

GEORGE H. WILLIAMS IN HOSPITAL

Is Resting Easily and in No Immediate Danger, But the Weight of Years is Against Him.

Portland, Or., Sept. 23.—Although serious results are feared, it became known today that Judge George H. Williams, Oregon's distinguished jurist, and formerly mayor of this city, is at Good Samaritan hospital today suffering from a complaint of which he has been a victim for several weeks.

Judge Williams was resting easily today, and is in no immediate danger.

Judge Williams probably is the best known man in Oregon. He was attorney-general under President Grant, and was one of the men who signed the fourteenth amendment to the national constitution.

He has represented Oregon as United States senator, was at one time chief justice of Oregon territory, and drew up the constitution of Oregon.

Judge Williams was born in New Lebanon, N. Y., March 26, 1823.

JOY RIDE ENDS IN WRECK AND DEATH

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 23.—Two women are dead, one man is dying in a hospital, two others are slightly injured and a third woman is seriously hurt as the result of an automobile "joy ride," which ended shortly after daylight this morning, when the big Pope-Toledo car plunged from a bridge in the southern part of the city over the tide flats. The car immediately caught fire, when the gasoline tank exploded, and all of the occupants, except the chauffeur, who was thrown clear of the car, were pinned underneath and burned. When removed from the wreckage nearly all the clothing of the women was burned from their bodies, and it has so far been impossible to determine which one of them is still alive. The names of the three women in the car are:

Winnie Fraser, Mrs. Johnson and Miss Fox.

Alexander had one of his legs burned off as he lay pinned under the burning automobile, and he is dying at the hospital. Other victims of the accident, who are suffering from severe burns, are:

J. E. Lindsay, Thomas Finch and Christina Anderson.

The chauffeur, Henry Heiser, from whom the party rented the automobile, is unharmed. He was arrested after the accident, and is held in jail.

The automobile was traveling at a high rate of speed on the return trip from Georgetown, where the party had spent some time, when at a sharp turn on the wooden trestle that spans the tide flats along Fourth avenue and Lane streets, the steering gear refused to work, and the car crashed through the frail guard and turned turtle on the tide flats, 15 feet below.

One of the women was killed outright, every bone in her body being broken by the heavy machine falling on top of her. The flames, which sprang up the instant the machine hit the ground, burned one of her legs to a crisp before she could be extricated. Winnie Fraser was taken unconscious from the wreckage, and died an hour later in the Seattle General Hospital of burns and shock.

Within a few minutes after the accident only the blackened, smoking ruins of the motor car and the broken bridge rail remained to tell the story of the tragedy.

The noise of the crash and screams of those in the car were heard by a number of early risers in the neighborhood, and men and women hurried to the scene. Some one turned in an alarm, and a company of firemen soon reached the spot and took charge of the rescue work.

The automobile was rented by the party about 1:30 o'clock this morning on Second avenue, and, with chauffeur Heiser at the wheel, the merry party started for Georgetown. The accident occurred at 5:40

Do the right thing if you have nasal catarrh. Get Ely's Cream Balm at once. Don't touch the catarrh powders and snuffs, as they contain cocaine. Ely's Cream Balm releases the secretions that inflame the nasal passages and the throat, whereas medicines made with mercury merely dry up the secretions and leave you no better than you were. upon the success of the great irrigation and reclamation projects.

Bullinger was pestered by hundreds of persons who have new projects to suggest, complaints to make and theories regarding the proper completion of work already under way.

The first stop was made this morning at Colorado Springs. An elaborate reception was held in honor of the chief executive here. After addressing the people who turned out in great numbers to greet him, the president left on the narrow gauge road for West Portal, the mouth of the great Gunnison tunnel, where he was scheduled to turn on the water, formerly starting up the great project, which has not been finished far enough to permit of its use.

The turning on of the water this afternoon marks the opening of about twenty thousand acres of land, which under the effect of the water is expected to become extraordinarily productive.

Pinchot to Meet Taft.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 23.—Chief Forester Gifford Pinchot left Los Angeles today for Salt Lake, where he will meet the presidential party tomorrow night. Pinchot's going to Salt Lake at the time President Taft and Secretary of the Interior Bullinger are expected there is an accident, but it is expected that an important conference will be held relating to the attitude of the administration toward the vexed question of methods in the conservation of the natural resources of the country.

"I had bought my ticket for Salt Lake before I learned that the President and his party were to arrive there at the same time that I arrive," explained Mr. Pinchot today, "but I shall probably see the President."

"No, I cannot talk about the so-called Bullinger-Pinchot controversy. I know nothing officially about it, and so can say nothing."

Pinchot, however, was enthusiastic over the development of sentiment for the Roosevelt conservation idea in the West.

"Why, everywhere I have been," he said, "there is a strong feeling that the resources of the country ought to belong to the whole people. I think the sentiment is general all over the country."

"I have found conditions on the Pacific coast reserves better than at any time I have visited them. There are fewer complaints and less friction between the officials of the national forests and the managers of them. The people are getting to understand each other better every day and all misunderstandings will rapidly disappear."

On the train with Pinchot went John Hays Hammond, the noted mining engineer and president of the National League of Republican Clubs. Hammond will join the Taft party at Salt Lake.

The chief forester is carrying his right hand in a bandage as the result of an encounter with a big stingray, while he was fishing at San Clement Island last week. He was alone in a skiff and got a big stingray on the hook. The fish was four feet broad, and as soon as he took the bait began to tow the boat. Pinchot got his fingers caught between the line and the boat, and the bruises took off the fingernail of the index finger.

COMMANDER PEARY GETS BIG RECEPTION

Portland, Me., Sept. 23.—Commander Robert E. Peary today entered the United States for the first time since he left on his successful quest of the north pole, when he touched the boundaries of Maine at 9:30 o'clock this morning, crossing over from Vanceboro.

He arrived at Bangor at 1:15 p. m., and was greeted by an enthusiastic crowd of citizens, who welcomed his return to his own country with rousing cheers.

Soon after reaching the city Peary was escorted to the Bangor House, where he was a guest at a luncheon, attended by the mayor and prominent citizens.

Later the explorer was given a loving cup by the reception committee, the ceremony taking place on the balcony of the hotel, in view of the crowd of citizens, who cheered the explorer when he received the cup. It is estimated that fully 12,000 persons jammed the thoroughfares for blocks.

At 3:45 this afternoon Commander Peary boarded the Bar Harbor express for Portland, due here at 7:40 this evening.

Immediately upon his arrival here he will be tendered a banquet at the Falmouth Hotel, following which a reception will be held at the auditorium. Peary will spend the night here, and will leave for Eagle Island tomorrow.

A Narrow Escape.

Edgar N. Bayliss, a merchant of Robinsonville, Del., wrote: "About two years ago I was thin and sick, and coughed all the time, and if I did not have consumption it was near to it. I commenced using Foley's Honey and Tar, and it stopped my cough, and I am now entirely well, and have gained about 25 pounds, all due to the good results from taking Foley's Honey and Tar. J. C.
