HEMBREE WILL GET A NEW TRIAL.

Mr. Hembree of Tillamook county, who was accused of a heinous crime, gets a new trial at the hands of the supreme court.

There will be newspapers that will roast that body of judges for granting Hembree a chance to escape hanging.

But there must be a line drawn somewhere against taking the life and liberty of an accused man on mere circumstantial evidence.

The trial court might have held that way if it had not been permitted under the law to pass the question up higher.

In all such matters let us err on the side of mercy and fair play and remember to put yourself in the other man's place.

STILL JOKING ABOUT PRAYER.

There is a well-meaning class of newspaper men in Oregon who refer to prayer in a light and joking manner.

There are even public men who pretend to have some relation to political affairs who think praying is a hoax.

What ever people may think of securing rain by prayer, we hope never to be classed among those skeptical about prayer.

The Salem politicians joke about bringing Taft to Salem as a result of properly directed intelligent prayer.

It could be done, but prayer must be preceded by right conduct, and it will be recalled that a Salem political convention refused to consider Taft as a candidate.

Gentlemen who wish to have their prayers heard should look ahead and not treat a great man lightly when he needs help.

However, if they will promise to be good in future we shall not mind offering up a petition for them at the right time, and in the proper spirit and we hope it may be answered properly.

THE DUTY OF SALEM TO PORTLAND.

The Capital Journal would like to have the ear of the Salem boosters for a moment.

You could do no better than get up a trainload of people and visit the Portland fair in a body.

The Portland fair and livestock show is the big event of the week.

Bigger and better than ever, the annual event is attracting wide attention all over the northwest.

The attendance is outdoing that of last year and the attractions offered are far ahead of last season.

The exhibition of livestock is valued at more than a million dollars and is twenty-five per cent larger than last year.

The state fair at Salem exhibits of livestock were taken to Portland and numerous attractions have been added that will make the week's show a notable one.

Stock entries have been made from the central and eastern states that have never been shown west of Chicago and Denver.

Nearly 500 harness horses will contend for the $25,000 in race purses this week.

Livestock entries will bring close to 3000 head of horses, cattle, sheep, swine and goats.

Portland has done the great, big, generous act for a number of years in thronging our state fair one day in the week.

We owe it to ourselves to give the big metropolis a bit in return for their good will, and why not do it?

There are reduced rates and every man who loves this city five cents' worth should go down to that fair.

It can be worked up with our Business Men's League and Board of Trade, and we should all take hold of the matter.

Salem has a great deal at stake and indifference will be a costly luxury that the Capital City cannot afford.

THERE IS MONEY IN JERSEYS.

Jersey stock brings hundreds of thousands of dollars to the Willamette valley annually.

At a sale at Halsey the other day Jersey cows sold up to nearly $300 apiece.

A Marion county farmer sold six Jerseys cows for $300 the past week.

Jersey herds by the carload have been shipped out of the Jefferson neighborhood for years.

It will pay any family to own a good pure-bred Jersey cow that costs not less than a hundred dollars.

It does not pay even a small farmer to own and care for anything but pure-bred stock.

If nothing but pure-bred Jerseys were raised in this county it would add a hundred thousand dollars a year to the wealth of the county.

The same is true of any county in the Willamette valley. There are those who predict that butter fat will go to forty and even fifty cents a pound.

Would it not pay you to sell off that mooley scrub and get a Jersey Queen of the Dairy?

Best cut single specimen (first and second).

Best specimen in pot (first and second).

Best general floral display.

Best display of house plants.

Active work is being done by both apple fair and chrysanthemum committees.

"HASTY PUDDING" FOR TAFT AT SACRAMENTO

[UNITED PRESS LEASING WIRE.] Sacramento, Cal., Sept. 22.—President Taft will be given a banquet of simple viands here, according to an announcement made today by the members of the reception committee, who will have charge of the entertainment of the President during his visit to this city, on the evening of October 4.

This decision is in line with a request of the President through his secretary, Fred W. Carpenter, who telegraphed the following message to Congressman Duncan McKinley:

"The President would be glad to have your committee arrange a simple dinner, in order that it may be carried through as briefly as possible."

Killed by Flying Machine.

[UNITED PRESS LEASING WIRE.] Paris, Sept. 22.—Captain Ferber, of the French army, was instantly killed today while attempting a flight in a Voisin bi-plane at Bologne Sur Mer, on the French coast. The machine fell to the ground and Captain Ferber was horribly mangled.

Astoria claims that the lumbering industry brings $2,500,000 to that point yearly, and other pay rolls, exclusive of fishing, $500,000.

railroads. Round trip rates will be one and one-third fare from all points south of Oregon City and north of Eugene on the East Side; south of McMinnville and north of Corvallis on the West Side. A special one-fare rate for the round trip from all points on the Corvallis & Eastern. The rates cover the territory embraced in the forthcoming apple fair, and ought to insure a large attendance.

On of the attractions of the fair will be R. H. Rice, the secretary manager of the Second National Apple Show of Spokane, Washington, who will deliver an address on some topic relating to the apple industry or exploitation.

In connection with the apple fair this year the ladies of Albany are arranging for a Chrysanthemum carnival. A committee consisting of Mrs. E. W. Cooper, chairman; Mrs. C. H. Stewart and Mrs. L. E. Hamilton, has prepared a list of prizes, which will be offered for the following displays:

Greatest number of varieties of chrysanthemums, quality considered. Best collection of ten varieties. Best collection of five varieties.
