

FARMERS COLLEGE BULLETIN

Corvallis, Dec. 17.—Dean J. A. Boxell of the School of Commerce of the Oregon Agricultural College has published a bulletin on "Business Methods for the Farm" which is attracting widespread attention and very favorable comment from practical farmers and authorities on farm life. The bulletin presents in a clear and simple manner systems of bookkeeping and accounting which will enable the farmer to keep a definite and helpful record of his business. It meets a long felt need in farm management. The pamphlets will be sent to any resident of the state upon request.

Over eighty students have taken part in the preliminary debating and oratorical contests at the Oregon Agricultural College and many more will enter before the work is completed.

The new Armory at the Oregon Agricultural College is nearing completion. It is the largest building of its kind in the West. It is 130 yards long and 60 yards wide. A regulation sized football field can be laid out under its roof. It will be a great boom to all kinds of athletics.

Indications are that the Short Courses for farmers and teachers which will commence at the Oregon Agricultural College January 4th, will be very well attended.

Preventives, the new Candy Cold Cure Tablets, are said by druggists to have four special specific advantages over all other remedies for a cold. First. They contain no quinine, nothing harsh or sickening. Second. They give almost instant relief. Third. Pleasant to the taste. Like candy. Fourth. A large box—48 Preventives—at 25 cents. Also fine for feverish children. Sold by Capital Drug Store.

KENDALL BUYING VINEGAR

An old friend in up-to-date vestments is to be welcomed at the Grand Opera House next Monday night when Ezra Kendall appears in the best of his laugh producers, Herbert Hall Winslow's "The Vinegar Buyer." The new vestments are provided by Kendall himself, and are composed mainly of brand-new jokes and "comedy" which Kendall has been working up this summer.

As everybody knows Kendall wrote those excellent joke-books "Spots" and "Good Gravy" that almost everybody knows by heart. Kendall also writes his own side-splitting monologues and curtain speeches. He has spent several months in brightening up this already bright old comedy, which as it was in its old form one of the funniest of many seasons, may now be guaranteed to be as full of laughs as a sieve is full of holes. In fact, Kendall has been quoted as saying that the old principle of a "laugh a minute" was not good enough for him. If he could not give his audience at least sixty full fledged laughs in a forty-minute act, he'd consider himself more unworthy of the salary he draws.

To make sure that "The Vinegar Buyer" has accumulated no kink with age, Messrs. Liebler & Company, who again manage Kendall put the production under the personal supervision of Edward E. Rose. In every respect the production has been made in as painstaking a manner as if the play were about to make its first bow to Broadway, and an excellent company has been engaged. Julia Stuart will be Kendall's leading lady, and he will be aided in his quest for laughs by Robert V. Ferguson, Emily Wakeman, Frank Lyons, Lottie Alter, John Garrick and the famous old Kendall hat.

BIG SHOOT COMES OFF TOMORROW

Next Sunday morning, a shooting match will be pulled off on the Hauser Bros. shooting grounds in North Salem, that is attracting great attention among the Salem "shoot fans." "Boxer" Nellands and "Batty" Cooper, two popular Salem shooters will furnish the sport and a large crowd of localities are waiting expectantly for the contest. In connection with the big match, there will be other matches in which the general public is invited to participate. Turkeys, geese and other Christmas-feast materials will be shot for, the best shooter taking the prizes. Blue rock or "clay pigeon" targets will be used, the shooter to furnish his own gun.

Constipation in hogs, the forerunner of other troubles and diseases, is generally caused by too excessive feeding of one kind of feed.
