

AN UP-TO-DATE STOVE

Do you realize there is no longer any reason why you should use a coal range? Oil is cheaper than coal; it is lighter and easier to handle, and gives an intense heat. Provided you have the right stove, oil is more economical, cleaner and less trouble. Have you seen the

New Perfection Oil Cook-stove

The accompanying illustration gives you only a rough idea of its appearance. You really can't appreciate it until you either use it yourself, or talk to someone who has used it. It does everything that a coal range will do—except heat the room. The New Perfection Oil Cook-stove will do anything, from heating a kettle of water to cooking a course dinner, but it won't heat a room. It doesn't "smell," it doesn't smoke, it can't get out of order. Light it and it is ready. Turn it down and it is out. Only a woman who knows the trouble of carrying coal and cooking in a hot kitchen can appreciate what it means to have a clean, perfect stove that will cook anything, boil, bake or roast, and yet won't heat the kitchen. How is it done? The flame is controlled in turquoise-blue enamel chimneys, and directed against the bottom of pot, pan, kettle or oven, and only there. The flame operates exactly where it is needed—and nowhere else. With this stove your kitchen is cool.

The nickel finish with the bright blue of the chimneys makes the stove ornamental and attractive. Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners; the 2 and 3-burner stoves can be had with or without Cabinet. Every dealer everywhere; if not at yours, write for Descriptive Circular to the nearest agency of the

HEARD IN HOTEL LOBBIES

"Rather a peculiar kind of architecture that," said a traveling salesman in the lobby of the hotel Salem as he took in a mental survey of the Marion county court house.

"I can not say that I admire it," he continued, "but it is of rather novel character and not altogether unattractive, but it certainly belongs to some other age than the one we are living in."

"Must have gone back to the Grecian era for it," was the cynical comment of another commercial man and, then followed a lull in the conversation until a newcomer who had just settled in the country and who evidently has some progressive ideas about him chirped in.

"If they went back to the Grecian era for the exterior architecture," he began, "they must have gone back to the dark ages for the interior design and equipment. I have seen lots of court houses which was as crowded as that one and which was more poorly equipped and had less accommodations for the county officers and the public in general. The grand jury made an inspection of it during its last session and made a number of recommendations and if they are followed it will result in considerable improvement; but I am told that similar actions have been taken by former grand juries and that the reports have been filed away and forgotten, and I presume that this will be the case with this one. For my part I would like to see it improved and am more than willing to contribute my share and the county with its $50,000 population or more would not feel the cost and should have pride enough to see to it that the jury's recommendations were carried into execution."

That the tide of immigration from the east to the west has commenced is the consensus of opinion expressed by the hotel men of the city and a glance at the hotel registers and the statements of railroad men would seem to bear them out in their assertion.

There has probably not a day passed by within the last two or three weeks but there has appeared on the hotel registers the names of people from the far away east, and the list has materially increased within the last week. Practically all of the eastern states are represented. While the cities—the large ones are contributing to the list, most of the immigrants seem to be coming from the country and the small towns.

According to the railroad men the eastern immigration this year will be heavier than ever before. They say that thousands of people are moving westward and that the majority of them are coming prepared to make investments and to make a home. The major portion of them are influenced to come to the west because of a desire to secure land—obtain homes—but there are also many who are coming because it offers better opportunities and larger returns on capital and are looking for business locations and investments.

RENO REFUGE OF HEAVY HEARTS AND FOOLISH WEDS

Reno, Nev., April 14.—When South Dakota amended its residence requirement from six months to one year, Nevada sent Reno and Goldfield to the post in the Great Divorce Stakes as a coupled entry.

Nevada started as a territory with the loosest divorce laws ever written, and she didn't change them when she became a state. Hence Reno is to the unhappily mated what Mecca is to the Mohammedan. Matrimony's gordian knot is no mystery here. And what is said for Reno goes for Goldfield, never heard of until "Tex" Rickard staged the first Gans-Nelson fight.

Within the past six months, 98 divorces have been granted by Judges W. H. A. Pike and John S. Orr. Fifty-four cases are now on file. The divorce colony numbers about 150, with additions coming at the rate of six a week.

Within the last six months, women whose names are well known in various ways have been divorced from "undesirable" husbands. The most prominent are Mrs. Frederick Lewis Colwell, Mrs. Keith Donaldson, Mrs. Henry Spies Kip, Mrs. Wm. Lee Stoddart, Mrs. Elihu B. Frost, Mrs. Daniel Frohman (who was Margaret Hingston), Mrs. Lucien C. Shalabarger, Mrs. Raymond C. France, Mrs. Claude F. Day and Mrs. George Leeds Zell. The latest prominent arrival is Virginia Harnd Sothorn.

Split-'em-asunder lawyers at home advise fair clients to try Reno when quick action is wanted. They arm them with an introduction to a local correspondent and are content that the mills of the gods and Nevada jurisprudence will do the rest. Reno is cosmopolitan. The petted daughter of the 400 and the darling of the theatre-going public rub Parisian-gowned elbows with the blanket-draped squaw.

Divorces are as thick as show girls along the Great White Way. You see them grand dames, actresses, newly-weds, foolish-weds, sufferers from the affinity thing, artists, professional and business men. The men aren't so noticeable, they lose their identity so easily. But whoever heard of a woman losing anything like an identity?

It's easy for those who chafe in double harness to trot single. That passage, "Whom God hath joined together let no man put asunder," is as meaningless in Reno as Sanskrit to a Digger Indian.

The colonists, as the applicants are known, live apart from the Renolites. They have as much chance to break through society's barrier as a high-grader has of escaping if caught with the goods. There is a reason.

A little more than a year ago Margaret Hingston-Frohman came here with her mother, to secure the residence necessary to apply for divorce. She declared she was sick of the stage, and wanted to wed for kiddies and to darn her husband's socks. Her ambition was 12 children in 12 years, she said. Society took up Mrs. Frohman, and no sooner had her divorce been obtained than she married, here in Reno, E. J. Howes of Tacoma. Society was shocked, and now a divorcee can't break in with a stick of dynamite.

Why is Reno a haven for heavy hearts? Read the answer in the statutes: "502, Sec. 22.—Divorce from the bonds of matrimony may be obtained by complaint, under oath, to the district court of the county."

PREMIUMS FOR SCHOOL EXHIBITS

The premium list for the educational display for the state fair in September has just been completed by County Superintendent Smith, and in its scope it takes in everything from the regular work pursued by the pupils in the school room down to the departments of cooking and sewing.

The list will now be turned over to the printer and when a sufficient number has been printed it will be sent to the various teachers and schools throughout the county and it is the earnest request of Superintendent Smith that the teachers of all the schools, and the pupils and parents co-operate in a movement to make the Marion county display the best on exhibition at the fair.

The list covers practically every subject pertaining to school work and liberal prizes are given in each department. Special emphasis will be laid on the industrial, woodwork, agriculture and sewing and cooking departments, and every effort be made to make them in every respect of a superior character. The sewing and cooking departments are divided into two divisions—the A division which is for pupils of 12 years of age and over, and the B division, which is for pupils under 12 years of age.

Special prizes are offered by President Booth of the state fair board to the pupils who shall succeed in winning the most prizes in the display.

The superintendents of the various other counties in the state are also busily engaged in the preparation of a premium list and it is predicted that the educational display this year will far exceed that of previous years and that the contest for prizes in the various departments will be an exceptionally keen one.

Will Erect Monument. When the electors of the state shall have granted the desire of the people of Southern Lane and Northern Douglas counties for the creation of a new county, the pioneers of that section have proposed the erection at Cottage Grove of a statue of Colonel James Willis Nesmith, in whose honor the county will be named, to commemorate the loyalty and integrity of this illustrious Oregonian who occupied numerous positions of trust from 1845 until the time of his death in 1880. This would certainly be a glowing tribute to this sturdy pioneer of 1843.

President Roosevelt Says that outdoor exercise is needed by the American people. That's all very well, but how can people with rheumatism follow that advice? The answer is simple—use Ballard's Snow Liniment and the rheumatism will go; leaving you as spry as a colt. Gives quick and permanent relief from rheumatism, neuralgia, lame back and all pains. Sold by all dealers.

SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

De Forest, Wis.—"After an operation four years ago I had pains downward in both sides, backache, and a weakness. The doctor wanted me to have another operation. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I am entirely cured of my troubles."

Another Operation Avoided. New Orleans, La.—"For years I suffered from severe female troubles. Finally I was confined to my bed and the doctor said an operation was necessary. I gave Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial first, and was saved from an operation."

Thirty years of unparalleled success confirms the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to cure female diseases. The great volume of unsolicited testimony constantly pouring in proves conclusively that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a remarkable remedy for those distressing feminine ills from which so many women suffer.

If you want special advice about your case write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.
