WINDOW DISPLAYS

Salem Merchants Make Very Tasty and Creditable Showing.

Salem merchants are enterprising if nothing else, and are to be complimented upon their efforts in presenting to the public so interesting and pleasing show window displays. Every store in the city seems to have exerted itself to attract the attention of the prospective Christ-mas shopper. That they succeeded well no one will deny. The large throngs of people gazing through the plate glass at the hundreds of desirable Christmas articles, will bear the Journal out in this statement.

In the meantime Jack Gleason continues to plug for San Francisco, declaring for this city just as emphatically as his fellow promoter is declaring for Salt Lake. Rickard is expected here soon after Christmas, and then he and Olson will thresh matter out. Gleason today denied that one object of Rickard's mission to this city is to talk with the local people, who promised to aid Coffroth financially in case he landed the match. Gleason also denied that Rickard holds the big end of the match.

promoting end when the final articles were signed belonged to Rickard in its entirety, I will leave that to Rickard to answer wken he arrives here. We are going to carry this thing out in a business like way, and will talk things over like business men. If we fail to agree on the time or place, or anything else, we may let the toss of a coin decide for us. As to Salt Lake, I have never said positively that the fight would not go there. If we can be shown that Salt Lake will do better by us than San Francisco it would be foolish for us to pass it up. However, my contention all along has been that San Francisco is the place, for the reason that we know what San Francisco can and will do, while on the other hand past records fail to show that Salt Lakle can do nearly as well."
