HOP MARKET

IS VERY FIRM

The hop market in this vicinity is still practically untroubled, and buying is confined to small lots of one and two hundred bales. Kola Nels, a local merchant, has purchased 100 bales of some quality hops at 25 cents and Chas Dorcas has made a purchase of 75 bales of medium prime hops at 21 cents. These are about the latest purchases noticeable, although there has been several other smaller lots purchased.

The buying in the future will be confined principally to choice hops. Merchants are not desirous of securing undergraded hops, but, for choice qualities, they will not balk at paying 25 cents. Moldy or badly picked hops will not call for any great price this year, 20 cents will probably be the standard price if any are purchased, but it is generally presumed that the brewers will buy from time to time, or, more correctly, from hand to mouth, small lots of choice hops at 24 cents, rather than to deal in poorer quality. Choice hops are scarce this year. Growers are guardedly holding the choice hops, but prospects for a price much higher than 25 cents are said to be slim.

There is figuratively estimated to be about 40,000 bales of '07 and '08s in the hands of the United States dealers and growers. There are many poor '08s of English hops and many '06s of American hops now in London, and these conditions, along with the general quantity and quality of old hops here, makes the future market a difficult problem, to solve as far as prices are concerned.

PULITZER'S BROTHER COMMITS SUICIDE

Vienna, Oct. 4.—Albert Pulitzer, a brother of Joseph Pulitzer, the proprietor of the New York World and the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, was found dead today in his apartments at the Grand hotel here. He had shot himself with a revolver, after which Dr. Jacob Pollak declares he took poison to make sure of death.

Although he killed himself yesterday evening, the body of Pulitzer was not found until today.

Dr. Pollak, who has been treating the journalist, declared that Pulitzer's nerves were shattered and that he had feared for some time that his patient was going mad.

Pulitzer was 58 years old. He established the New York Morning Journal in 1885, and after selling the paper in 1895 went abroad for his health. He was born in Hungary.

I'd Rather Die, Doctor,

Than have my feet cut off," said M. L. Bingham, of Princeville, Ill., "but you'll die from gangrene (which had eaten away eight toes) if you don't," said all doctors. Instead he used Bucklen's Arnica Salve till wholly cured. Its cures of eczema, fever sores, boils, burns and piles astounded the world. 25c at J. C. Perry's.
