

COOK WILL GO AFTER HIS RECORDS

Cleveland, O., Oct. 19.—In an interview today with the United Press, Dr. Frederick A. Cook, the Brooklyn explorer, made the announcement that he intends to brave the hardships and death by leading an expedition for the records which he says he left on the summit of Mount McKinley, the highest mountain in Alaska.

Dr. Cook said that it would take two months for him to complete his arrangements for the trip and that it would require three more months to reach Alaska and accomplish the feat.

If the present plans of the explorer do not miscarry he probably will start on his expedition early in the spring.

After this week Dr. Cook will cancel all of his lecture dates and devote his entire time in making preparations for the journey.

When asked if he was willing to stake the polar controversy on whether the Mount McKinley records were found the explorer said:

"I could not do that. The polar records must stand for themselves. A malicious attack has been made on my veracity, and I hope that my journey to Mount McKinley will silence my detractors."

ONE BURNED TO DEATH AND THREE INJURED

Seattle, Oct. 19.—Edw. F. Birch, a recent arrival from southeastern Alaska, was burned to death and three other men seriously injured in a fire which gutted the Denver hotel at Ballard early today. The fire was caused by the explosion of a kerosene lamp in a rear room on the second floor and the entire building, which was of frame construction, was in flames before the score of lodgers could be awakened and notified of their peril.

Mrs. T. S. Lowe, the proprietress of the hotel, rushed through the burning building giving the alarm. Gathering six men in a front room she dropped a rope fire escape to the sidewalk and down this rope the six men slid to safety. Mrs. Lowe insisted on being the last to leave.

In the meantime the firemen arrived and at the risk of their own lives rushed into the blazing building and carried out the body of Birch and three other men—William Colen, Albert Lanke and Charles W. Johnson—who had been overcome by smoke. They were hurried to the hospital, where it is said all will recover, although they sustained severe burns.

The loss is about $5,000.
