HAS PRAISE FOR DAIRY AT ASYLUM

Dairy conditions at the Oregon insane asylum are equal to the best to be found anywhere in the nation, according to Dr. S. W. McCulloch, chief of the bureau of animal industry in the northwest, who has just returned from an official visit to the Willamette valley. When asked concerning the milk supply conditions at the asylum, he replied: "I have just returned from Salem, Oregon, where we tested the dairy herd owned by the state insane asylum. This herd is constituted of 124 cattle and is kept in the highest possible condition to economically produce milk.

"While at the asylum I had the opportunity of examining carefully the new dairy barn which has just been completed under the direction of Dr. Lee Steiner, superintendent of the asylum. In my judgment this barn is the most sanitary and most up to date in every particular of any dairy barn located in any of the western states. In fact, it is probable that few, if any, barns in the United States exceed it in sanitation and modern construction.

"Dr. Steiner is to be congratulated upon the wisdom he has displayed in the construction of this barn and the state is fortunate indeed to possess such an institution within its borders. Under these modern conditions the state insane asylum is supplied with dairy products which are unsurpassed anywhere in the nation. This barn is worth many times what it cost as a demonstration to the dairymen of the state in modern dairy sanitation. Any dairymen who contemplates the construction of a new dairy barn can well afford to take a trip to Salem to view this modern institution.

The Way Charles II. Was Dosed by His Fourteen Doctors.

Charles II. of England lived less than a week after he was attacked by his fatal illness, and it is wonderful that he lived so long. A monograph on "The Last Days of Charles II." gives some extraordinary details of these last days.

FORTUNE KINDLY DOES UP A FEW SPEED MANIACS

Walla Walla, Wash., April 4.—E. J. Morrison and Elmer Mullinix, who were among the four injured in an automobile accident on the College Place road Saturday night, are in a critical condition today, and it is not believed either will recover. O. Hoffman and Clarence Maxfield are improved, and it is thought will be able to leave the hospital in a day or two. Thomas Lynch, the fifth member of the party, who escaped injury, and ran two miles to summon aid, following the plunge of the machine down an embankment, said today he had no idea as to what caused the accident, although a defective steering gear is thought to be the most probable cause. The speedometer on the wrecked car shows that it was going at the rate of 70 miles an hour when the accident occurred.

State Wins Tax Suit.

Attorney General Crawford today was advised by T. J. Cleeton, county judge of Multnomah county, that he had decided in favor of the state in the matter of the inheritance tax of the Sellin Barr estate. In levying the tax originally on the heirs and the widower the court erred in making an incorrect proportion and it was advised of the fact by the state treasurer. The attorney for the estate agreed to have it corrected but failed to do so but instead permitted the 30 days for appeal to expire and then contended that the case could not be re-opened or appealed.

Assistant Attorney General Van Winkle contended that the error was a clerical one and brought an action to have the matter corrected and the advice received this morning is that the court has upheld his contention and decided the case in his favor.

Suspected Firebug Arrested.

San Diego, Cal., April 4.—The police were busy this morning trying to get a confession from Adolph Lewis Schonek, a young suspect arrested last night. The police allege he is the firebug who had been setting fires in this city for several months, and had successfully eluded the police and firemen, besides telephoning to them and taunting them with their failure to catch him. Schonek absolutely denies he had any part in the fires.

He was caught last night just after an alarm of fire was turned in at Second and Spruce streets.

He was grabbed at the firebox by Constable Woods and others who were hidden nearby and promptly taken in an automobile to the police station. The crowd yelled "Lynch him!" but the man was taken away so quickly that he was never in danger.

Bled From Coyote Bite. Spokane, Wash., April 4.—Roger, the 6-year-old son of John Troutman, living five miles east of Genesee, Idaho, is dead today from rabies, caused by the bite of a coyote last week. While playing in the yard of his father's home, the lad was attacked by the coyote, which, maddened by hunger, inflicted several wounds about the face. On the day following the attack symptoms of rabies were manifested, and death

INDIGNANT OVER RELEASE OF JAP SPIES

Manila, April 4.—Much indignation has been aroused by the release of the two Japanese who were arrested here a few days ago on the charge of being spies. The Nipponese were given their liberty on cable instructions from Washington. Owing to the fact that there is no provision in the Philippine military code governing the trial of spies of a nation not at war with the United States the alleged spies were turned over to the civil authorities.

An investigation of the civil laws, likewise showed that the statutes were inadequate to punish them, with the result that they were released after Washington had been notified. Members of the American military staff here look upon the release of the Japanese as an open invitation for renewed activity of Japanese spies, who will now feel encouraged to learn as much as possible regarding the American defenses here.

It is probable that a demand will be made on congress to remedy the situation.

Abandon Profit-Sharing.

London, April 4.—After varying degrees of success in West Hartlepool shipyard of Furness, Withy & Company, which was being operated on a co-operative plan, has returned to its old system following a vote of its employees to discontinue the profit sharing plan.

The employees declare that Sir Christopher Furness plans for increased permanent workmen were not carried out under the plan. Labor leaders also opposed it for the reason that it tended to disrupt trades unions.

The agreement included a 9 per cent interest annually on all sums invested by workmen and an agreement on the part of the workmen not to strike but to submit all differences to a board of arbitrators.

The drama of human life is more interesting than the novel; the story of the day's work is the most wonderful story ever written.
