

BROWN WAS GIVEN THE VERDICT

Jury Decided He Was Damaged $1,500 by the Chinaman's Team Running Over Him.

The jury in the Brown vs. Wing Jot Wing case for damages handed in a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $1,500 yesterday afternoon, the suit being for $10,000. Attorneys Carson & Brown, for the plaintiff, presented their case to the jury in a very able manner. Attorney Carson's argument was replete with refutations of the defendant's statement and testimony, in which an important point was brought out concerning the location of the plaintiff, Brown, at the time of the accident. The defendant's team, which ran over Mr. Brown, stood on the corner of Commercial and Ferry streets, when an autocar came by and frightened it, according to the testimony introduced yesterday, and a clever bit of sparring was done by the attorneys in establishing the fact that their client was riding along on his bicycle a half block down the street when the wagon and team ran over him, that he was not guilty of carelessness or negligence which caused the team to run him down. Attorney Carson also made the fact plain to the jury that the team was standing at the curb in front of the Lawrence grocery store, the lines were not hitched to the brake handle, nor were they fastened to the rear of the seat, as testified to by one of the Chinamen, but were lying loose along the side of the wagon.

BUSY MORNING IN THE COURT

The first business to be transacted by the court this morning at 9 o'clock was the case of the state against J. D. Hamlin and A. Laschappele. Hamlin, who pleaded guilty last Monday, to an indictment charging him with forgery, was sentenced to the minimum term of two years in the penitentiary, the state to recover costs and disbursements of the action. Hamlin was indicted on two forgery charges, but he pleaded guilty to one and not guilty to another. His wife was present when sentence was pronounced this morning, and the little woman deserves great credit for her wifely loyalty to her husband and the brave manner in which she stood the ordeal throughout. Mrs. Hamlin sat in the court room and heard the sentence pronounced upon her husband without flinching, and later she spent some time at the jail bars with the condemned man. Attorney Brown of Portland was also present and acted as counsel for Hamlin.

A. Laschappele waived time for sentence and his attorney, W. M. Kaiser, asked the court to allow the defendant to enter another plea of guilty of common larceny instead of being sentenced under the original indictment of the charge of grand larceny. Judge Burnett granted the motion.

F. G. Fritz, Onconta, N. Y., writes: "My little girl was greatly benefitted by taking Foley's Orino Laxative and I think it is the best remedy for constipation and liver trouble." Foley's Orino Laxative is mild, pleasant and effective and cures habitual constipation. J. C. Perry.

PAINFUL DYSPEPSIA

A Form of Indigestion Caused by Gastric Irritation from Undigested Food in the Stomach.

No kind of dyspepsia is better marked than that known as "painful indigestion," and it is also a very common affection. Pain, generally of a dull character, is felt after meals, and along with the pain, soreness at the pit of the stomach often exists, and in some cases the soreness is permanent. The tenderness is commonly restricted to a spot in the middle line of the body immediately below the breast bone.

It often extends upward under the bone, which consequently feels sore on pressure, or the tenderness is felt toward either side. This tenderness is commonly associated with an unpleasant feeling of heat—"a burning sensation"—as it is termed by some persons. There is also a "gnawing" and "dragging," as well as various other anomalous sensations complained of after taking food, and generally within an hour after eating.

As might be supposed the intensity of the symptom is proportionate to the quantity and quality of the meal. When the stomach is empty, a sensation of craving or emptiness gives most trouble. This often causes a false appetite, which, by inducing the person to eat heartily aggravating the sufferings. Thirst generally causes much annoyance; heartburn, water-brash, acidity, nausea and headache are not infrequent attendants. The tongue is usually coated and from a mere inspection of this organ the condition of the stomach can often be correctly told.

It is a common error with persons who suffer from stomach pain caused by indigestion and gastric irritation, to use such drugs as chlorodyne, Hoffman's Anodyne and other "pain killers" for its relief. Such treatment is a great mistake. While these drugs afford temporary relief to the dyspeptic in pain, they have no effect whatever in removing the cause.

STUART'S DYSPEPSIA TABLETS REMOVE THE CAUSE. By completely digesting all the food in the stomach, there is no further possibility of the occurrence of this disagreeable form of dyspepsia with its painful manifestations and other concurrent symptoms. All of the irritation of the stomach-nerves as the result of the undigested food lying in that organ and undergoing fermentation and decomposition is quickly done away with.

But not only is the form of dyspepsia which is accompanied by pain cured through the use of these digestive tablets, but also every other form of indigestion, as there are many kinds in which stomach pain does not occur, but where there are many symptoms equally disagreeable, disconcerting, disconcerting and discouraging.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain, in a highly concentrated form, powerful anti-dyspeptic ingredients, which digest rapidly and thoroughly food of every kind, including proteins, nitrates, carbon-hydrates, etc. A single grain will disintegrate and digest 3000 grains of food.

Purchase a box from your druggist at once (price 50 cents), and get rid of the pain, discomfort and other disagreeable symptoms of dyspepsia. Also send us your name and address for free sample package. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

PRICES OF HOPS STILL CLIMBING

England Reports Yield of 21,448,400 Pounds of Hops for 1909, the Smallest Since 1882.

The anxiously awaited official estimate of English hop crop was received yesterday morning in cables from London to Isaac Pincus & Sons and Klaber, Wolf & Netter. The yield is placed at 21,448,400 cwt. It is the smallest crop England has had since 1882.

The yield per acre of the present year's crop in England is, therefore, found to be 6.80 cwt., or 760 pounds. The official returns correspond very closely with the estimate made by Pacific coast dealers who figured that the crop would be between 200,000 and 220,000 cwt. Many of the London dealers, however, who had the advantage of knowing the exact conditions, missed the mark widely, guessing 250,000 cwt., and some of them more.

The coast markets are steadily climbing upward without the help of any foreign buying. Twenty-eight cents was paid for hops in Oregon yesterday, though the limits of Eastern orders do not yet warrant this price. The 28-cent purchase was made by J. E. Smith, of St. Paul, and the lot sold was 60 bales belonging to C. A. Purvis, of that place.

California wires reports that 27 1/2 cents was being freely offered for Sonoras, but there was no business doing, as growers were holding for 30 cents. For Russian Rivers 26 1/2 cents was offered, and in the Sacramento section between 700 and 800 bales were sold at 25 cents. The general price offered for good hops in Washington was 26 cents.
