold and its bright-eyed girls to the grim phalanxes of the toilers. The picturesque May-pole of last year in which dozens of white-garbed women mounted in a tallyho held the ends of a canopy of varicolored streamers bearing such mottoes as "Equal Pay for Equal Work," "No Child Labor," "Educate, Agitate, Organize," will be repeated with an additional cry "Fellowship is Life," supplementing the eight aphorisms of last year.

The Chicago league founded in 1904 by Miss Jane Addams, Mrs. Charles Henriotin, Miss Mary E. McDowell and other pioneer champions of the woman who works, is but 12 months the junior of the national body which made its debut in 1903 under the guidance of two delegates from Great Britain. To the crusades waged by this organization is largely due the progress of industrial emancipation for women in Illinois. Fair wages, decent working conditions and shorter hours, above all the eight-hour day, are the present demands of the league which even now is preparing for another onslaught upon the Illinois state legislature arguing the 48-hour week for women workers. Adequate protection of machinery and the employment of steam and electric power whenever possible are further subjects for agitation with surgical statistics ably recruited as a forcible campaign lever. Examination of medical reports and summaries reveals an appallingly high registration of girls and women unfitted for wife and motherhood and home-making, and permanently broken in health as a consequence of various criminally exhaustive industrial occupations carried on under conditions that should be judicially termed illegal.

Hitting the ice trust between the eyes with the brass knuckles of applied scientific invention, and saving Chicago's slum babies in the face of the unequalled advances in the price of ice and the milk rise this season, and consequent forced economies and un-iced and soured milk for many babies, has been successfully accomplished through the use of thermos or vacuum bottles as ice eliminators. In the day nursery of the Esther Falkenstein Settlement House, located in the pitiable poor Ghetto district, this is the section of the city where 72 per cent of the infantile deaths in July occurred this year as against 57 per cent last year, though but 27 per cent of the city's population dwells there. During the second week in August in this district the baby death toll leaped to 194 as against 142 on the preceding week, an increase even above the heavy mortality record of the same period last year.

"Individuals in this quarter have queer ideas of economy, just like the municipal fathers," declares Mrs. Esther Falkenstein, head resident of the settlement. "They appear to think it's cheaper to buy coffins than ice or refrigerators or even milk-saving devices. Increased cost of living and stationary wage scales have cut off from many what are the vitally common and common conveniences of life. Destitution near our creche is as severe in the summer as in the winter. One poor girl barely 20 deserted by her husband before her babe was born, brings the child, now five months old, to us every day and then the poor young mother, deaf and lamed from her husband's brutalities, goes out to clean by the day. We have from 25 to 30 babies daily, though the creche has been opened only a month and our room is limited. The icing problem was a grievous tax upon us the first two weeks but by shaving down this expense we have more money for food—can spend more for the milk and less for the means to keep it sweet, and that's an item with milk advancing a cent a quart. Every penny is precious here in the Ghetto where babies die like rats in a pestilence, where the undertaker is as well known as the postman, and death lurks at half the meals the bottle babies sip."

Weak women should read my "Book No. 4 for Women." It tells how these soothing, healing, antiseptic suppositories bring quick and certain help. The book is free. Address Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. Capital Drug Store.

DOESN'T THIS MAKE YOUR MOUTH WATER

Ten, 11 and 12-pound trout have been common catches on the Upper lake this summer, but it took a lady, Mrs. M. H. Job, to make the record catch of the season, viz: a 15-pound rainbow trout, which made such a desperate fight that it took Mrs. Job 32 minutes to land him.

Many a sportsman would gladly give a hundred dollars for the privilege of landing such a beauty. Glen Johnson, the photographer, was so lucky as to get a snapshot of Mrs. Job and her prize.—Klamata Express.

MEMBERS OF CREW STOLE $25,000

Prince Rupert, B. C., Aug. 27.—Seven members of the crew of the steamer St. Dennis are in jail here today awaiting trial on the charge of having broken into the strong box of the steamer and stealing a package containing $25,000. The steamer arrived early yesterday morning from Port Essington. The theft was discovered before the ship reached the harbor, and all of the passengers were searched before they were permitted to go ashore. The search of the crew and quarters revealed $5000 in currency stuffed in a mattress in the steward's room. Various other amounts were found hidden amongst the cargo in old cans and cuspidors. A loaf of bread, thrown from the galley, was picked up and found to contain $2000. All of the money except $2500 has now been recovered.

According to the authorities one of the waiters has confessed to opening the strong box, and the alleged confession implicates several of the crew, including even the Chinese cooks.

The money box was being shipped to the different canneries on the Naas river, and was to pay the wages of the employes for the fishing season just ended.

Granulated Sore Eyes Cured.
"For twenty years I suffered from a bad case of granulated sore eyes," says Martin Boyd, of Henrietta, Ky. "In February, 1903, a gentleman asked me to try Chamberlain's Salve. I bought one box and used about two-thirds of it and my eyes have not given me any trouble since." This salve is for sale by all good druggists.

The manufacture of wire glass is of St. Louis origin, and the largest factory in the world devoted to this product is in that city. It employs 350 men.

PARALYZED BY ELECTRIC SHOCK

[United Press Leased Wire.]
Tacoma, as Wh., Aug. 27.—As the result of an electric shock received through a telephone receiver, Miss Maude E. Stearns, 20 years old, is today suffering from paralysis of the left side. Miss Stearns was rendered unconscious by the shock, which was in some unexplained manner communicated to her while telephoning Wednesday evening, and lay prostrate on the floor for nearly an hour before she was discovered by her parents. When she recovered consciousness her left side was paralyzed, and her left arm and leg were rigid. The physician who is attending Miss Stearns states that he believes his patient will recover in a few days.

BOOTH'S EYESIGHT MAY BE RESTORED

London, Aug. 27.—Hope is now expressed that the eyesight of General Booth, founder of the Salvation Army, may be completely restored, following the operation on his eyes by Dr. Higgins.

Dr. Higgins today expressed surprise over the mass of dust particles which he had removed from General Booth's eyes.

A bulletin issued today stated that Booth is progressing favorably.

General Booth's eyes became inflamed from an accumulation of dust and septic poisoning set in.

The cataract in his eye has not been removed as yet.
