

LAYING OUT AUTO ROAD TO THE STATE LINE

What will eventually mean the construction of better roads leading from Salem to Portland on the north and to the line between California and Oregon on the south is the action now being taken by the Portland Auto club and the State Auto association in establishing an automobile tourist route from Portland to the extreme southern boundaries of California, over which thousands of tourists will pass coming from the big coast cities and sightseers from the east will take advantage of the opportunity of seeing the grand Oregon and California scenery from an auto, which cannot be seen from the cars.

With Civil Engineer Frank and an expert auto driver, H. R. Glenn, G. F. Beck, an agent sent out by the Portland Auto club, which is affiliated with the State Auto association, arrived in this city today from Geraval, the nearest point north between here and Portland, where they completed a permanent strip of auto road. Mr. Beck and his assistants came up from Portland in a large Locomobile machine and stopped here in order to give the engineer time in which to work on the maps laying out the road.

Points Touched by New Route.
A Journal representative looked over the maps and charts drawn up by Engineer Frank since his arrival here, and the towns touched by the new auto route are set out. Leaving Portland, the route runs to Oswego, a distance of 8 miles; then to Oregon City and reaches Salem, passing through New Era, Canby, Barlow, Aurora, Woodburn, Geraval and Chemawa. The auto guide which will be compiled from Mr. Beck's observations will give the exact distances between the different towns and the per cent of the grades over which the route passes, as the machine in which the paths are being found is equipped with two speedometers and other instruments necessary to finding of exact distances, altitude, etc.

Waiting for Dry Weather.
As soon as the roads become sufficiently dry, Mr. Beck will complete the path-finding between Salem and Oregon, and then the route will be laid out in book form. The party is taking the opportunity of criticizing some of the highways they have passed over, among which is the road between New Era and Barlow, which they say is very bad and should be repaired. If only for the wagon traffic.

Mr. Beck Friend of Farmers.
"What we wish to make plain," said Mr. Beck today, "is that auto drivers must be more careful while driving over the country roads, of the rights of others." The State Auto association and the Portland Auto club are strictly opposed to an auto "hogging the road," "zoo coning to contact with a horse and buggy." They should always take the precaution to slow up, shut off the mufflers and be very careful, especially on a narrow road. We do not approve of an auto driver going by any town, for that matter, without noticing how many may be opposed to an auto "hogging the road," "zoo coning to contact with a horse and buggy." WHITE HOUSE RESTAURANT

Wm. McIlchrist & Sons

BASEBALL GOSSIP IN SAN FRANCISCO

San Francisco, March 17.—That Portland club doesn't look like a hard hitting aggregation," remarked a Chicago war correspondent who is here today with the White Sox Juniors and who saw the Ducks perform twice.

"Casey was the only player that looked our twiflers. He hit well."

"What was the matter with McCredie? He is a fine sticker," quizzed the writer.

"Oh, well, you know we had some southpaws in the box."

"That explains it. Mac was partial to left-handed pitchers."

"It looked like a throw-up between Vernon and Los Angeles," continued the speaker. "Hogan has collected several new faces and he hasn't got his team whipped into shape. Vernon may turn out stronger than it looked to us. As to the Angels, they played pretty good ball. Of course, if Dillon had been in the game more, Los Angeles might have showed up better."

The Chicago critic was enthusiastic over the games Comiskey's recruits had played. In reality, No. 2 club has as many veterans in it as the one that opened here. Among them are White, Tannehill, Hahn and Cy Young II. Hahn and Parent have been playing up to old form. The latter is almost certain of a position, and if Hahn continues his present gait it will take a fast youngster to displace him. Hahn showed signs of slipping last fall. Cy Young, who is traveling with the Juniors, has been up in the big show before. He pitched for the Boston Nationals a long time and afterwards was let go to Pittsburg. On account of unsteady habits, Pittsburg sent him to the American association last year, where he straightened up and had a banner year. Comiskey decided that he was worth another trial. He is a finished pitcher and a southpaw. Besides, one youngster who has been performing especially well is Shaw, a gentle boy, whom Chicago pulled out of the New England league. Shaw is a third-sacker, and the critics look for him to crowd Tannehill and Purtell for the bag.

SEEKING NEW PENCIL WOODS

Recent conferences of representatives of the department of agriculture with several lead-pencil manufacturers have resulted in plans for testing new woods to find out whether they can be used in the pencil industry. According to some of the manufacturers, the supply of red cedar, which furnishes practically all the wood for the annual output of some 325,000,000 pencils, will be exhausted within five years. A substitute must be found which will whittle easily, which shall contain a large amount of material free of knots, which shall not be porous, nor spall, nor unduly hard, and which shall occur in sufficient quantities to meet the manufacturers' demand.

In view of this and at the suggestion of the pencil makers, the forest service is to co-operate in a test of a number of national forest woods. Among those to be tried are Rocky Mountain red cedar, alligator juniper, western juniper, redwood, incense cedar, western cedar, Port Orford cedar and Alaska cypress. Wood specimens collected from the national forests will be sent to four leading manufacturers, who have agreed to make pencils of them. The manufacturers will keep a record of the tests and report to the forest service the results, as well as their judgment as to the fitness of the individual woods.

The forest service is assisting in his experiment because there are on the national forests large quantities of junipers and cedars which may be suitable for pencil manufacture. For several of these woods no very valuable use has yet been discovered. Foresters believe that in the future the woods from the national forests may, to a considerable extent, come into use to supplement the diminishing stock of eastern woods, the supply of which has received no protection.

SMUGGLE OPIUM IN HAWAII

Federal officials today are attempting to solve the problem of how is opium smuggled into Hawaii?

It is recognized that much of the stuff is brought in by the steamers plying between the United States and the Orient, but this does not account for more than a small portion of it, according to United States District Attorney Brockton. Brockton is of the opinion that the opium is landed at one of the small islands to the west of Honolulu and then transported to Honolulu in sampans. Up to the present, however, the officials have been unable to gather evidence that this is true.

"I do not believe that the supply of opium was large enough on April 1 to last the smokers until now," said Brockton, "but they are still smoking it. The supply seems plentiful, though the price has tripled. If one knows the ropes he can get any amount of the 'dope' here."

HE LOST HIS MEMORY AND HIS FAMILY

San Francisco, March 18.—Robert suddenly lost his memory and falling even to remember his own identity. Lowren Anderson, an upholsterer, wandered the streets for six weeks before he recovered from the attack. Today he is seeking his wife and child, who disappeared from their home, apparently believing that the husband and parent had deserted them.

One morning, six weeks ago, Anderson left his wife and child at their home, at 51 Church street, to seek work. He met a friend who promised to secure employment for him. The friend told him to leave his name at a certain saloon and to call there later for an answer. Anderson started out but when he arrived at the saloon he declares he could not remember his name. He forgot all about his wife and child and his home. Even his own identity as an upholsterer was lost.

From then until today he wandered the streets seeking in vain an answer to the question that continually puzzled him. He vainly tried to recall whom he was and where he belonged.

Early today he happened to see a chair he had once upholstered. It brought back his memory and with beating heart he hurried to his home. There he learned that his wife had placed the child, Nell, a lad of seven, in a charitable institution, but later had called for him and gone away. She appeared broken-hearted and told the institution attendants that she had been deserted. Anderson reported his loss to the police and an effort is being made to find Mrs. Anderson and the child.

The family came from a town in Washington six months ago. Anderson attributed his trouble to an injury to his head received some years ago.

EMPIRE BUILDER SAYS WARE-

PRODUCER.

St. Paul, March 17.—Discussing the criticisms of the cold storage institutions of the country, James J. Hill, chairman of the board of directors of the Great Northern Railway company, took up the cudgel in behalf of these concerns.

"The wisdom and unfavorable general discussion directed against cold storage," Mr. Hill said, "is harmful and strikes directly at the great principle of conservation and to the detriment of increased food supplies to meet the requirements of our constantly increasing consuming population."

"There are few subjects which afford greater benefits than the one termed cold storage, the system of holding perishable food products in specially constructed cold storage warehouses supplied with cold air, from seasons of plenty when nature is prolific to the time when nature is dormant, and in transporting them from the heavy producing sections of the country in specially constructed refrigerator cars and refrigerated ships to the consuming sections and to all parts of the world, where they are delivered in prime condition and of excellent quality."

"It encourages the fruit grower to increase his orchards and vine yards," continued Mr. Hill, "the farmer to increase his herds and flocks, which conserve and increase the fertility of his fields, all with the assurance that the products of his orchards and his farm can be handled and preserved until the season of scarcity, and placed on the markets of the world to find ready sale."

"It insures the consumer a steady supply of the products of orchards and farms during the season of scarcity, whether he is located in the midst of producing sections or remote from them."

"Before cold storage facilities came into use, in holding and transporting perishable food products, production was discouraged on account of lack of market, and while at that time production was lighter, large quantities of these products actually went to waste, representing vast amounts of money.

"For centuries the farmer has had practical cold storage when he has buried his apples, potatoes and other vegetables in the ground and covered them over with straw and loose earth, to keep them from freezing."

"The refrigerator of the home has long been a necessity to the housewife," said Mr. Hill in conclusion. "Circumscribed and inadequate as it often is, nevertheless the residence refrigerator does on a small scale what cold storage houses do perfectly on a large scale."

WOULD NOT WELCOME "TAFT DOGS"

[UNITED PRESS LEASER WITH.]
Tercuigalpa, Spanish Honduras, March 17.—Fenton B. McCreery, the new American minister to Honduras, today refused to indicate what action he may take regarding his treatment by representatives of President Davilla on his arrival at Ampala.

The insult was leveled at President Taft through McCreery. President Davilla had ordered the commandant at Ampala to officially welcome Minister McCreery.

The commandant replied that he would not receive any of "Taft's American dogs with honors."

The commandant further announced publicly that he had named his dog "Taft" to show his contempt for the Americans.

President Davilla was powerless to enforce obedience to his order. He immediately wired personal friends however, to welcome McCreery and endeavor to take away the sting of the American minister's reception.

The entire matter is indicative of the feeling against the Americans which is growing more bitter here every day. The popular prejudice is reflected in the campaigns of Honduras, where every American bid for a concession is being rejected summarily.

GOMPER'S WARNING TO LABOR

Washington, March 17.—Designating "high prices of food" as the latest weapon of capital in an effort to crush unionism, President Samuel Gompers today warned union labor men of an alleged combination to defeat the labor movement.

Gompers attributed the unrest in the labor world to the activity of the "combination," and declared that everything possible would be done by labor leaders to protect the workmen. He refused to divulge what plans the leaders had formulated. In the course of his remarks, Gompers said that while wages had not been decreased, the great advanced cost of living had amounted to a decrease in compensation for the laboring man.

ALLIANCE WITH JAPS UNPOPULAR

London, March 17.—The officials of the foreign office today professed ignorance of a reported overture by Japan to the United States for an American-Japanese agreement on the problems of the Far East.

They discredited the report generally. It is believed, however, that the English diplomats would like to see the rumor substantiated. A flurry with Japan would be welcomed here, according to present indications. This would give England an opportunity to break the Anglo-Japanese alliance, which, in view of a possible conflict between Japan and America, is proving the most unpopular diplomatic move England has made in years.

WHAT THE KIDNEYS DO Their Unceasing Work Keeps Us Strong and Healthy.

All the blood in the body passes through the kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys filter the blood. They work night and day. When healthy they remove about 500 grains of impure matter daily, when unhealthy some part of this impure matter is left in the blood. This brings on many diseases and symptoms—pain in the back, headache, nervousness, hot, dry skin, rheumatism, gout, gravel, disorders of the eyesight and hearing, dizziness, irregular heart, debility, drowsiness, dropsy, deposits in the urine, etc. But if you keep the filters right you will have no trouble with your kidneys.

D. H. Elliot, 12th and Oak Sts., Salem, Ore., says: "About three years ago I suffered severely from kidney and bladder trouble. Although I tried a number of remedies I was not helped until I began Doan's Kidney Pills and procured their use. They checked my trouble in a short time and I have had no return attack."

Before I used Foley's Kidney Pills I was subject to severe backache and pains in my kidneys, with suppression and oftentimes a cloudy voiding.
