

May Bargains Are in Blossom, Every Department is Represented in This Early Merchandising With Extra Qualities and Exceptional Values

Our buying in tremendous quantities enables us to offer a better grade of merchandise for less money, and has made this the largest store south of Portland, in fact we have five stores under one roof, and they are busy all the time. We have a complete shoe store, men's store, ladies ready to wear store, dry goods and domestic store and a second floor store full of suggestive household and traveling needs; every one of our complete stores only handles the highest grade of merchandise obtainable and buys direct from the makers and mills, thus eliminating the jobbers' profit. For example this one instance will prove to you our buying and selling capacity. We had sold five gross of the late Hair Turbans. Why so many when other stores had them? Other stores' prices were $1, and never below 49c; our price was 19c and down as low as 15c for the same grade, etc. Looks like some one was asking too much, don't it? From roof to basement the quality of our goods is the best the best can produce.

200 Pieces of Seasonable Dress Goods in One Colossal Green Tag Sale

Choice weaves and colorings and the cream from our entire stock is included. Any piece of dress goods marked with a GREEN tag means that the price has been reduced one-third. SPRING AND SUMMER WEIGHTS IN A LARGE VARIETY ARE HERE FOR YOUR CHOOSING AT THIS HEAVY PRICE CONCESSION. We know that other stores have dress goods, but will they compare in quality with ours. We buy direct from the famous Botany Mills, the largest manufacturers in the world. Their products are of a superior grade, a better warp, better in finish, better in quality, and at the same price, and less than you pay for inferior grades elsewhere.

SHOES REDUCED ONE-THIRD IN PRICE

All odd sizes and broken lines must go at this price. Our one-third price reduction means a better quality for less money than so-called closing out sales—we buy direct from the makers—our Pingree shoes for ladies, the best made for the money. Olds & King, one of Portland's largest department stores, has this very same line; they are better in quality, better in style and less in price than inferior makes.

BETTER FOOTERY

In these days of frenzied advertising any old style is represented as the latest out, up-to-date, etc., and so wise people are becoming more and more careful in selecting their shoe store. Our ever increasing trade shows that well dressed people look to this store as the style and center and authority in all that pertains to footwear. Our reputation stands for a guarantee of quality, and our endorsement of a style is unquestioned. Ladies' and Gentlemen's new season's high grade footwear, quality and prices irrespective. C. P. Ford's ladies' Oxfords in all leathers, kid, patent, gun metal, suedes, tan, canvas, etc., per pair $3, $3.50 and $4. Strong, Garfield's men's Oxfords, per pair $5 and $6. Allwyn and Matchless shoes, the ready sellers, per pair, $3.50 and $4. An inspection of our high grade stock, properly priced, is worthy of your inspection.

COUSIN KATE AN OLD PLAY BUT GOOD ONE

The strongest play that Hubert Henry Davies, one of the heavyweights in the world of literature, ever wrote was "Cousin Kate," which he wrote especially for Ethel Barrymore, and which aided her greatly in making the tremendous hit she did in London and New York. In fact, there is more good material in one act of "Cousin Kate" than in a great many of the later successes combined. It is an author's finest achievements in dialogue, characterization, repartee, and in development.

The author has realized that ideas as well as emotions, have value, and has also introduced a vein of comedy that runs the gamut, together with chances for heavy emotion and noble self-sacrifice. He has not overlooked a single point, and the play is a constant delight.

But even if "Cousin Kate" had not proven itself, the appearance of Jeanne Russell in the title role would insure its value, when presented at the Grand Opera House on Friday, May 6.

Miss Russell is one of our most talented young leading women, a close personal and professional friend of Ethel Barrymore, and a finished artist of the first magnitude. She is surrounded by a company of merit and ability. She seems to have the peculiar knack or tact of absorbing the fine points of the many, moulding them into a symmetrical consummation, to present to the public—an ensemble—a gem in a perfect setting.

the people victorious in both houses, and it will make the position of the regulars rather embarrassing. It is declared, if they attempt to read the insurgents out of the party or if they try to show that the insurgents defeated the platform promises.

Senator Cummins, of Iowa, who has led the progressive fight against the rate bill, is expected to continue his attacks. Cummins has fought the court of commerce idea, and it is believed that even this provision of the bill may be lost if the fight goes on.

ceremony he would not respond, so the telephone message was restored to.

It was Deputy Clerk Allen that conveyed the message to the judge, and, coming from him, he had really no reason to suspect it. The judge was occupied in considering the case of Charles F. Elgin against S. H. Snyder. Attorney Kaiser was arguing when Clerk Allen handed a message to the judge, and, as he talked on for fully five minutes, it was noticed the judge began to grow nervous. When he concluded Attorney John Meary arose to make his argument, but the judge excused himself on the ground of having a telephone call, and descended from the bench and went out through the court room door. In the clerk's office, instead of a telephone call, he was confronted by the young couple, and in the presence of Professor McElroy and Miss Louis Byrd, as witnesses, and the rest of the clerical force as spectators, the ceremony was performed, and the couple went happily on their way.

When the judge returned to the court room as he would do, he was seen to chuckle to himself, but when once inside the court room there was the usual judicial frown on his face, and he went about considering the real estate case.
