SHALL THE OLD CAMP GROUND VANISH ?

The old-time campers this year express regrets that the board at the state fair has seen fit to encroach upon the camping grounds of years gone by. A meeting was held in the east grove last Thursday night, at which the campers expressed themselves as in favor of increased facilities for the comfort of all. Some who had camped on the ground for 25 and 40 years were greatly grieved that each year the trees disappear and not one is replaced.

Mr. H. A. Gannis, of Eastern Linn, said that he was done with being treated like a Siwash. "We pay our taxes," said he, "to keep up this fair. I am so situated that I must come with my team. My team and that of a hundred others must stand in the weather and we are forced to be spattered with manure and mud if we camp near our team. The state has taken our camping ground and used it for buildings instead of going into the open and saving the beautiful grove. They burn up the lumber, stakes, wood and straw of the campers and we are compelled to rustle the following year or pay three prices for a few sticks of wood. The troughs in which we are expected to water our horses are a decade old. There is no water to flush our toilets, and when the crowds throng the grounds it is necessary to have water hauled for this purpose. The trees are cut away and we have little shelter. Lumber enough is burned each year, actually destroyed, that would house our teams. During my lifetime I have seen the old camping place of my childhood disappear. We come here for pleasure, and to visit with our friends and relatives; but that outing is marred by having to fight for space in which to place our teams and our tents. The campers make the fair and without them the Oregon state fair will dwindle. If the campers of this ground become dissatisfied and oppose legislative appropriations, what will be the result? We deserve better treatment."

Mr. Clint Cole, of Albany, said: "It has been my misfortune for years to camp in the vicinity of the unloading and loading, and my rest and pleasure is destroyed. It is unjust to us to load their stock in our camp grounds."

Mr. T. L. Davidson, Jr., said: "I am no kicker; but just mark me as sent in 1910."

Had Taken no Bath Since Christmas

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 29.—In her quest for a divorce today before Judge Shakelford, of the superior court, Mrs. Lillian Kemp told the unhappy facts of her wedded life, relating the alleged cold and crabbed conduct of her husband, Hugh Kemp. The court listened with judicial calmness, and when she had finished asked:

"Is there anything further?"
"Well, judge," responded the witness, "my husband is not tidy in his personal appearance, and he has not taken a bath since last Christmas."
"The decree is granted," was the ready response of the court.

The woman was allowed to resume her maiden name of Lillian Hamilton.

All Physicians

Must prescribe some of the ingredients that are contained in Hood's Sarsaparilla—for all troubles of the blood, stomach, kidneys and liver.

They include sarsaparilla, stillingia, yellow dock, gentian, wild cherry bark, mandrake, dandelion, juniper berries, pipsissewa, etc.

The combination and proportions are our own formula and give power to cure beyond the reach of any other prescription or substitute. That's why it is wise to get Hood's and only Hood's.

TAFT SORE AT CHANGE IN PROGRAM

Refuse to Make Extra Speeches or a Septic Tank of His Stomach to Please Committees.

(By Robert H. Hazard, Staff Correspondent, United Press, with President Taft.)

North Yakima, Wash., Sept. 29.—Orders have been sent ahead on the presidential itinerary to cut all programs to the bone. Mr. Taft's patience has become exhausted over the checky manner in which the local arrangements committees in the various cities he has visited has enlarged his labor by adding speeches, hand-shaking receptions and long automobile rides to his program.

At Spokane yesterday he voiced his protest at both the luncheon and the dinner because he was called upon to speak, after he had been assured that he would not be expected to say anything.

"The promise is always exacted, always given and always violated," said the President at the luncheon, referring to the functions where local committees have pledged themselves to spare him.

At dinner he again voiced his disapproval with the arrangements that forced him to talk after a long day of many speeches. The guests at the banquet thought the President was joking, but there was no joke intended.

In addition to sending out orders that all speaking programs must be chopped, the President has directed that the meals served in his honor must be made as simple as possible. All mysterious foreign dishes are to be eliminated, the desserts cut out, and the menus comprise dishes as digestible as possible.

Indigestion is the bugbear that the President fears on this trip. If his digestive apparatus goes back on him he knows that it will spell the end of the trip.

WHEW, HOW I HATE MEAT!

Say Mr. and Mrs. Fat.

Is it any wonder that the fat people hate hot weather? If your heart and lungs and stomach were bound around with layer after layer of false flesh that gave out a terrible unnatural heat and that interfered with their normal functions you would understand the aversion of fat people to hot weather. There is absolutely no reason for fat people staying fat in this age of triumph. We do not advise drugging yourself, dieting or exercising yourself to death, but there is a method that has been proven successful. It is the famous Marmola tablets which do the work of removing fat exactly like nature intends it should be done. They stop the digestive organs from producing fat. They seek out the fat as it lies around the body and remove it at the rate of from 12 to 15 ounces a day. These little tablets are made from the great Marmola prescription, and compressed into hard tablets by tremendous power. You may carry one in your pocket, and always eat a meal in peace of mind, for you know that the tablet will get you the best results from such a meal. These tablets contain nothing but Marmola, Cascara, Aromatic and Peppermint Water, but they do their work so pleasantly, harmlessly and so fast that you will be surprised. They are sold by every druggist, price 75 cents per case, or if you prefer you may write the Marmola Company, Detroit, Mich.

Testifies After Four Years.

Carlisle Center, N. Y., G. B. Burbans writes: "About four years ago I wrote you that I had been entirely cured of kidney trouble by taking two bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy, and after four years I am again pleased to state that I have never had any return of those symptoms, and am evidently cured to stay cured." Foley's Kidney Remedy will do the same for you. J. C. Perry.

TWO MORE KILLED BY THEIR AUTO

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]

Riverdale, L. I., Sept. 29.—Mechanic J. T. Bates is dying with a fractured skull and Driver Herbert Lytle is in a serious condition as the result of Lytle's car being ditched today during the Long Island derby of automobiles over the Suffolk county course.

Lytle was driving an Apperson, and when he made the turn two miles west of Mattituck, the machine suddenly skidded and shot into a ditch.

Lytle was thrown 50 feet ahead of the car, and was badly hurt, while Bates was crushed under the completely wrecked machine. In addition to sustaining a fractured skull, both of Bates' legs were broken.

Louis Chevrolet, in a Buick machine, established a new American road average for class B cars, selling between $1250 and $2000, when he covered 113 1/2 miles at the rate of 68 1/2 miles an hour.

Mechanic Bates died two hours after the accident.

Driver Lytle's condition is extremely serious, but physicians say that he has a chance for recovery.

When news of the accident reached the grand stand Mrs. D. W. Loft, owner of the Mercedes machine in the race, had the car withdrawn and announced that she was through with racing, although she had bought the Mercedes from W. K. Vanderbilt especially for such contests.

Secretary Wilson will leave Taft's cabinet in January. He has been a cabinet officer for 12 years.
