An agreement Dear Sir: was arrived at whereby the company was to furnish lights to the deficit in case the business men failed to remit $100 per month, as I consented to make the collections myself and continued to do so until be responsible for the bills.

"As I said before, I think the city reaps a great benefit from having the streets illuminated and I am very sorry that an agreement cannot be arrived at. We spent $1,000 installing transformers and other paraphernelia, for lighting the streets. Our income for the pas!

year on a gross basis was $1200 and our net income amounted to practically nothing. We have contributed liberally to the interests of the city and are willing to continue, but unless the matter of maintaining the street streamers is settled before long, we will be compelled to remove our transformers and put them to a more advantageous use." A. F. Hofer, of the Board of Trade, stated the views of the executive board of that organization as follows

"The Executive Committee of the Board of Trade had hoped that this matter would be taken over by the city before now, and with that in view agreed with the Light company to make up any deficit until such time as it was finally passed upon by the city. Over 90 per cent of the business men who subscribed to this fund are of the opinion that this is strictly public lighting, and should be paid for out of the city's funds. Only one property owner who is not a business man has contributed a penny towards this expense, and the business men feel that inasmuch as the lighting is for the benefit of the entire city the property owners should do their share.

"It has helped boost the city along until rents have been materiaily advanced, and in reality the greatest benefit. For this reason the business men as a rule are delining to pay, and as the Board of Trade Executive Committee does not if it were inclined, the lights have

We have already taken the matter up with the mayor and members of the council, and have reasons to believe that the whole matter will be favorably considered in that quarter.

Salem, Oreg., Dec. 16, 1909. Dear Sir:

This is to give notice that the Sa-lem Board of Trade wishes the lighting of the street streamers now ing illuminated at the expense of the business people, discontinued, ginning with this date, and that this organization cannot stand responsible for bills hereafter incurred for this service.

For that Dull Feeling After Eating have used Chamberlain's Stomach and liver tablets for some time, and can testify that they have done me more good than any tablets I have ever used. My trouble was a heavy dull feeling after eating.— David Freeman, Kempt, Nova Scotia. These tablets strengthen the stomach and improve the digestion. They also regulate the liver and bowels. They are far superior to pills but cost no more. Get a free sample at all good drug stores and see what a splendid medicine it is.

ing of the streamers in the business district of the city: "It may be presuming," says lenry Meyers, a member of the Henry SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE committee who solicited among the business men to establish lights, "to express my views of the sudden action taken toward abolishing the streamers in the city, but I will say that for a public benefit, that Salem could not invest in a more effective than to keep the city well plan lighted. I am strongly in favor of dressing the city up, both day and n'ght, to attract the attention of the people outside. This establishment (meaning the Meyers store) takes Salem Restaurant pains to attract the attention of the people in order to induce them to enter our store. This means betterment in every respect. J. M. Lawrence, a prominent grocerman of the city, said this morning that he thought the city should take the matter of maintaining the streamers in their own hands and keep them burning at the city's expense and that to throw the city in darkness by discontinuing the streamer lighting plan, would mean nothing but knocks for the town. John W. Harritt says: sure that the city would, and has been, deriving a great benefit from the streamer lights, and I think they should be continued. But, inasmuch as it hilps the growth of the city, I hardly think it proper and fair to impose the entire expense upon the merchant. Of course, it is not much, but due to the fact that it is a general public benefit, I think the city should take a hand in the matter and push it along until some system more beautifying and valua-
