

TO FORM VETERANS RESERVE

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] London, July 7.—The organization of a veteran reserve corps of veterans in the British army whose ages range between 35 and 55 is being advocated in the British war office.

St. Leo Stacey, a magazine editor, issued a call for volunteers to get a tentative basis to work upon. Twenty-five hundred veterans of the British army responded. They declared themselves physically able and ready to serve in the "veterans' reserve force."

Richard Haldane, secretary of state for war, found that in the British Isles there were 250,000 men eligible to join. Official action may be taken by the war office.

AGED BACHELOR TIRES OF BENEDICT'S LIFE

Asks Court for Divorce, Alimony and For Appointment of a Guardian.

Seattle, Wash., July 7.—A guardian, a divorce and $50 a month alimony to the husband are the demands of Pierce Fitzgerald, 76, in a suit on file in the Superior Court today. The court has ordered Mrs. Eldora Fitzgerald to appear and show why she should not be required to pay for her aged husband's support.

The couple were married in August last year. Fitzgerald states that he was a life-long bachelor, engaged in quiet literary pursuits until he met his wife, who immediately took charge of him, married him and required him to turn over to her all of his property, amounting to $10,000.

Since then he tells the court he has been sleeping in the hall and having pocket money doled out to him by his wife. To make matters worse, Mrs. Fitzgerald's divorced husband boarded at the home until June 17. The court is asked to appoint O. H. Lafarge as guardian of the estate of the husband.

LANGFORD POSTS COIN FOR FIGHT

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] New York, July 7.—Joe Woodman, manager of Sam Langford, today posted $20,000 to bind a match with Jack Johnson. Heretofore Woodman has posted only $10,000 and Johnson has ignored it. It is not believed Johnson will accept the present challenge, as he has announced that he will rest for at least a year.

Langford has been trailing Johnson lately, much as the champion chased Jim Jeffries. He is eager for a match and has instructed his manager to do his best to secure one.

"Nigger" Not in His Class

Boone, Ia., July 7.—Champion Jack Johnson intends to enter the automobile business in Chicago, and is not going to fight for at least one year, according to a statement made by him here today.

When asked if he would accept the challenge of Sam Langford, he laughed and said:

"That nigger better hunt somebody in his class." Johnson admitted that he was considering a proposition to fight Tommy Burns again.

CASADY IS SENTENCED TO DEATH

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] Canyon City, Or., July 7.—Deputy Sheriff Joseph Casady, who, with four other men, was convicted of having lynched Ollie Snyder, a man whom Casady was taking back to Heppner, Ore., to face a charge of murder, is under sentence to be hanged September 2. He will be taken to the Oregon penitentiary at Salem tomorrow.

Emmett Shields, Earl Shields, Albert Green and Ben Hinton, co-defendants, have already been sentenced to life imprisonment for the crime.

They were convicted of second degree murder. Casady's conviction of murder in the first degree was brought about, it is said, on account of the fact that he was an officer of the law, and Snyder was supposed to be under his protection.

Snyder had killed a sheepherder named Green in a quarrel over a dog at Heppner. Casady, who had a reputation as a sure-shot gun man, was detailed to capture him. He hunted the fugitive all over Eastern and Central Oregon during the winter, until he finally caught him near Canyon City.

With his prisoner Casady started back to Heppner. Meanwhile friends of Green organized a party, overtook the officer and Snyder was lynched. Then his body was riddled with bullets.

Evidence at the trial indicated that Casady assisted in the summary execution of his prisoner.

VERSATILE KNIGHT OF THE BRUSH

John Elliott, son-in-law of Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, is of the famous Scotch border family whom Stevenson's "Weir of Hermiston" celebrates. That he has more than the soft temperamental qualities usually ascribed to artists is the opinion of Mr. Elliott's work at Messina, helping to build up a village for refugees, and acting as stevedore, carpenter and architect in behalf of the unfortunate.

Mr. Elliott's work is familiar to Boston in the ceiling in the public library, which represents the Christian centuries, in the guise of horses, being led by the hours. A picture of his "Dante in Exile," hangs on the walls of the living room of Queen Margherita of Italy. His pastel study of Dante's head, very well known, Mrs. Elliott rescued from the waste basket and was finally permitted to preserve. It was later seen and purchased by a Boston lady and has been reproduced and is known all over the world, having received honors in Japan.

"Diana of the Tides," in the new National Museum at Washington, is one of Mr. Elliott's largest decorative paintings. "To cover 300 square feet of blank wall with interesting paint takes something of an artist," as Walter P. Eaton says. The portrait of Mrs. Howe is another of the most unusual works of this painter, who has done various remarkable portraits. When this picture was criticized for its touch of sadness, with the earnest prophetic gaze, Mr. Elliott reminded the critic, who knew Mrs. Howe only as the bright presiding officer of woman's club, that he was not painting the president of the New England Woman's Club but the poet of the "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Queen Margherita is one of Mr. Elliott's most interested patrons. There is a story of how she told the painter, then in Rome, that she should speak to the King about his "Diana of the Tides," on exhibition at his house. Next morning at 7:30 came a messenger to say that the King would visit Mr. Elliott in an hour. Promptly the monarch appeared and when Mr. Elliott expressed his sense of gratitude for the kindness of such a visit, the King replied in his excellent English, "Not at all; my mother told me to come."

GREEK LABORERS SEND MOST OF WAGES TO OLD COUNTRY

Postmaster Page says the Greek laborers employed by the Utah Construction Company on the S. P. Co.'s Natron extension, send a great part of their wages to the old country. Postmaster Page says after the postal savings bank system is inaugurated a great deal of this money will be kept in the country.—Eugene Guard.

TROUBLE BREWING IN CHINA

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] London, July 7.—Dispatches from Shantung province, China, tell of incipient riots today at Linchow, and predictions are made that the disorder may develop into an anti-foreign demonstration.

The officials of the war office here express little fear of a serious outbreak against the foreigners in the Shantung province, because of the proximity of English and German garrisons at Wei Hai Wei and Kiauchau.

Both England and Germany have naval stations in Shantung province, and could protect foreigners. The cause of the minor riots could not be ascertained at the Chinese embassy here.

It was thought that he had started for his grandmother's, but lost his way.—Baker City Democrat.

ELKS CONSIDER TWO MATTERS OF IMPORT

Two important propositions will come before Salem Lodge No. 336, B. P. O. E. tonight. Don Clark, who staged "A Night in Bohemia," for the lodge and who appeared here last winter with a leading musical comedy and was given a splendid ovation by the hundreds of friends he has made in the city, will submit a proposition to the lodge to put on an open air musical comedy, "Topsy Turvy," at the ball grounds some time during August. In addition there will be numerous amusement features and the Elks plan to make this the biggest event ever seen here. If the lodge decides to enter into the proposition.

Clark has just got through staging a show for the Boise Commercial club, and made a special trip to Salem to renew some of his former acquaintances. Since leaving Salem the last time he has joined the ranks of the benedicts.

Another important matter for consideration of the lodge tonight will be a special excursion to the big clam bake and cornerstone laying of the Astoria lodge on August 6 and 7. Edward T. Judd, of Astoria, was in the city yesterday and made arrangements for a special excursion rate of $4.50 round trip from Salem to Seaside. It is expected there will be a large delegation from Salem as thousands of Elks will be at Astoria from all over the Northwest.

"Is Life Worth Saving?"

Mrs. Mollie McRaney, Prentiss, Miss., writes that she had a severe case of kidney and bladder trouble, and that four bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy cured her sound and well. She had tried several other kidney medicines and had been treated for three months by physicians, but got no benefit until she took Foley's Kidney Remedy, and she closes her letter by saying: "I heartily recommend Foley's Kidney Remedy to any sufferer of kidney disease. It saved my life." Foley's Kidney Remedy will cure any case of kidney and bladder trouble not beyond the reach of medicine. No medicine can do more. J. C. Perry.
