GENTLEMAN BURGLAR WAS BOLD

AFTER RANSACKING HOUSE PLEASANTLY CHATS WITH VICTIM ON SUBJECT OF BURGLARY—EXPRESSES REGRETS BUT NEEDS THE MONEY.

Spokane, Wash., April 26.—After ransacking the residence of J. Webster Hancox on Eighteenth avenue at midnight and securing $19 in money and some jewelry, a well dressed masked burglar entered the sleeping apartment of Hancox and his wife, turned on the light and, with revolver in hand, chatted for 20 minutes.

Seating himself in a comfortable chair, the gentleman burglar said: "I don't figure that I am in much danger of arrest, for as you see, I am pretty well dressed, and the cops will never be able to catch me. I was a bookkeeper in San Francisco until I went wrong. The best thing about my work is that I have no pals to give me away. The best way to burgle I sto go it alone."

"Is this seventy-five cents all you have?" he asked, counting small change that he drew from Hancox's trousers.

"It is," replied the victim. Turning the garments up-side-down, the thief saw a $10 gold piece roll to the floor.

"I'm sorry you lied to me," said the gentleman of the mask. After chatting for some minutes more, he said: "I regret that I have been compelled thus to intrude upon the sanctity of your bedroom, but it was necessary for me to secure the money I need. But inasmuch as you are paying for this home on the installment plan, I will return you money in July with seven per cent interest."

The gentleman burglar bowed himself out and was gone.

Taft's WESTERN ITINERARY

Washington, April 26.—Outlining a series of speeches that will include no criticism of the insurgents, President Taft today began to plan for his coming Western trip.

The presidential party, which will include Secretary of State Knox, will leave Washington next Friday for Buffalo, where Saturday will be spent. The main event there will be the dinner of the Buffalo Chamber of Commerce, where both the president and Secretary Knox will speak.

After the banquet the party will leave for Pittsburg, where the president will spend May 1 with his sister-in-law, Mrs. W. K. Laughlin, and on Monday will attend the Founders' day exercises at the Carnegie institute, a national league baseball game and a Grant dinner day at the American club. The next day the president will be in Cincinnati attending the concert and supper of the Musical Festival Association. It is believed at Cincinnati the president will comment on Republican politics in Ohio. He will be accompanied from Pittsburg to Cincinnati by Count von Bernstorff, German ambassador, who will speak at the festival supper.

On May 4 the party will reach St. Louis. The program there includes a breakfast at the commercial club, an address to the farmers' convention, luncheon with the Business Men's League an auto ride and a dinner at the Traffic Club. Immediately after the dinner the president will leave for Washington.

Mrs. Rockefeller Ill. Tarrytown, N. Y., April 26.—Mrs. John D. Rockefeller is making her first visit to her home in Tarrytown in over a year. She arrived so weak that she had to be assisted to a carriage.

An attack of pneumonia, which she suffered last year, has seriously impaired her health.

BEAUTIFUL CITY OF HOMES.

provide facilities for the educational study of the subjects of the public school curriculum, to lead him to discover the principles and aims of education, and to furnish the opportunity for application of the principles thus derived in a well-organized training school.

Parallel in importance with the true aim of the normal school, which is to train for the State, teachers of the highest professional skill, is also the purpose to develop the noblest and strongest manhood and womanhood. For the attainment of such an aim, the religious, social, and educational environment of the communities and schools are excellent.

Demand for Teachers.

More than six hundred new teachers are needed each year in the State, and the normal schools should supply the larger part. Boards of directors and county superintendents have learned, from observation and experience, the value of the normal trained teacher. Young men and women who are entering the profession realize that such training will not only increase their usefulness to their schools, but will result in better positions and higher salaries.

Bites Off Wife's Fingers.

Bisbee, Ariz., April 26.—Charged with mayhem because he bit off three of his wife's fingers, Nick Lustila today occupies a cell in the county jail.

Lustila followed the woman to a grocery store, where she had gone for provisions.

According to her story he wanted to buy liquor with the money she intended to spend for food. Lustila attacked his wife in the presence of a dozen customers.

He choked her almost into insensibility and had chewed her right hand until it was necessary to separate the fingers.

Will Review Order.

The case of the Southern Pacific Railway company against the Oregon Railroad commission came up for hearing before Judge Burnett yesterday and he denied the application of the company for an injunction to restrain the commission from enforcing an order directing the company to put in a side track at Edenbower. The court, however, will review the proceedings of the commission and determine whether the request is reasonable and it was given until Monday in which to file its answer.

PORTLAND VISITORS WELCOMED

GIVEN CORDIAL SEND-OFF ON THEIR WAY TO KLAMATH FALLS — SPEECHES, MUSIC, POETRY AND SONG—JOURNAL FILLED THE TRAIN WITH PAPERS BOOSTING THE CAPITAL CITY.

The Klamath Falls Excursion of Portland business men about 100 strong pulled into the city last night about seven and were met by a string of electric cars with a band and the city's best boosters aboard and escorted down through the illuminated city and then taken to the Illihee club for refreshment, rest and further entertainment.

Newspaper Men Along.

The three big Portland dailies had special editorial representatives along and are giving the city some fine writeups and the investment in the cordial reception given by Salem was well repaid. The train consisted of five Pullman sleepers and a buffet diner and baggage car. Assistant General Passenger Agent John M. Scott had provided the excursionists with a booklet for a diary and map of the trip, with each man's name embossed in gilt letters on the title page. The Salem speakers did themselves proud and the city was officially represented by the heads of the various local organizations. The excursion will return via Corvallis and the west side line. A special edition of The Capital Journal was distributed on the train just before the excursionists left on their trip south, boosting for the Capital City, and following poem was sent to be read by John H. Cradlebaugh of The Journal force.

We're Glad to See You. On some occasions, such as this tonight, I like to let my Pegasus take flight, And tune my lyre to play while others sing. (My good old lrrr, that lies like anything.) And let it do its very level best, To give glad greeting to a welcome guest. Not idle words are those that you will hear, Nor pretty phrases for a lady's ear. When Salem's merchants greet you, as they will, With "Glad to meet you," and "Why, Hello Bull!" And hearty handshake and a kindling eye, (If they don't kindle, well—wood's pretty high.) And try to tell you at the evening lunch How pleased they are with your whole "blooming bunch," But they will fall, because (you'd) never guess it. Wells Fargo's rates forbid them to "express it." This friendly feeling is not ours alone As, (like Missourians) you will soon be shown. Together, Oregon must stand or fall; The good of one place is the good of all; And you will learn before your Journey's done How grand a country is our Oregon. You'll find it better than your fancy painted, And like its boosters when you get acquainted! So here's, God bless you—three times three— Here's hoping we shall see you here again.

There Were Good Speeches.

The speechmaking was confined to the official heads of the city organizations: T. B. Kay of the Board of Trade, A. N. Gilbert of the Illihee club, George F. Rodgers for the city, President Homan for Willamette University, and Portland responses by Sam Council, Tom Richardson, Andrew C. Smith and Herman Wittenberg.

Interest in Fight Great.

San Francisco, April 26.—Jack Johnson will be in San Francisco by May 1 to begin training. That is the message brought by Jack Gleason, one of the promoters of the big bout who has returned from an Eastern trip.

"The people here cannot imagine the interest the people of the East and middle West are taking in the coming scrap," he said.

"I cannot see how the railroad companies are going to get enough pullman cars to haul them there. It is not alone the sporting element, but the best citizens as well who are interested in the battle."

Gleason said he met F. G. Bonville in Denver. Bonville had been in Africa where he met the Roosevelt party. Gleason says he was told Kermit is deeply interested in the battle and may be one of spectators.

Custom House Inquiry Extended.

Washington, April 26.—An extension of the customs house inquiry into all branches of the treasury department services was announced here today.

The United States appraisers' stores at New York will be the next bureau of the department to undergo official probing. According to information here there are no charges of irregularities at the appraisers' stores. It was asserted that the investigation is to be a precaution taken by the department to make sure that "present methods of appraising property protect revenues."

The Swine or the Flower?

Ah me! I saw a huge and lonesome sty, Wherein a drove of wallowing swine were barred, Whose banquet shocked the nostril and the eye; Then spoke a voice, "Behold the source of lard!" I fed, and saw a field that seemed at first One glistening mass of roses pure and white, With dewy buds 'mid dark green foliage nursed; And, as I lingered o'er the lovely sight, The summer breeze, that cooled that Southern scene, Whispered, "Behold the source of COTTOLENE!"

The Peer of Rangedom THE SOUTH BEND MALLEABLE

This handsome range placed in your home on a positive guarantee. The most economical range to buy. When we speak of economy we do not mean the false economy of buying poor material and cheap construction, because such is not economy. The economy we believe in is the buying of the best. The extra cost is not to be considered when the results are so vastly superior. There is a great saving in fuel, and this alone overcomes the difference in cost in a year's time. You should see the South Bend Malleable before buying your range. Other ranges as low as $27.00.
