TYROLESE CENTENNIAL CELEBRATED AT SALEM

Three Hundred Delegates and Visitors From Western Oregon Cities Entertained by Salem German Society.

The celebration of the 100th anniversary of the struggle for Tyrolean liberty, which was observed, under the auspices of the Salem German Society, brought nearly 300 delegates and visitors to Salem Sunday. The Portland societies sent two special cars over the Oregon Electric.

and all were met by the reception committees and conducted to the local society hall on State street, where a lunch was served. Special cars at 1 p. m. took the entire gathering to the Savage grove, east of the city. Before going there the guests scattered over the city, visited the state capitol and other institutions of our beautiful city. All the visitors expressed delight at the wide streets, beautiful pavements and public business buildings of Salem. The day was perfect and the entire program of arrangements drew compliments for the Salem German-speaking citizens, who were hosts for the occasion.

Some of the Delegations.

The Helvetia Saenger Club sent an excursion party of 50 members and their ladies.

The Austrian Hungarian Verein sent about 25 delegates and ladies.

The Oregon City German Verein arrived on a special car via the Southern Pacific, 52 strong, led by President Schnoerr, of Willamette.

The Mt. Angel German Society sent 12 delegates.

The German Veterans' Society, of Portland, sent about 20 delegates. The iron cross was quite prominent.

The Hermanns Soehne sent about 20 delegates.

The Eugene delegation was headed by the officers and following members:

Emil Koppe, president, and wife; Albert C. Landeman, secretary; Robert Aya, John Boehringer, Michel Wald, Fritz Wald, Ralph Marx, Gustav Adolph Sachs and wife, Bruno Vitus, wife, son and daughter, Franz Schober, Joseph Brauner and son, John Schmitt, P. J. Boeller, Jacob Strassmaier, V. J. Benicki, George Heitzman and wife.

Program at the Grove.

The president of the Salem Verein called the large assembly to order, and extended the visiting delegates a cordial welcome. He read a telegram from Otto Kleeman, of Portland, president of the Consolidation of German Speaking Societies of Oregon, regretting that he was unable to be present at the celebration in honor of the Tyrolean national hero, Andreas Hofer. The Salem Gesang Verein now rendered two beautiful national German songs, "Der Tag des Herren" and "Roeslein auf der Heide." The following able and scholarly historical address by Rev. Carl Hopf, of the State street Lutheran church, on "The Centenary of Tyrolean Liberty," which was loudly applauded by all present. The musical event of the day was the singing of "Zu Mantua in Banden" solo by F. G. Deekabach and chorus by all the members of the singing societies present. The seat of honor on the platform was given Jos. Albrecht, the oldest Tyrolean present, three of his mother's brothers having fought under Andreas, the immortal.

Short Addresses.

Short addresses were delivered by President Koppe and Delegate Sachs, of Eugene; Secretary Fuchs, of the State Verband; Emil Krattiger, of the Swiss Gruetli Verein; Herr Reischer, president of the Deutscher Unterstuetzungs Verein, of Portland, an diast by President Schnoerr, of Oregon City. This last address was thrilling with genuine German eloquence, and to cap the climax Wilhelm Heiser, of McMinnville, delivered a splendid original "Saenger Grusz." One scene that caused a great deal of merriment was when President Schnoerr, of Oregon City, greeted the presiding officer in a very touching manner. He threw his arms about his neck in the old-fashioned national embrace, as the men do more kissing among themselves in that country than any other. The address of E. Krattiger and
