CORVALLIS.

Corvallis is a fine school city of the Willamette valley. It has everything from a college of national reputation down to a well sustained public school system. Corvallis is one of the finest home cities of Western Oregon. The quality of the homes and grounds in that town are better than one finds in cities of that size. Corvallis is also a good church and lodge town. There are enterprising real estate men and fruit growers in and around Corvallis. Corvallis is an attractive theatre and amusement town of the better sort. There are people in Corvallis not above taking a drink or betting on a horse race but the great majority do not rely on that for making a living. Corvallis has always been a good hotel town and they have been well kept. The banking interests at Corvallis are pretty strong and there are enough Johnsons to make up a militia company. The Corvallis Creamery Co. is handling about half the cream produced in the Willamette valley. Corvallis is a railroad center and one of the largest shipping points in Western Oregon. It has both water and rail transportation and communication with the whole state by the telephone systems. Connection with the other world is maintained by ten churches. The business men maintain a fine commercial club with headquarters that many larger cities would be proud of. There are not many cities in the United States that have better foundation for growth than Corvallis. Given the natural location, productive soil and live men—result, a growing city. The federal government, the state government, the county government, corporations, and capital conspire to make Corvallis a city. The Capital Journal proposes to write about the best towns in the state and to start out right starts with Corvallis.

THE CHEAPEST TIME TO BUILD.

At this season of the year, when there is no rush of employment, is a good time to build. Materials and men are more easily obtained than in the height of the building season. Sawmills and planing mills are overstocked and prices of all supplies are lower. This is the time of the year when people can get more for their money than at any other season in the line of building trades. Contractors are not rushed and will figure cheaper on a job now than when they have their hands full. The time to build is when everybody else is not building and the time to hire labor is when there is plenty of it on the market. It is also better for mechanics to circulate your money at this season.

DEATH OF A SALEM GIRL.

The death of one who was known at Salem as Lena Knight comes to hundreds of families with great sadness. She was the beloved and talented daughter of Rev. and Mrs. P. S. Knight of this city. As a student and artist she was beloved of all who knew her. As a wife and mother she occupied a proud position as the center of a home and social circle. Lena Knight was a writer and illustrator for children's publications and of children's books. Her spirit was bright as a flower, her soul pure as a dewdrop that reflects the prism of colors from the first rays of the morning sun. No words can assuage the grief of parents who had reared such an one from infancy, saw her emerge into womanhood and then pass on to the realms of hope.

DEPRIVED OF SCHOOL ADVANTAGES

High Price of Living Force Laboring Men's Children Into the Factories.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 25.—Inquiry today revealed the fact that many children of laboring men are being forced from the school room to the factories on account of the high prices of meats and other food stuffs. The statement was first made by W. W. Williams, state factory inspector, and an investigation indicated that his words were too true. Today a line of children crowded into his office and extended outside the doorway. They all wanted to quit school and go to work. They came to him to seek employment. Williams is authority for the statement that applications for child labor permits have nearly doubled since January 1. He ascribes the abnormal condition to the sudden rise in the price of necessities.

IRISH HAVE BALANCE OF POWER

The Heart Desire of Ireland to Be Gratified at Last.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] London, Jan. 25.—John Redmond, leader of the Irish Nationalists, today practically announced that he will hold the legislative "balance of power" in his own hand during the coming session of parliament, and if he can substantiate his claim Ireland will get her home rule after all.

The Nationalist leader declared to the Liberal leaders that he can "answer" for all but ten of the 83 prospective Nationalist members. The unusually uneven division of Conservatives and the Liberals, resulting from the election now being held, without doubt places the Nationalists in an enviable position, and Redmond's assertion, in the opinion of those conversant with the situation, is based upon certainty.

In view of the power which his party will be able to wield, Redmond's outline of the attitude it will assume in matters of vital legislation, is regarded here as the most important statement issued by a party leader during the campaign. He is reported to have laid down the following program:

The Nationalists will aid the Liberals in passing the budget prepared by Chancellor David Lloyd-George. They will stand with the Liberals in an effort to take the veto power from the house of lords.

In return for this they will demand that the Liberals unite with them to secure the passage of the Irish home rule bill.

If the Liberals reciprocate in the home rule matter, the Nationalists will remain their faithful allies. If they do not, the Nationalists will hamper the government in every possible way.

Public opinion has it that the new parliament will not survive the home rule fight that is pending. It is predicted freely that the "split" will come about the middle of next summer, and will result in another parliamentary election.

WHEN STOMACH BLOOD AND NERVES GO ON A STRIKE

Do you know what "atonic dyspepsia" means? It is, perhaps, the commonest form of stomach trouble. Most people have had it, have it now or will have it some day. It is caused by a lack of tone of the system, debilitated stomach, blood or nerves. For these three are intimately dependent on one another. Stomach trouble robs the blood of nourishment; thin blood means starved nerves, nervousness and neuralgia.

And it is precisely this interdependence of the stomach, blood and nerves that makes Dr. Williams' Pink Pills such a valuable home remedy. A blood builder and nerve tonic, they keep the stomach in perfect condition, provided it is not abused by improper diets.

Mrs. E. J. Burdick, a farmer's wife, of Campbell, Cal., was cured of stomach trouble by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and recommends them to other sufferers. She says:

"Three years ago I had stomach trouble and nervousness and think it was due to overwork. My stomach did not seem to digest the food and I got so that I could not eat much of anything. This seemed to take my strength away and, while I was not confined to bed, I had to give up my work. I was very nervous and easily excited. I could not seem to get any strength and was very pale. I was treated by two doctors who said that my blood was impoverished. I grew worse, if anything, under their treatment. My daughter read about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and brought home a box for me to try. Although I had been sick for several weeks, I was soon helped by the pills. My appetite picked up and the food was digested. I began to get stronger and in a short time I was cured. I am glad to tell of my experience which I hope will be of help to other sufferers."

The remedy that cured Mrs. Burdick is guaranteed free from opiates or harmful drugs. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y. A copy of our diet book will be mailed free to anyone who wants to be cured.

Parliament during the coming session is the subject of much discussion today. While nothing definite can be decided now, it is believed generally that an attempt to take from the lords their veto power will be scheduled for consideration before the introduction of Lloyd-George's budget. Conclusive evidence that Asquith will accept the premiership again was given today in a semi-official statement that he arranging for a cabinet meeting this week. The only possible purpose of such a meeting, it is thought, is the outlining of plans for the coming parliamentary session.

LOOKS LIKE THE GOVERNMENT WAS SCABBING

Reduces Fine From $137,000 to $1000 in Order to Test Law.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] San Francisco, Jan. 25.—Local merchants are awaiting with interest the arrival in port of the Hamburg-American liner Cleveland, due here February 5 with 650 "round the world" tourists aboard. They believe that the imposition upon her owners of a fine of $1000 may result in litigation that will fix for all time the status of the law compelling foreign vessels plying between American ports to pay $200 for each passenger landed.

The Cleveland is completing a world tour, the starting point has been New York. The intention of the company was to land the tourists in San Francisco, and then transport them overland to New York. Collector of the Port Stratton, upon learning of this plan, immediately asked the department of commerce and labor whether the ruling would be enforced in this and fines aggregating $137,000 be collected. He advised that the government will reduce the fine to $1000, on condition that the Hamburg company carry the case to the courts for the purpose of testing the law.

No reply to the government's proposal has been made.

A Sprained Ankle.

As a rule a man will feel well satisfied if he can hobble around on crutches in two or three weeks after spraining his ankle, and it is often two or three months before he is fully recovered. This is an unnecessary loss of time, as by applying Chamberlain's Liniment, as directed, a cure may as a rule be effected in less than one week's time, and in many cases within three days.
