Thus every old subscriber is afa helping hand to any of the young lady contestants that a new subscriber has. If you have a favorite in the race, by renewing your subscription for any term from one month upward, you can materially increase her chances. This offer will not be repeated during the present contest, and it therefore behooves all subscribers to take prompt action in the premises.

The lowest candidate in any of the three districts who has not done a thing up to this time could start now and make a try for the grand prizethe automobile-and her case would be far from hopeless if she had friends and energy. She would land at once in first place with the votes that less than six old yearly subscriptions would get her.

In all districts there is a golden opportunity for any candidate to win a valuable prize. The conditions in these districts are such that any candidate no matter how low she may be in the list at present, could land on the foremost position with the votes she would receive.

Old subscribers of The Journal are appreciative in marked degree judging from the alacrity with which they are availing themselves of the opportunity afforded to give their favorites a boost in the great contest now being conductedby this pa-Never in the history of such a contest has such an offer been made, but something of an unusually enterprising spirit was to be expected from this newspaper, and no longer can the judgment in determining upon such a step be questioned, success being the guiding criterion.

The following description of the Eilers planes that The Journal is giving away in their up-to-date voting contest will be of interest to

A rich, massive, perfectly proportioned art case; the cases and panels doubled veneered on choicest hardwood throughout; all ornaments genuine carving; combination of the Puritan and Colonial models that have taken the people of this modern age by storm. And I know I am not the only one who could have as many votes counted now as the person who is in first place. Every mail brings in votes for the contestants and the doors of the office are kept swinging constantly with the steady stream of voters who go in and out casting for their favorite contestant in the race. The contest is certainly gaining ground! day by day, and no one can anticipate what height this good natured tug of war will attain. Certain it is that 90 per cent of the people of Salem and adjacent territory are directly interested in the outcome of the contest and before another week elapsed the other 10 per cent be into the contest as deeply as the candidates and their friends are

No one is losing hope, and the difference of a few thousand votes is nothing as it means but a couple of yearly subscriptions, and there are over three weeks remaining in which to secure subscriptions and close the chasm which now seperates those in other positions from first place. Many people are willing to help the young ladies and are only waiting to be asked, and the first candidates to ask, of course, will be the ones to receive the votes; so it is imperative that those who desire to enlarge their count get among the people and make their cause known.

Subscriptions continue to pile in from all sections of the country and vesterday was another banner day in
