

A GREAT PLAY COMES TONIGHT

"The Third Degree," and the Way You Can Find Out What Belongs to It Is to See It.

Henry B. Harris, sponsor for Rose Stahl in "The Chorus Lady," Robert Edeson in "The Noble Spaniard," "The Traveling Salesman," "The Lion and the Mouse," "The Third Degree," and numerous other signal dramatic successes of the past and present seasons, is sending "The Third Degree" with an excellent cast to the Grand opera house tonight.

"The Third Degree" is from the pen of Charles Klein, the author of "The Lion and the Mouse." Its theme is one never before handled by dramatists, and yet it dates back to the dark ages, to the times of the Spanish Inquisition. "The Third Degree" has to do with the questionable methods employed by the police to extort confessions from suspected criminals. It shows clearly that "mistakes will happen" that a man, no matter how innocent, may be "railroaded" to the electric chair through confessions extracted by inquisitorial methods. Only through the love and moral courage of a young wife, whom the suspect, the son of an old and respected wealthy family, has married from among the working classes, is he saved from an ignominious death.

Mr. Klein has drawn his characters true to life and it may be said without fear of contradiction that this, his latest work, will live and prosper so long as the drama endures.

The cast is of extraordinary strength, which will be seen here, and includes Paul Everton, Malcolm Duncan, Irene Oahler, Fernanda Elisen, E. A. Eberle, Alfred Moore, A. H. Symmons, T. L. Coleman, Francis Bonn, H. H. Foreman and Ralph Ramsay.

Lived 152 Years.

Wm. Parr, England's oldest man, married the third time at 120, worked in the fields till 132 and lived 20 years longer. People should be youthful at 80. James Wright of Spu-lock, Ky., shows how to remain young "I feel just like a 16-year-old boy," he writes, "after taking six bottles of Electric Bitters. For thirty years kidney trouble made life a burden, but the first bottle of this wonderful medicine convinced me I had found the greatest cure on earth." They're a godsend to weak, sickly run-down or old people. Try them. 50c at J. C. Perry's.

Paul Everton and Fernanda Elisen, in Chas. Klein's "Third Degree."
