Funeral of Mrs. Mamie Gautenbein.

Last night the gentle dews fell upon another little mound in the cemetery—filling the chalices of the beautiful flowers which covered it, with tears. Under them lies the form of one who, but a few short days ago, a tender mother and loving wife made glad her home. One whose busy hands ministered to those she loved. Whose unflinching sympathy and gentle womanliness made all who knew her, her friends, always. The long cortege, that sorrowing, paid the last tribute the living may pay to the dead, gave eloquent testimony to the esteem in which she was held, and the great bank of beautiful flowers that covered the dull earth that pressed her coffin lid, spoke, though silent, in the mute language of sorrow and of bereavement. With solemn services and deep toned music that came resonant from full hearts, the last farewell was said, the mound covered with flowers, and she was left to wait the judgment morn.

The sun this morning shone down upon the new made grave and the tears left by the dew were slowly wiped away. Thus it will be to those who mourn. Time cannot make us forget, but even as it smooths the rugged and stormshot battlefield, and covers the scars with verdure, so does it soften the poignancy of grief.

The funeral services were held at the chapel of the parlors at the Clough undertaking parlors, and were conducted by Rev. P. S. Knight. The pall bearers were O.

Bower, B. Nelans, Ira Jorgensen, W. Hatch, G. N. Patterson and E. T. Prescott, all members of Foresters, to which the bereaved husband belongs, and the local lodge attended in a body. The hymns were most beautifully rendered by members of the German singing society.

Courts Move Slowly.
Los Angeles, Calif., April 15.—As an instance of the slow moving machinery of American courts, local attorneys are pointing to the case of Edward Fox, who was fined $100 for a "frivolous appeal." The fine was ordered yesterday by the state supreme court. Fox has been dead two years.

Nearly three years ago Fox appealed a decision in a local land case. The appeal was thrown out of court yesterday and branded as frivolous. It was not stated whether an attempt to collect the fine from Fox's estate will be made. The opinion was written by Justice Henshaw, of the appellate court of California.

DON'T MISS DAVENPORT TONIGHT

The lecture given by Homer Davenport last night was one of the most interesting ever heard in Salem. The opera house was tolerably well filled, and the audience was enthusiastic. Davenport had not been on the stage five minutes until every one in the house felt that they were his personal friends, and were just listening to a beautifully told story, that was being told, too, just for them. There is no weak spots in Homer's talk. He has a faculty of walking right into your confidence, and staying there. He has a way and style of his own that is decidedly catching, and his work, when he puts his fingers in it, is quick and decidedly interesting. Tonight the subject will be "The Power of the Cartoon," and those who enjoy good cartoons, and who does not, will have an evening of pure delight. The opportunity to hear and see the work of our Marion county boy should not be neglected, and those who do neglect it will have something to regret as long as they live, as it will probably be his last visit here as a lecturer for some time at least. Take the Journal man's advice, go and hear Davenport, and then come around and thank the reporter for a good hunch—for it sure is straight.

One Conductor Who Was Cured.
Mr. Wilford Adams is his name, and he writes about it.—"Some time ago I was confined to my bed with chronic rheumatism. I used two bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy with good effect, and the third bottle put me on my feet and I resumed work as conductor on the Lexington, Ky., Street Railway. It gave me more relief than any medicine I had ever used, and it will do all you claim in cases of rheumatism." Foley's Kidney Remedy cures rheumatism by eliminating the uric acid from the blood. J. C. Perry.

Coats that button up the back have been suggested for men. Doubtless it is some woman's idea. The Boston woman who complains that kissing is overdone probably prefers her's rare.

A LITTLE STEAMER WRECKED

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
Los Angeles, Cal., April 15.—Officials of the Sierra Pinta Mines Co., of Sonora, today are making every effort to locate captain Mansfield and his crew of the steamer Venice, which is a total loss in the Gulf of California.

According to a message received here last evening, the Venice blew up last Tuesday. Captain Mansfield and his crew of four men reached shore in an open boat, after a terrible night on the water. The message, which was sent by Mansfield, gave no particulars of the accident, merely stating that the ship was a total loss, and that the crew was safe.

The Venice was a 30-ton ship. She was valued at $6000.

A Few Words of Thanks.

To the friends whose tender sympathy and many acts of kindness during the sickness and following death of my wife; whose loving hands covered the grave with flowers. I can only say my heart is too full for words, such words as I would wish to express my gratitude. To the lodge of Foresters, the Rev. P. S. Knight and those whose voices rendered so splendidly the hymns I can only say, I thank you.

THE STAMPEDE DEPOPULATED MINING TOWN

Seattle, Wash., April 15.—That the stampede to the Iditarod has depleted Fairbanks and the surrounding district of laborers and that 1500 men are needed at once for the spring clean-up is stated in a cable received by a local bank today.

The cablegram is signed by eight of the leading men of Fairbanks.

The wages stated in the message are $6 a day for pointment, and $5 a day for shovelers. Conditions in Fairbanks because of the shortage of labor are serious, the cable states.

Steps are being taken here today to send out a large crew of men on the first boat for Skagway.

PRODIGAL DICTATES THE TERMS

OFFER TO RETURN TO THE HOUSE OF ITS FATHERS BY INDEPENDENTS, PROVIDES AGAINST A DIET OF HUSKS.

Washington, April 15.—The jubilation that greeted the announcement that the Jefferson day banquet here that Hearst and the Independence league are willing to return to the Democratic party has been somewhat modified by the conditions attached to the offer. Democratic leaders today declare that there are too many conditions and are asking whether in reality Democrats, in accepting, would be admitting the Independence league, or whether the league would be annexing the democrats.

On the same night that John Temple Graves made the announcement that the league are willing to return to democracy he wrote an editorial which practically read Bryan out of the party for committing the "unspeakable folly" of "glorifying the free silver crusade and raising the ghost of 16 to 1."

Champ Clark, the democratic floor leader of the house, however, isn't afraid.

"It's only one of the signs showing that we are on a winning trail," said he. "The Independence leaguers have discovered which way the wind is blowing and are joining in the winning movement. They are extremely welcome."

THINK THEY HAVE WESLEY.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
San Francisco, April 15.—In the person of a man who gave the name of Carl Wagner, who was arrested at Ocean Beach today on a charge of carrying concealed weapons, the local police declare that they have secured Charles J. Wesley, who is wanted in Portland, Ore., on the charge of having murdered his divorced wife's mother, Mrs. Schulz. Wagner denied that he is Wesley, but the police insist they made no mistake in his identification.

Mrs. Schulz was lured from her home by a decoy note, about two weeks ago and attacked on a lonely road where she was beaten to death.

A messenger boy who delivered the note later identified a photograph of Wesley as that of the man who gave him the message to deliver.

The Portland authorities have been notified and a reply from them is being anxiously awaited.

When Wagner was arrested, he was loading a revolver.

Object to Strong Medicines.

Many people object to taking the strong medicines usually prescribed by physicians for rheumatism. There is no need of internal treatment in any case of muscular or chronic rheumatism, and more than nine out of every ten cases of the disease are of one or the other of these varieties. When there is no fever and little (if any) swelling, you may know that it is only necessary to apply Chamberlain's Liniment freely to get quick relief. Try it. For sale by all good druggists.

THE HOUSE OF JOHN D.

by which the real estate on which the structure stands, passed into the company's hands, are equally emphatic in the declaration that they positively know John D. Rockefeller intends to use it for himself.

In appearance the building seems to have been designed for residential purposes. It is in the Queen Anne style, nine stories high and covers 4500 square feet of ground. The total cost, it is said, will be $1,250,000. The ground bought in competition with the British government, which wanted it for department offices, but would pay only $250,000, cost $375,000.

Householders in the neighborhood, perhaps the most aristocratic in London, who originally complained bitterly at the idea of a business structure in the locality, own now that their only complaint is that it completely dwarfs everything else within sight. Of the three fronts two are on Queen Anne's gate and one on St. James park. Foreign Minister Sir Edward Grey and Home Secretary Winston Churchill live in the immediate vicinity and King Edward's town residence, Buckingham palace, is within sight of the upper windows.

Neighbors who profess to have inside information from the architect and contractor, compromising between the assertion that the palace is wholly for the Anglo-American Oil Co., and wholly for John D. Rockefeller, maintain that the company will indeed, have offices in it, but that the two top floors will be reserved for the American multimillionaire himself.
