TABERNACLE CROWDED YESTERDAY

MEETINGS WILL PROBABLY END WITH THE WEEK—HAVE AWAKENED THE RELIGIOUS SENTIMENT IN THE CITY.

Yesterday was a big day at the tabernacle. The spirit of revival ran high and conversations were many. At the afternoon meeting 17 men accepted Christ and in the evening 20 men and women, 37 in all. This week will close the meetings in all probability, and as the end is nearing the spirit seems to rise higher and higher.

The music and singing yesterday was up to the standard if not a little better. In the afternoon meeting Mr. Wenger and Mr. Eppley favored the audience with a duet entitled, "Jesus Lover of My Soul," and the Ministers' quartet sang, "The Dawning Love." Mr. Wegner sang "My Mother's Prayer." Mr. Taylor's address to the men at this meeting was truly one of the finest addresses the writer has ever heard. His subject was "Children Come Home to Roost," and while one would gain the inference from the title that the speech would be a farre it was quite different. Though it is true that laughter was interspersed now and then, men's handkerchiefs were brought into play quite often in drying the tears. Big stalwart men wept like babies as the speaker revealed unto them facts and statements that were undeniable. He showed the evils of men and women up so plainly that some were wont to hang their heads in shame. His text was found in Psalms 104:35 and reads: "Let the sinners be consumed out of the earth, and let the wicked be no more."

He went on to state that without the grace of God in their hearts men were susceptible to all kinds of evil influences and society was endangered thereby; that the only way for sinners to be consumed out of the earth and the wicked be no more, is for men to seek Christ and their soul's salvation. About 2,000 men were in the tabernacle at this meeting and their attention was unflinching as the horrible truths were thrust upon them like a fusillade of bullets.

At the evening service the building was jammed to the doors and many stood outside, so anxious were they to hear the gospel presented. The orchestra rendered a special selection, the Stalwart quartet sang, answering to an encore. Mr. Wenger sang very impressively, "What Will You Do With Jesus." The title of this song was also the subject of Mr. Taylor's address, taking for his text, Matt. 27:22—"Pilate saith unto them, what shall I do then with Jesus which is called the Christ?" The sermon was full of spice and ginger from beginning to end and raised the question in the minds of many, "What then shall I do with Jesus?" Some chose Him as their savior; others said, "Not tonight." How men and women can stand up under the preaching of such facts and say "Not tonight," is beyond all cognition. His sermon all through was an earnest plea for the acceptance of Christ.

The meetings will at least last through the remainder of this week and till Sunday night of next, but no assurance is given out for them lasting longer than that.

The ladies' meeting at the M. E. church was, we are informed, very interesting and filled with much enthusiasm, much talent being displayed among the wives of the Salem pastors.

Tonight Rev. Taylor will talk on "The Power of Memory." Everybody is invited to attend these meetings.

THE CORONER'S JURY WILL REPORT TODAY

Seattle, Wash., March 21.—The coroner's jury investigating the Wellington avalanche, left for Wellington by special train at 9 o'clock this morning headed by Coroner J. C. Snyder to complete the taking of evidence. The jury will leave Wellington on the return tonight and will probably reach its verdict before arriving in Seattle.

Strange cases of mistaken identity "came to crop out in the inquest. E. W. Boles of Mayberry, Ore, twice reported dead in the wreck, appeared before the jury Saturday to testify. He had walked to Seaside the day before the slide.

Joseph Benier, a timber cruiser, walked into the morgue yesterday and looked at a corpse tagged, "Joseph Benier, No. 83.

"Some mistake," said Benier. "I missed the train."

JUDGE BURNETT HOLDS COURT TO HEAR ARGUMENTS

Judge Burnett today held an informal session of the circuit court for the purpose of listening to the arguments of motions and demurrers and preparing matters in general for the expediting of the court work when the regular term convenes in April. Because of the fact that the proceedings were of an informal character no rulings were made but the various matters submitted were taken under advisement until the regular terms commences when the decision will be announced.

Buhlight Case Be First.

While no cases were set for trial today owing to the facts, as stated, suggestions were entertained by Judge Burnett as to the time of the trial of cases. It was suggested that the case of the State of Oregon against Jos. J. Buhlight be tried first. Buhlight is charged with extortion, and the crime is alleged to consist in threatening to prosecute Alfred Klingler on the charge of selling intoxicating liquors to a half-breed Indian unless he paid him the sum of $35. Buhlight is the city recorder at Moutba Angel.

The next case to be tried will probably be that of C. A. Whale, administrator for Mrs. C. A. Whale, against the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company. Mrs. Whale fell from one of the cars of the company last fall during the fair near Marion square and died from the injuries received and the suit is brought to recover damages for her death.

FOR HER THE WEDDING RING

That magic little band that plays its important part particularly by popular favor after the advent of EASTER.

CUPID, with his magic key, loosens the gentle fetters of already united hearts, and proclaims the sacred union that calls for the crowning blessing of human lives.

And Then the Creations For the Bride

A jewelry store is the natural place to seek gifts of lasting value. There are many things here that are beautiful, useful and that will hold their worth almost indefinitely. Numberless articles in jewelry that give much pleasure to the bride.

EASTER GIFTS

Have become popular and the custom is growing. These little gifts need not, of necessity, be large or expensive, as there are so many other gifts to be made during the year. It is, nevertheless, decidedly graceful and appropriate to remember one's friends on this, one of the most joyous festivals of the year. If flowers are appropriate, why not a handsome vase to put them in? We have some very dainty and beautiful vases in cut glass. They are not expensive and we will be pleased to show them to you.
